New Central Post Office To Be Ready For Occupancy May 1

Site On Sumner Street Selected And Modern Building Of Colonial Type Architecture To Be Erected

As a result of study by representatives of the United States Post Office Department, it has been decided to consolidate the working departments of the Post Offices in Newton and to house them in a Post Office building to be erected on Sumner street, Newton Centre.

The Post Office Department is satisfied that efficiency will be increased by the consolidation and that the distribution of local mails and dispatch of mails originating locally to outside points will be accelerated. No reduction of existing facilities at any of the Post Offices in Newton will follow as a result of the consolidation. It is intended that mails from outside points will be brought to Newton Centre, made up in bundles, marked with the appropriate route numbers and brought by trucks to the various offices for delivery by carriers. Parcel Post matter will be delivered by a fleet of trucks operating from the Newton Centre Post Office to the addresses, thereby eliminating the handling of Parcel Post matter in the various offices and effecting, as far as the Newtons are concerned, a segregation of Parcel Post matter.

Several sites for the new Post Office were suggested to the Department and after a careful study by the Department representatives covering a period of several weeks, in the course of which particular attention was paid to public convenience and economy of operation, the proposal of the Stuart-Marshall Realty Company was accepted.

CENTRAL COUNCIL

On the list kept by the Newton Central Council of Newton families to receive Christmas dinners, were over 450 names this season.

This list included families who were given dinners by the Elks, the Knights of Columbus, the Home Service of the Red Cross and the Newton Welfare Bureau. Through these organizations which gave direct relief, many families known to them were made happy at Christmas. But their helpfulness extended also to families recommended to them by other agencies such as the Charly Department of the city, the Newton District Nursing Association, the School Nurses, and many individuals.

As to the givers, they were very numerous, and in addition to members of organizations like the Elks or the Knights, included church and school groups, Sunday School classes, clubs of young people, and many generous-hearted persons. A large proportion of these groups applied to the Welfare Bureau in order to find out the names of families who were in need of Christmas cheer.

The Clearing House, run by the Newton Central Council, lists all names submitted and lets each organization know whether the family for whom they are planning a dinner is to receive one from some other source. One or the other of the givers is almost invariably ready to withdraw, and to take on instead the name of a family not provided for at all. More than 40 families this year had dinners who would not have had them except for this "clearing."

To check with the Central Council on the names of those families to whom you intend to give Christmas baskets means time and effort and money saved to the givers, and means joy for many families who would otherwise have a bare and cheerless holiday.

Fire Department Is Kept Unusually Busy

Week's Record Totals 19 Fires Of Slight Damage

Saturday night at 9:30 a car of the Middlesex & Boston caught fire from a short circuit while near the Church street bridge at Newton. Box 14 was pulled and the blaze was controlled before much damage resulted.

Sunday evening at 8:59 Engine 3 was called to the home of T. J. Dolan at 192 Ward street, Newton Centre, to extinguish a slight fire in the bathroom supposed to have resulted from careless smoking.

Sunday night at 9:42 Engine 1 was called to Brighton to assist at the big fire in the Brighton abattoir.

Monday afternoon at 3:45 Engine 2 went to Harding street on a still alarm to fight a grass fire near the cemetery.

Monday evening at 6:02 Box 811 was for a fire in a Chevrolet sedan on Beacon street. The car was owned by Shirley Nutting of Nottingham road.

Engine 9 was sent to Brookline on Monday night to cover a line box.

Monday night at 10:12 Box 443 called the firemen to 2159 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, where fire of undoubted incendiary origin was burning fiercely in the old house there owned by Peter Rozes of Brookline, and occupied until recently by Thomas W. Kelly.

A hearing on this fire is being held today at the Fire Marshal's office in the State House.

Tuesday afternoon Hose 8 extinguished a slight blaze in room rubbish at the cellar of the Bay State Market, 346 Watertown street, Nonantum. Sparks from a furnace caused this fire.

Tuesday evening at 6 Engine 3 extinguished a brush fire on land at the corner of Cotton and Centre streets, Newton Centre.

Wednesday morning at 8:40 Engine 3 went to 439 Parker street to extinguish a chimney fire.

Wednesday morning at 8:45 a large paper wagon owned by the city caught fire while at the dump on North street, Newtonville. Box 281 brought the firemen.

Wednesday morning at 9:59 Engine 1 was called to extinguish a fire in a Lincoln coupe at 314 Washington street, Newton. The car was owned by Newton Turner.

Wednesday noon Ladder 2 went to 117 Lake avenue, Newton Centre, to extinguish a chimney fire.

Wednesday afternoon at 1:05 Engine 2 went on a still alarm to 50 Shaw street, West Newton, to extinguish a fire in an ash pit in the house at that address.

Wednesday afternoon at 1:18 Hose 6 was called out to fight a brush fire on land at 1534 Beacon street.

Wednesday afternoon at 2:35 a still alarm brought Engines 3 and 9, and Ladder 2 to 10 Royce road where an overheated pipe from a salamander had started a fire in a house under construction.

Wednesday afternoon at 5:50 the firemen were called to the new store at 1299 Washington street, West Newton, when someone saw smoke pouring from that place. There was no fire but the drafts on the heater had been closed too tightly.

Early yesterday morning, at 2:28 a. m., the firemen on Engines 2 and 4 and Ladder 1, were called to 3 Putnam street, West Newton, for a supposed fire which was found only to be a fire in an ash pit.

Yesterday afternoon at 3:27 Box 245 was for a fire in the Allison street dump.

TO ELECT 1928 OFFICERS

Tuesday evening the annual meeting of the Newton Business Associates will be held at the Hunnewell Club. The officers for 1928 will be elected and the annual reports of the present officers will be read. A large attendance is anticipated and the organization, which was formed last year, will commence its second year of activity.

INTERSETTLEMENT CONCERT

The first Intersetlement Concert, which is given by the music settlement of Boston and the All Newton Music School, will take place at the Boston Public Library Lecture Hall, on Sunday evening, January 8, at 8 o'clock. Admission is free. It is hoped that many Newton people will attend this meeting.

The guests and speaker of the evening is to be Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton, President of the Middlesex County W. C. T. U. It is hoped that all members with guests will attend this meeting.

Twelfth Reunion Of Camp Frank A. Day

Annual Gathering Of Y. M. C. A. Campers Is Well Attended

The twelfth Annual Camp Reunion proved to be the largest and most successful reunion that Camp Frank A. Day has had. 165 parents, campers, and leaders sat down to a banquet prepared by the mothers and served by the sisters and friends of the boys. The Assembly Hall was artistically decorated by a committee of boys under the direction of George Van Buskirk.

Following the dinner, Camp Director Chief Hess, called upon a few of the prominent leaders to give a few remarks. Harry Lodge and Frank J. Perry Jr. gave a few words in which they expressed their appreciation for the summer that they had been at camp. Mr. Milton Edgar and Grandfather Hapgood gave some of the season's best hits on the banjo and in duet form.

Mr. Charles D. Kepner, Chairman of the Camp Committee, in a short address outlined the movement of the Y. M. C. A. and their Camps telling the boys the important part Camp Day holds in the great brotherhood. He also brought forth the fact that last summer a large number of boys were disappointed in getting their applications in too late to have a place reserved at camp. The situation is the same this year and an early registration was urged.

Messages were received from leaders and campers who were unable to be present.

The main event of the evening was an address by Mr. Charles B. Floyd who gave a very interesting illustrated talk on "Birds and Their Habits." This talk was illustrated by many beautiful pictures.

At the close of the evening many applications were received for the 1928 season at Camp Day.

PLUMMER LIBRARY OPENED

The recently completed Plummer Memorial Library at Auburndale was officially opened on Monday evening and turned over to the city. The presentation speech was made by Dr. J. Arthur Fish of Volcott street, president of the Plummer Memorial Corporation and Mayor Childs made the speech of acceptance, praising the generosity of those residents of Auburndale, who had made the library possible. The building was open from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. Monday and hundreds of Auburndale residents visited it. Books were issued from the library on Tuesday under the supervision of Miss Marjorie Bogart who will be in charge of the library. She will be assisted by Mrs. Charlotte Gleason.

Among the gifts presented to the library are a Telechron clock from the Auburndale Girl Scout Troop, cushions and pillows for the window seats from William J. Davidson, forged auditions for the fireplace from C. P. Rockwell, a memorial tablet over the mantel from Frederick Plummer and a cord of wood for the fireplace in the children's room from C. F. Eddy Company.

FIREMEN TRANSFERRED

A number of transfers of officers and men of the Newton Fire Department went into effect on January 1st. Captain Roy Sanborn went from Hose 8 to Engine 2. Lieut. Daniel Herlihy went from Engine 4 to Hose 8. Lieut. Bernard Neville was transferred from Engine 2 to Hose 4. The transfers of firemen were—Guy Litchfield from Ladder 2 to Engine 4; Fred Murphy from Engine 4 to Ladder 2; Joseph Columbus from Engine 2 to Engine 3; Thomas Barry from Engine 3 to Hose 5; Philip Thompson from Hose 6 to Engine 2; Fremont Keyes from Hose 5 to Hose 6.

Y. W. C. A. DANCE

On Saturday, January 7th, from 8 to 11, will occur the third dance under the direction of the Bug Triangles Club of the Y. W. C. A. Music for this dance will be furnished by The Melodians. The attendance at the two previous dances has been so fine that it is anticipated that this coming event will be the most enjoyable of them all.

Mayor Childs and Aldermen Take Oath of Office at Inaugural

Six New Aldermen Take Seats At Exercises On Monday Afternoon—Pres. Weeks Makes Committee Appointments

Mayor Edwin O. Childs and the Board of Aldermen for 1928 were inducted into office at City Hall on Monday afternoon. It was the 15th experience of this kind for the Mayor. Prior to the assembling of the members and members-elect of the aldermen at 3 o'clock, a photographer from the Boston Globe took snapshots of the city legislators which were reproduced in that paper. A fair sized gathering was present to witness the ceremonies and to listen to the Mayor's address. All the aldermen were present except Bliss and Heathcote. Two members of the School Committee who had been re-elected, were present to be sworn into office. These were George H. Tracy and William F. Coan. School Committeemen Maxwell C. Hutchins and Joseph F. Lockett were also present.

Alderman Roy Collins was chosen temporary presiding officer of the meeting and he appointed Aldermen Fitts, Grebenstein, Hawkins and Pratt as a committee to escort Mayor Childs to the Aldermen's chamber. The Mayor was accompanied by Rev. Robert Rae of the North Congregational Church, who offered prayer, and by Judge Thomas Weston who gave the oath of office to his cousin, Mr. Childs. Following the Mayor's address, which is printed on page 7 he called for the selection by the Board of its President. Aldermen Gallagher placed in nomination the name of Sinclair Weeks, who was unanimously elected President of the Aldermen. Mayor Childs then retired from the chamber and Mr. Weeks called for the election of the Vice-President of the Board. Alderman Earle placed in nomination the name of Alderman Henry Ball of Ward 5. He was elected without opposition.

President Weeks appointed the standing committees of the aldermen for 1928 as follows—Finance: Collins, chairman; Ball, Bliss, Fitts, Gallagher, Heathcote, Weeks. Public Works: Earle, chairman; Baker, Gordon, Grebenstein, Holbrook, Murray, Pratt, Franchises and Licenses: Hawkins, chairman; Noone, Powers, Prior, Temperley, Woodcock and Worth. Claims and Rules: Baker, chairman; Bliss, Grebenstein, Holbrook, Murray, Noone and Powers. Public Buildings: Fitts, chairman; Ball, Gallagher, Gordon, Prior, Woodcock and Worth. Education: Pratt, chairman; Gordon and Prior. Legislation: Baker, chairman; Bliss, Earle, Hawkins, Heathcote, Temperley and Weeks.

The select committees appointed by President Weeks include—Kenrick Fund: Murray, chairman; Prior and Worth. Crystal Lake: Ball, chairman; Pratt and Temperley. Fire Station and Signal: Baker, chairman; Earle and Pratt. Street Traffic: Grebenstein, chairman; Powers and Worth. School Buildings: Fitts, chairman; Collins, Noone and Weeks. Water Supply: Ball, chairman; Earle and Gallagher. City Hall: Baker, chairman; Gordon, Holbrook, Murray, Powers, Pratt and Woodcock.

The aldermen re-elected Francis Newhall as City Treasurer and Collector, and Daniel White as Comptroller of Accounts.

President Weeks' Address

"I wish at this time to express my appreciation of your action in electing me President for the ensuing year. It would not be human if I did not consider it an honor and a privilege to serve you in this capacity, and I only hope that I may carry on during the next twelve months in such a manner as to merit your confidence and support."

"I want to extend greetings to the five new members who join us today. Two of them know us perhaps even better than we know ourselves. They have been sitting at the press table for a number of years and have commented at various times on our comments and our short-comings with absolute impartiality."

"I want to extend greetings to the five new members who join us today. Two of them know us perhaps even better than we know ourselves. They have been sitting at the press table for a number of years and have commented at various times on our comments and our short-comings with absolute impartiality."

"Benjamin Franklin once said, 'The Press is the Supreme Court of Judicature, which may judge, sentence and condemn to infamy, not only individuals but public bodies, with or without inquiry or hearing at the Court's discretion.' Perhaps now that we have two members of that body in our midst, we may surely feel that we have friends at court."

"To those two members, and to the other three new members who do not know us quite so well, I want to extend a most cordial welcome."

"I do not think I have seen a body of men which works together more harmoniously or with better spirit than the group who sit together in this chamber. The attendance is exceedingly high. During the past two years an average of nineteen out of twenty-one has been recorded, which record I do not think can be excelled in any organization of men doing work of a similar character."

"The members are conscientiously attacking the work before them and making a serious effort to study and solve the problems which come before the Board, and I feel sure that the five new members who join us today will be very happy and content in our midst as they go about their duties. Certainly I hope so."

"Our problems are not all behind us. The school building program is here at all times. The requirements of the Fire Department have not been entirely solved, and many other matters are coming before the Board during the coming year which will require careful study and attention on the part of all of us."

"I hope all the members will unite in endeavoring to solve these problems, and I look forward with you to a year of progress."

D. A. R.

Mrs. Charles W. Johnson of 86 High street, Newton Upper Falls, opened her home for the December meeting of the Minute Men Chapter, D. A. R., and with her daughter, Caroline, assisting, served luncheon. Mrs. Johnson is registrar of the chapter. Mrs. Herbert E. Child of Chestnut street is vice-regent. The business session was presided over by the regent, Mrs. Charles M. Wilford of Quincy. The treasurer, Mrs. Walter A. Read, also of Quincy, who has served the chapter in that capacity for ten years, was presented with a brooch in recognition of her faithfulness and the love and appreciation with which she is regarded by the members of the chapter. Other members living in Newton are Mrs. Charles A. Drake and Mrs. Frank Stewart of Auburndale. Mrs. Edward B. Kellogg, an honorary member and well known in this vicinity through her connection with the N. E. Peabody Home for Crippled Children, was also present.

HEBREW LADIES AID SOCIETY

The Newton Hebrew Ladies Aid Society will hold its second annual dance on January 25th at Elks hall, Newton. The society has made much progress in the past year and has performed much charitable work. It is planning to start a Community House to further its work.

FATAL ACCIDENT

The many friends of Mrs. Ira D. Bertolet of Philadelphia—formerly Mrs. Henry H. Wellington of Newtonville, will be shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mr. Bertolet on Christmas eve in an auto accident.

MRS. DELIA STONE

Mrs. Delia Stone of 56 Columbus street, Newton Highlands, mother of Mrs. Clifford Dow, died on Monday. She was a native of Gardiner, Maine, and had resided here for ten years. Her funeral was held at St. Paul's Episcopal Church on Wednesday.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NAMES VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD

For the first time in over a dozen years basketball fans will have the opportunity of witnessing a Newton High basketball team engage in the popular indoor winter sport next Tuesday afternoon when Rindge Technical School will furnish the opposition on the local court. Friday evening this team meets Needham High at Needham. During the vacation period which ended the first of the week Coach Raymond Green of the orange and black outfit held several stiff practice sessions. Monday a practice game between two teams was played and after the Tuesday practice the varsity squad was named.

The list includes as forwards Fred Becker, Donald Bliss, Harold Ham, Martin Kingsland, James Kirkpatrick, Ellsworth Lawrence, John McCarthy, Donald Parker, Alan Rust, Charles Thinner as centres, Spencer de Mille, Norman Harris, Norman Payne as guards, Donald Bosworth, Joseph Fay, Everett Fuller, Aubrey Kirtschmer, Edward Marshall, William Pearce, Bernard Rockwood, Spencer Rockwood, Merritt Schwartz, Charles Warburton, and Jack Widener.

Inasmuch as these boys have never before participated in interscholastic basketball before it is an open question just how the local five will fare in its first year of such competition. There are a number of more or less experienced players in the group who should be able to hold their own against other teams. Becker, Ham, and Parker have several years of experience with the Newtonville Methodist church team in the local church league as well as participating in the intramural games last season with practically all of the others on the squad. Norman Payne, Bernard Rockwood, William Pearce, Jack Widener and several others were other prominent players in the intramural contests. Spencer de Mille, who is also captain-elect of the basketball team, will see a lot of service at centre. Standing six feet five inches and possessing a natural eye for the basket, he makes an ideal centre and with experience should develop rapidly. Newton should get the jump-off pretty regularly with de Mille at centre and he will be an invaluable man to have under the opponent's basket on the defence where he should snare the rebounds easily.

SPORT NOTES

Sets New High Single Mark

Wednesday night on the Hunnewell Club alleys the Hunnewell and Waban Neighborhood Club teams split even in their Newton league match. Malcolm Hill of the Waban team set a new high single string record on his second string with a total pinfall of 258 pins. This unusual string gave the visiting team the second string by a margin which also assured them of the total pinfall. The Mauds bowlers took four points from the Newton Club on the latter's alleys.

Casey to Captain Somerville

Charles Casey, a tackle for two years of the Somerville high school football team, was recently elected captain of the 1928 eleven. He is six feet in height and though but 17 years old tips the scales at 212 pounds. He is a brother of Walter Casey who played football for the Red and Blue a few years ago.

Y. M. C. A.

Physical Department Events

In a fast game of basketball played last Monday evening at the Newton Y. M. C. A., the Newton "Y" team defeated the B. A. C. leaders of the Church league of Waltham 37 to 25. At the end of the first half B. A. C. led 21 to 13. In the second half Newton came from behind scoring 22 points to B. A. C.'s four. Captain Arthur Kohler of the Newton team at centre, and Purcell and Cunningham forwards, were high scorers for Newton, while Andrews center for B. A. C. scored many of the points made by his team.

Saturday night, January 7th, the Newton "Y" basketball team plays Everett "Y" at Everett in a Two-State League game.

In the Providence Y. M. C. A. wrestling team, the Newton "Y" team will meet a strong opponent at the Newton "Y" on Saturday evening, January 7th. Newton has met Providence once already this season and lost by one point. Coach Dr. Fred Simm will have the following men represent Newton "Y" in the different weights: Arthur Leary 112 lb. class, Joe Santillo 118 lb. class, Oscar Margolian 126 lb. class, Frank Cassidy, 135 lb. class, Joe Arsenault 147 lb. class, Joe Vachon, 160 lb. class, John Lane, 175 lb. class, and Fred in the heavyweight class. Other men who may wrestle for Newton are William Palmiero, 135 lb. class, Henry Vachon and Bennett Evans 147 lb. class, and Adolph Scott 175 lb. class. Bridson Green, Coach of the M. L. T. wrestling team, and professional welterweight champion of the United States will referee the bouts.

The Comrades class of the Watertown Baptist church continues to hold first place in the Church School Basketball League. In the games played Tuesday evening in the Newton Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, the Whitney Class of St. John's M. E. Church of Watertown defeated Newtonville M. E. 50 to 6, and the Comrades won from the Auburndale M. E. 34 to 12. Wednesday evening at the Newton "Y," Eliot Congregational plays Needham Congregational and Central Congregational will meet Immanuel Baptist.

Standing of the teams in the league.
Watertown Baptist 5 0 1000
Whitney Class 5 1 823
Needham Congregational 3 1 750
Auburndale M. E. 4 2 666
Eliot Congregational 1 3 250
Newtonville M. E. 1 4 200
Central Congregational 0 4 000
Immanuel Baptist 0 5 000

Kollmyer Out; Reynolds to Run

Hamilton Kollmyer, dash and 300-yard runner of the Newton High track team will not compete against Medford tomorrow, it was learned yesterday afternoon. The tall veteran is suffering from an attack of pleurisy in the left lung. His loss is a severe blow to the orange and black chances of victory as he was expected to win the dash.

A bit of reassuring news, however, comes in the announcement that Dick Reynolds, veteran 600-yard runner, who has been ineligible for the past month, has regained his proper standing and will toe the mark against Coach Enoch's best. Reynolds is expected to be an outstanding runner in his favorite event this winter in school circles.

STARTS OFF WITH WIN OVER CANTABS

Newton high started the 1928 interscholastic league hockey season in the right way yesterday afternoon taking the Cambridge Latin sextet into camp 3 to 0 in a spectacular game. The orange and black team played a much better game than against the B. C. Freshmen the day before. Daniel Harrington donned the pads and went into the net in an effort to strengthen the defence and the move proved successful. Frank Spain at centre and Joe Gilligan at right defence were the stars of the game. Captain Eddie Kerr and Dan Foley for Cambridge played well.

Spain, Newton's star centre ice, scored two of the goals, the first of which came midway of the first period, on a difficult shot from the side of the rink near quarter ice. Captain Jimmy Brown added the next counter in the second period on a pass from Gilligan near the Cantab net. Spain brought the total to three goals in the same period after a pass from Gilligan near centre ice and clever evasion of the points and a quick shot. The summary:

Newton H. S.—Bell, Powers, rw; Spain, c; Brown, Reilly, lw; Gilligan, Sutcliffe, rd; Bennett, id; Harrington, f.
Cambridge Latin—Duggan, Curry, lw; Harlow, c; White, rw; Brigham, rd; Kerr, rd; Foley, g.
Score—Newton 3. Goals made by Spain 2, Brown, Referee, Walter Gautreau, Timer, Sanborn. Time 3 12-min. periods.

B. C. Freshmen Win

The Newton six suffered its worst defeat in seven years Wednesday when it opened its 1928 season against the Boston College freshman six at Ware's Cove and were shut out 5 to 0. The local defence could do little to stop the fast attack of the B. C. yearlings among whom were several scholastic stars of last year. Leo Sanford, Melrose flash of the past few years, was the outstanding figure of the game. He sent the puck into the Newton cage three times. Temple, former Cambridge Latin star athlete, counted once as did O'Neill. Horan, another Cantab, played good game as did John Marr, last year's Boston English high star and All-Boston school goalie. The Newton forwards peppered Marr with all kinds of shots and he did well to turn them all aside. For the orange and black Captain Jimmie Brown and Frank Spain played well.

Great Games Expected

Two thrilling hockey games are expected tonight and tomorrow night at the Arena when the University Club hockey team and the Toronto Varsity Grads meet in a two game series in which the total goals scored in both games will count. The Toronto Grads are Canada's premier amateur hockey team and is the same sextet that played together as undergraduates a few years ago. It will be like old times as practically all the players on the University Club squad played against the Canadians at that time. The games will take on an aspect of international prestige as the Toronto six is headed for the Olympics and if the United States were to send several of their orites in action as George Owen, Clark Hodder, Ted Leonard, Sam Ferguson and Horace Cole at one time or another have been claimed as Newton products.

MEDFORD RUNNERS HERE TOMORROW

What is expected to be one of the best track meets of the season is slated to take place tomorrow afternoon on the Newton high indoor track in the old gymnasium building at the high school when Coach Eddie Pigeon of Medford high school brings his runners and field event men here to compete against Coach Donald Enoch's classy aggregation. Saturday afternoon the Newton team defeated an Alumni aggregation composed of college and prep school athletes of well-known ability. Monday afternoon the Medford team went down to defeat by a very close margin by a Medford alumni group. Already the word is being passed around scholastic track circles to watch Newton this winter in the quest for scholastic track honors and unless unforeseen incidents occur there seems to be more or less foundation for such remarks when one stops to consider the ability possessed by the orange and black runners and jumpers.

In the dash Coach Enoch will depend upon Hamilton Kollmyer, Fowler Cole, and Romaine Cole to score in the dash with the possibility that John Muller's ankle will be right so that he may start. If he does it would not be surprising to see him show his heels to the rest of the field. He is probably the fastest man in Newton high school. Kollmyer sprung quite a surprise last Saturday in winning the dash over Fowler Cole who placed second, Malcolm Gallagher of Dartmouth who placed third and Wallace Fullerton, last year's captain and now a freshman at Penn State, who was unexpectedly shut out in the finals. Kollmyer will have to do his best to edge Babbitt and Elderly of Medford.

In the hurdles Romaine Cole is Newton's best and he should come through with five points against the Medford entry.

The 300 yard run should be a thriller. Nathan Pearson of Newton surprised Coach Enoch and perhaps everyone else by himself in flying around the three and a quarter laps on even terms with Captain Malcolm Reid and Fullerton. All three runners were caught in 37 1-5 seconds which was two full seconds faster than Crowell of Medford high did in winning this event from the Medford Alumni entries.

Arthur Chamberlain, Fred Burton and Richard Gibbs had things their own way in the 600-yard run when the Alumni failed to provide an entrant with the former winning in 1 minute and 27 1-5 seconds. Wright of Medford was 1 minute and 24 seconds so it looks as though another close race would be staged when Wright and Chamberlain leave the mark.

Jimmie McCrudden, one of the two best 1000-yard runners in the state should have little trouble in winning his favorite event. Cuneo will be his strongest Medford opponent. In the Medford Alumni meet this race was won by Thompson, Northeastern star, in 1 minute and 33 seconds with Cuneo second, twenty yards behind. McCrudden was but a short distance back of Clausen of the Newton alumni who finished in 1 minute and 25 seconds.

Medford has no high jumper this year that can push Edward Ebelhare very hard for first place. With Kollmyer and Mike Fine doing five feet five inches the orange and black may come close to scoring a clean sweep in this event.

Robert Kinraide, Mike Fine and Ebelhare are also capable of taking care of the broad jump. Kinraide placed second to Fullerton in the Alumni meet with a leap of 9 feet 10 1-2 inches. White of Medford high placed second against the Medford alumni with a jump of 9 feet 3 1-2 inches.

Newton has been weak in the shot put for a number of years past. This year the problem is still before Coach Enoch. While nearly every school has a shotputter capable of tossing the weight over forty feet the best Newton has done is around 38 feet. Coach Enoch is working with Creighton Gatchell and other husky youths who may develop into a shotputter of ability. DeLeon of Medford made a distance of 42 feet 4 inches against the Medford graduates for a second place and Newton hasn't anyone who can take this event away from him.

Newton's relay quartet of Romaine Cole, Fowler Cole, Malcolm Reid and Nathan Pearson will make the Medford four, Babbitt, Andrews, Miller and

HARMONATED RECEPTION

POINT NO. 3—STIPPLED PLATE CONDENSERS

The FADA combination straight line frequency and straight line wave length condensers have been retained for stabilized selectivity and equidistant distribution of stations over the dial. Friction driven and mounted on a half inch shaft of piston steel, affording perfect rigidity and tracking. The variable condenser has been called the heart of the receiver and has to be extremely accurate. FADA is not satisfied with ordinary decision, the condenser capacity in each stage must be identical. To-day, by stippling the plates to absolute flatness and uniform thickness, the FADA standard is now plus or minus 16 hundredths of 1%, with absolutely no warping. By this method the HARMONATED RECEPTION is given increased selectivity and permanence. Point 4 next week tells about accuracy of Radio frequency coils.

Gorden travel their fastest to win the final event. It is quite an ordinary case for the teams in a dual meet to find that the meet depends upon the outcome of the relay race and while Newton seems to have the edge in the majority of events it would not be surprising to see the winner of the relay race become the winner of the meet.

SPORT NOTES

To Oppose Local Youths

When the Newton high sextet goes up to Hanover next Saturday to meet the Dartmouth freshmen team the orange and black players will find themselves opposed by two former wearers of the Newton school colors. Henry Johnson, Jr., and Harold Andrus, both former defense players for Newton high are now playing the defense for the Green yearlings.

Well Represented

A few weeks ago in these columns mention was made of the various former Newton high hockey players who are representing various colleges on the ice. On the track Newton is well represented also. At Dartmouth Malcolm Gallagher, Walter Mcquiston, Arnold Rich and Phil Rising should score many points for the Green. At Bowdoin Harold Rising is expected to be one of the Polar Bears' best middle distance men. William Henrich was one of Harvard's entries in many hurdle race last winter. Wallace Fullerton is a freshman at Penn State and he should become a valuable runner for Coach Enoch's alma mater before graduating. Ted Hammond is attending Worcester academy and will oppose Ebelhare in the interscholastic meets next month on two occasions.

Another Win for Our Lady High

Our Lady High school basketball team hung up its sixth consecutive win of the season Wednesday by defeating the St. John's Polish Club of Cambridge on the local court, 44 to 28. Lane led in scoring with ten baskets from the floor for twenty points.

"THAT'S THAT"

When a Broadway production is being planned, the first consideration is, "how many people can we afford to put into the cast." This limitation is something that places every Broadway show at some disadvantage too—for instance the big show now being rehearsed by the Central Club, the men's organization of Central Congregational Church.

There is no limit to the number in the cast and as Central Club is prolific in talent—natural and acquired—the show will be very complete as to variety, volume, and picturesque.

"That's That" is the title of the production, and we understand that it has some very novel and new features. It is entirely original, the book having been written by one of the club members so that the Newtons will have the experience, denied nearly all cities except New York, of seeing a real first night for an entirely new production.

"That's That" will be held at the Newton High School as the proceeds are to be for a worthy local charity. It will be a radical departure from the usual type of "stock shows," given by amateur organizations and whether there is any merit in the literary or dramatic qualities of the book will make no difference. There will be lots of entertainment in seeing Newtonville and its people done into a musical comedy, and it goes without saying that some of the funny situations will be the unexpected and unplanned ones.

"That's That" is expected to be the big event of February.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE

On Saturday evening, December 31, there was a "Union Watch Night Service" held in the Unitarian Church from 11 o'clock until after the bells heralded in the dawn of a New Year. Rev. Paul S. Phalan, pastor of the Church, delivered a short address which was interspersed with hymns, followed with an address by Rev. Boynton Merrill, pastor of the Second Church. It was with keen regret that Rev. Fred Bennett Ford, pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church was unable to preach the sermon as expected owing to his illness. The choir of the Unitarian Church rendered music suitable for the service. Those who had not heard Mr. William Ellis Weston at the organ, with the finished work of vocalization of his choir, were charmed with the precision and attack, together with accuracy, volume and tone production. The memory of this impressive service will long remain sacred in the minds of those present, with the radiant "Star of Bethlehem," shining above the altar, fir trees decorating the choir loft and casting a soft light down among the Rostrom. It all spoke more loudly of "The Babe in the Manger" than audible words could have done and with Rev. Mr. Merrill's supplications in prayer, marked with moments of silence, as the hour approached the birth of a New Year, compelled every listener and sympathizer, to step upon a higher plateau, forget petty, trifling things and aim higher and live more nobly in 1928 than ever before.

JOHN ALFRED GRIFFIN

John A. Griffin, age 60, of 15 Newell road, Auburndale, died on December 31 at the Newton Hospital after an illness of two weeks. His death came as a shock to his family as he was apparently in good health until December 16 when he underwent an operation from which he never rallied.

Twenty-two years ago Mr. Griffin came to Newton from Rockland, Maine, and made his home first in West Newton and later in Auburndale.

Funeral services were held from his late home, 15 Newell road, Auburndale, at two o'clock on Tuesday, January 3, the Reverend Boynton Merrill of the West Newton Congregational Church officiating. Interment was in Newton Cemetery.

Mr. Griffin is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Carl Jensen, Jr., of Needham.

BURGLARS IN NEWTON

Thieves entered the Auburndale Gown Shop at 2086A Commonwealth avenue on Friday and stole several gowns. Another break reported on that day was at the Central Battery and Tire Service Company at 1171 Beacon street, Waban. The front door was forced and tires and accessories valued at $200 stolen. The loot was carried away in a truck, the tracks of which were found in the driveway.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for Alfred S. Johnston of Boston his new brick and frame residence located at 24 Grant avenue in the Chestnut Hill district. The house which has just been completed contains nine rooms and three baths, and together with a two car garage and 10,000 sq. ft. of land, is valued at $28,000. Edwin O. Smith of Wollaston purchases for a home and will occupy the premises.

Burns and Sons also report that they have sold for Lawrence H. of Arlington their new colonial home at 6 Bantwood road, Newton Centre. The house contains nine rooms and three baths and garage, and together with 12,000 sq. ft. of land is valued at $20,000. Joseph Roth purchases for a home and will occupy the premises at once.

Burns office have also resold three houses on Calvin road, Newtonville, being numbered 11, 14, and 17 respectively, for Alice, Florence and Robert Fowler, to whom they sold those houses about a month ago. Mrs. Florence B. Tyrrell is the new purchaser. The property consists of three colonial houses which contain eight rooms and two baths, each having 10,000 sq. ft. of land. The total value of the property is $50,000.

COLLEGE NEWS

By H. P. CARVER

Ring out the old, ring in the new is the watch word of this New Year season; just what it will mean is some three hundred and sixty six days off. Resolutions made, do not always mean resolutions kept, and the average student at college has no intention of keeping said resolutions other than as they will help him obtain some definite end that he is anxious to reach. However, some resolutions that are never thought of, but that would be very apropos are the following: "To make a new friend each week and learn to appreciate his good points, and his view points; to study with a little more desire to know what one is studying, not merely learning for the sake of examinations; studying the applications of life, not the theories; and lastly to make an inventory of the depth of character that so far has been allowed to grow unencumbered, and set it some definite task. If students could only visualize such abstract ideas, and ally them to the habits of life that are elementary and everlasting, colleges, and other schools would lose their present mediocre and dull.

The college gentry and the opposite side of the house have all been very busy trying to find out what life at home means and renewing old acquaintances and deeds, but out of it all there has been an air of inquisition. What have you done seems to be the question that is first to appear on the reports of conversations among the various peoples of Newton who have been away. The answer must be "Something," and the average Newtonian is able to give it that way.

Arthur Shute, one of the most western of Newton men has been busy with clerical work at Kenyon College where he has been studying this year. He plans later to put his time in as secretary in the new administration building where all the offices are kept, and still later to be an assistant to the administration officer at the college. He also has been out for the assistant management of all the athletics, a unique position for a student since the office carries with it a salary as well as an honor, and the recipient has a great deal to do with the schedule making and the signing of contracts. Arthur has already had a deal of experience along these lines for he was manager of football while at Newton and was eminently successful at the job.

Howard Chadwick, one of the Newton men at Wesleyan has been singing for his second consecutive year in the college choir, and having unusual success in this position. William Lodge, another of the Wesleyan men is planning his life work already for he left Wesleyan this fall, transferring to the Institute of Technology where he has been studying his work in an engineering course. The fact that he made was that it was hard to break into a new college and make friends among your own class mates, and the truth of the statement is often overlooked by students who are anxious to break away from their first choice.

Chester Pratt is another who is listed this year as a transfer from his first Alma Mater because of the need of a more specified course. He left Lehigh after one year and has entered Wentworth Institute in Boston where his brother Gardner was graduated some time ago. The fact that he transferred where the students learn the various working parts and the utility of the machines that they must use later on, and thus a great percentage of the graduates are able to become production men because they understand the uses and the improvements needed on their machinery.

Eleanor Macomber is another Newton girl to be honored by being elected to a class office by her college classmates, for in a recent announcement from Smith she was named as the treasurer of the freshman class. Eleanor, as other Newton girls, has had a great deal of work in the extra-curricular affairs at high school, and the new office should hold no troubles for her. She was one of the most popular girls in last year's graduating class and has kept up that record at Smith.

Now we must shift for a time from "College News" to the summer time news since two camps had their reunions in the past week. Camp Frank A. Day and Camp Passaconaway were the two that staged their annual get together during the vacation time, the former on Thursday evening and the latter at Wednesday noon. Camp Day ran through their exercises in rapid fashion ending with a lecture on the birds and their habits after the crowd had sat down to a long and varied feast with the chief savor being that of good fellowship. Some of the men that were there aside from Clyde Hesse the leader of all the men were Granger Hagwood, Lloyd Osborne, Bill Lodge, and his younger brother, Red Edgar of Dartmouth, and all the rest of the campers and counselors that made camp the success that it was last year.

Passaconaway staged their third annual banquet in at the University Club and had a long list of guests to do so that all the campers left after the final picture was shown around four o'clock. Mr. Richmond presided and Walter Chadwick, who was head counselor, acted as toast-master although roast master would have fitted his position more accurately. Homer Tilton of Waban was kept under cover but he managed to be spoken of even if he would not speak. George Owen rendered a few words that were to the point, and then the camp trio engaged in a song contest with the Chadwick brothers and the remainder of the evening. The contest was won by Tower of Harvard because he did not sing, according to the judge's verdict. After the dinner the crowd went in to see some pictures of the camp in action, taken by Mr. Beede, and then some slides of camp, taken years ago. Among the counselors that were able to be present were Charlie Phelps, Stuart Stone, Don Puffer, Colburn Hardy of Yale, Arthur Shute, and Nason West.

White Oak Coal Demonstration Truck

A unique and impressive demonstration of the clean, smokeless, quick-firing properties of White Oak Coal has been devised by its producers and is now making the rounds of leading cities of New England.

Upon the back of the truck, a specially constructed platform has been provided upon which is installed an ordinary coal range. A brisk fire burns within the range and fresh fuel is added from time to time. Frequent stops are made and the further advantages of this excellent fuel are explained in detail, particular emphasis being made of its free burning properties and remarkably low ash waste.

The demonstration travels from city to city and attracts much favorable comment wherever it goes.

GIRL SCOUTS

Christmas and its festivities well sped on its way, the Newton Girl Scouts are setting out to make the New Year the very best ever. Plans are under way for a Senior Patrol Leaders Association, a Home Nurse course at Headquarters, a Moving picture show by the Officers Association, and a competitive rally in March. The very first interesting thing that will happen in 1928 is the Girls' Conference of the Metropolitan Division, to be held in Arlington on January 13th, 14th, and 15th. This is the 2nd such conference to be held in this part of the state, planned and run entirely by the Girl Scouts themselves. The first conference was held in Newton a year ago, at which time the Newton Girl Scouts were hostesses for over 350 girls from neighboring villages and cities. This year Newton is sending over 50 girls to the conference in Arlington where they will spend three happy days with sister Girl Scouts and where they will have plenty of opportunity to discuss their own problems without help or hindrance from their adult leaders. Needless to say this free interchange of ideas and opinions is of priceless value to the girls themselves and to their troops to whom they report on their return from the conference.

The girls that are representing Newton had a preliminary meeting at the Girl Scout Headquarters in Newtonville on Thursday. Jane McGregor, chairman for the social committee of the conference, presided at this meeting and the girls talked over what they might take to the conference and what they should bring back from it. They also decided which subjects for discussion would be most interesting to each one of them. On Saturday the conference will split up into groups which will discuss the following subjects: A Girl Scouts responsibilities, the Patrol System, Nature Program, Hiking and Outdoor Activities, Games for Troop meetings, Community Service, and interesting Troop Meetings. Ethel Richards of Troop 14, Waban, will be chairman of the discussion on interesting Troop meetings.

International Day for the Girl Scouts and Girl Guides all over the World will be celebrated on February 22nd. On that day, the completion is hoped for of the Juliette Low Memorial Fund. The Fund is being raised by Girl Scouts all over the United States as a tribute to Mrs. Low, their founder, who for many years of her life worked to establish the Girl Scouts and Girl Guides as a World sisterhood, which she believed would help

First "Topical Song"

Sung by Frenchman

What purports to have been the centennial of American vaudeville was celebrated recently, and although much was said about the origin of this form of amusement, Olivier, "the fuller," a Frenchman, was left out of the picture. When Olivier was born, nobody knows, but in 1478 his booming voice went to the choir celestial on the cherubim circuit. Olivier was a poet as well as a fuller, and composed songs which he sang at his work. His songs were just frivol, yet they caught the public fancy. They were filled with bits on the foibles of the day, topical songs we would call them now. These then new lyrics, named in derision from the hamlet where Olivier lived in the valley of the River Vire, in Normandy, were called Valdevires, or Vauvdevires, and later Vaudevires. Just as one might say today, sing us a Hicksville ballad, so fastidious Paris branded the songs of Olivier Basselin, as of lowly provincial origin. Yet for 500 years the name has stuck, and is now considered more elegant than the American term, "variety."—John Walker Harrington, in the Smokers Companion Magazine.

French Dandies First

to Sport the Cravat

One of the few words of Slavonic origin that does not retain its exotic flavor is cravat. The linen scarfs worn around their necks by Croatian merchants captivated the fancy of the fashionable French, who adopted the French word for Croatian to designate this kind of neckwear. Thus "cravate" became "cravate" or "cravate," from whence our word "cravat." The word was adopted in France in 1626 and appears in English about 1700. Its synonym, necktie, is of later origin, its first use as cited by the Oxford dictionary being 1838. Cravats when first introduced were not exclusively an article of men's apparel, but some, which were lace-edged and tied in a bow with flowing ends, were worn by women. "Cravatted" as a verb and "cravatee" applied to one who ties a cravat, although now practically obsolete, were at one time frequently used. Thackeray in "Vanity Fair" speaks of a young man being "handsomely cravatted."

Nature Works Backward

The following is an interesting instance of a reversal of the ordinary course of nature which cost an English market gardener dear: Watercress is eagerly devoured by eelworms, and eelworms are a favorite food of trout. The trout, in turn, have a voracious enemy in herons, which ordinarily catch the fish after they have grown fat on eelworms. Now, in the case referred to, it happened that a large grower of watercress had three-quarters of his crop ruined by the ravages of eelworms. On investigation it was found that the trout, which ordinarily protected the plants from the worms had been devoured, ahead of time, so to speak, by a flock of hungry herons which, in thus reversing the course of events, had brought disaster to the owner of the watercress.

No Wolf in Police Dog

German police dogs are German shepherd dogs police-trained. The history of the German shepherd dog breeds dates far back into antiquity. In the opinion of Max von Stephanitz, a noted authority, it is a descendant of the Bronze age dog. This theory refutes the more or less popular present-day idea that the wolf has been largely instrumental in the development of the breed, and in line with the beliefs of other authorities who consider it very doubtful that wolf outcrosses were ever made with the German shepherd dog, and that if such were the case the relationship is remote and of minor importance.

ARTICLE No. 31

It is usually good practice to pass a no-trump bid when you have the lead; but, like all rules, this has its exceptions. If you have such a strong hand that you have a good chance for game, there is no good reason to pass the no-trump. Bid your hand and make a bold try for game. Then, again, there are hands where the defense is doubtful and a double becomes advisable to find out your partner's suit. The following hands were noted in one evening's play, where a bid over a no-trump on right was obligatory.

Hand No. 1
Hearts—10, 9, 8, 7, 5
Clubs—7
Diamonds—10
Spades—A, Q, 8, 6, 3, 2

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt and bid no-trump, what should A do? He should bid two spades. His hand is too unbalanced to justify an attempt to save game by passing. A-B have a game at spades as Y-Z a game at no-trump. Z's hand was as follows:

Hearts—K, 3
Clubs—A, K, Q, J, 9, 8, 5
Diamonds—A, 6
Spades—K, 10

Hand No. 2
Hearts—A, Q, J, 10, 8, 4
Clubs—A, 10, 9, 7, 5
Diamonds—8
Spades—4

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt and bid no-trump, what should A bid? In this hand, A has two suits of practically equal value so that the opening of one or the other may mean the saving, or loss of the game. Under such conditions, A is justified in doubling one of them.

Hand No. 3
Hearts—K, J, 9, 3
Clubs—A, J, 2
Diamonds—Q, 3
Spades—K, J, 9, 2

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt and bid no-trump, what should A bid? In this hand, A has two suits of practically equal value so that the opening of one or the other may mean the saving, or loss of the game. Under such conditions, A is justified in doubling one of them.

Nature Works Backward

The following is an interesting instance of a reversal of the ordinary course of nature which cost an English market gardener dear: Watercress is eagerly devoured by eelworms, and eelworms are a favorite food of trout. The trout, in turn, have a voracious enemy in herons, which ordinarily catch the fish after they have grown fat on eelworms. Now, in the case referred to, it happened that a large grower of watercress had three-quarters of his crop ruined by the ravages of eelworms. On investigation it was found that the trout, which ordinarily protected the plants from the worms had been devoured, ahead of time, so to speak, by a flock of hungry herons which, in thus reversing the course of events, had brought disaster to the owner of the watercress.

No Wolf in Police Dog

German police dogs are German shepherd dogs police-trained. The history of the German shepherd dog breeds dates far back into antiquity. In the opinion of Max von Stephanitz, a noted authority, it is a descendant of the Bronze age dog. This theory refutes the more or less popular present-day idea that the wolf has been largely instrumental in the development of the breed, and in line with the beliefs of other authorities who consider it very doubtful that wolf outcrosses were ever made with the German shepherd dog, and that if such were the case the relationship is remote and of minor importance.

Nature Provides Two Purposes for the Hair

Hair—woman's glory and man's despair—serves man as a preserver of heat and a protective covering and animals as an organ of touch, according to present belief, say Drs. F. W. Cregor and E. M. Gastineau in Hygeia Magazine.

The average adult has 120,000 hairs on the head, blondes having more than brunettes because of the finer texture of blond hair. Chemically, dark hair differs from blond in having more carbon and less oxygen and sulphur. The white hair of old age is rich in phosphate of lime. The degree of blondness depends on the color of the hair and eyes and pigmentation of the skin.

The woolly appearance of the hair of the negro is due to the fact that the hair follicle is curved and the hair itself is flat. Asiatic peoples have straight hair, round in appearance and arising from straight hair follicles.

Shoes of Robert Burns

When Robert Burns, the Scottish plowboy, was breaking the soil on his father's farm, he probably did not think that the shoes he then wore would be objects of curiosity 3,000 miles away long after his death.

But the shoes that the great poet wore when a lad are owned by a gentleman who lives in Portland, Maine, and many of the boys of that city have inspected them.

The shoes have wooden soles, which in turn are shod with thin plates of iron. The uppers are tacked to the soles in a rude but strong manner, and the historic footgear is in a good state of preservation—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Brains and Beauty

Can genius be detected by facial expression? is a question yet to be solved by science. Socrates and Lincoln are notable examples of geniuses whose looks were not in keeping with their brilliant minds. On the other hand, Byron and Shelley were both attractive in appearance, so there is no ground for assuming that mental "beauty" and facial are connected. One peculiarity of many great men is that their faces are not the same on both sides. This can be tested with a photograph. By covering half of it and then comparing the two parts, two distinct faces will sometimes be revealed.

The Smallest World

From time to time the earth approaches a very little world, one that might be walked around in two or three days, for it is only 85 miles round. This is Eros, the tiny planet whose existence was unknown until 1898, when the astronomer Witt of Berlin discovered it by means of photography.

At intervals of nearly two years our world and this Lilliputian one approaches one another, coming nearer and nearer each time, and last year Eros was nearer to us than it had been for 20 years.

Famous "Blacklist"

Publication of the names of debtors who paid in depreciated currency, during and after the Civil war period was known as the greenback "blacklist." The Pacific coast states conducted trade and other operations on the gold standard. It was considered a breach of faith to buy on a gold basis and pay in paper money, though it was legal tender. The boycott was unknown, but the blacklist was not illegal and the practice of publication was common.

His Deserts

A little girl returned from school proudly flourishing a paper. "It's a composition about Socrates," she said, handing it to mother with a grand air. "Teacher told us about him and then we wrote it. You can read it if you want to."

And mother read: "Socrates was a great man. He was a sort of tramp. He told everybody what to do and they gave him poison."

AUTHOR PRESENTS BOOKS TO SCHOOL

On the evening of the Alumni dinner at Newtonville, December 28, and in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of her graduation from Newton High School, Miss Emma Downing Coolidge presented autographed copies of two of her published books to Mr. Bacon for the High School Library. In doing this Miss Coolidge said it represented a dream come true, for at the time of her graduation, when speeches of principal and public men always stir ambition, and for her painted a picture of success in the literary world, which was her ardent desire, the thought was in her mind that she hoped some day to be able to present to this school copies of her writings, that they might serve to inspire other students to follow their bent. During her High School days her short stories were appearing in the Boston (daily) Post. In the years that have passed since then, and with her busy days of writing stories and articles, and of reading from her writings, the giving has been delayed until the psychological moment of the twenty-fifth anniversary, for Miss Coolidge's book "The Dreamer" was published in 1915, and her historical novel "At the King's Pleasure" even earlier—1911.

She looks back with pleasure upon the days she spent in Prof. Andrew J. George's English classes, for his scholarly attainments, his true love and understanding of literature, and his encouragement of her ability to write, were carrying forward the inspiration she had received constantly from her father, himself an author and orator of note and unusual ability. She had written from childhood; had declaimed her own and others' writing all through her school years on fete days, and had even improvised stories for her chums when waiting books at the library failed.

She spent one year at Wellesley High School before entering Newton High, and here as a freshman she won the prize for the best essay written by the classes in competition. The prize, a book inscribed by the master, Seldon Brown, and presented by Gamaliel Bradford in public assembly, she holds one of her most treasured possessions. The essay which won the prize was entitled "Patriotism and Freedom" and was a summary of the outstanding deeds of great men since the founding of our country. It was written just after, perhaps especially inspired by, Dewey's victory at Manila. It is a peculiar coincidence, and one that proves the leanings in every branch of her family toward patriotic thought, that when Calvin Coolidge was a student at Amherst he won a prize for an essay also on a patriotic subject, and this has been a bond between them since they came to know each other in later years.

Miss Coolidge says that this winning of the prize was the first real foundation of her determination to develop her literary leanings, and in her writings since then there will be found not only romance and adventure of the novelist but constant expression of patriotism in articles and poetry that prove how much this shaped her course.

In presenting her books to Newton High School she not only desires to show the school the honor, in which she holds it, and hopes to encourage other students to develop their special talents, but she pays tribute to the memory of two scholars whose ability and love of literature pointed the way for her—her father and Prof. George.

Human Eye Unable to

Catch Bird's Activity

The barred owl turns a somersault in midair, too fast for the human eye to see, but not too fast for the camera to snap. It cost me a wet and muddy day in a black-gum swamp to find out how it is done, Samuel Seville writes in the Forum.

We splashed our way through mud and water until we came to a couple of large hollow trees not 50 feet apart. In one was the nest of a barred owl containing two eggs in a hollow about twenty feet up, while in the other tree a barn owl had made its nest in a hole some fifteen feet from the ground and laid there six round white eggs about the size of a crow's egg. Both nests contained dead field mice, while in the barred owl's hole was the wing of a screech owl and the feathers of a marsh hawk, which that fierce sky pirate had evidently killed and eaten. While we were staring up at the trees, the female barred owl came skimming like a gray shadow through the woods and, approaching the nesting hole, suddenly plunged into it, apparently without slackening its flight in the least.

One of my friends obtained a snapshot of it as it entered its nest and the camera showed something which our eyes were not quick enough to follow and gave the explanation of how so large a bird could plunge into a tree at full speed without receiving any injury. When the plate was developed it showed that just as the owl reached the hole it turned a somersault and, reversing its wings, checked its flight for an instant and slid in feet foremost, a bit of aeronautes which I fancy only the most skilled flyers among the bird folk can perform.

Sunlight's Power Over

Mind Is Great Factor

Much has been written in the last year or two of the ultraviolet rays in sunlight and of their benefit to health. Undoubtedly these benefits are real, but they are not the only ones in sunlight. Science is not yet ready to certify just which rays of the many solar ones are beneficial. Possibly all are. Nor is it safe to be dogmatic in asserting that favors of the sun are bestowed altogether through the physical portals of blood or skin. There are links between sun and mind, too. It is hard to be cheerful in the dark, and cheerfulness grows ever more needful in this modern world which has cast loose so much of its intellectual ballast. A place in the sun, occupied occasionally by everybody, is a fine antidote to pessimism. There is no need to be a sun worshiper, but it is a fine plan to be an occasional sun absorber.

What She Wanted

"Sylvia looks very sweet tonight, don't you think?" asked the fair haired girl at the dance.

"Positively stunning!" declared her partner, and then realized what he had done. "Of course," he added, "she looks prettier at times than others."

The fair one smiled slightly. "The real test of beauty," she said, "is to look pretty always."

"You do," declared her partner.

"How perfectly sweet of you to say so. But Sylvia is pretty."

"You are prettier," declared her partner.

"Don't be absurd," said the fair haired girl; "but it's perfectly sweet of you to say so."

Alert and Observing

Knowing therefore that you cannot be a good master unless you have a universal power of representing by your art all the various forms which nature produces—which indeed you will not know how to do unless you see them and retain them in your mind—look to it, O Painter, that when you go into the fields you give your attention to the various objects and look carefully in turn first at one thing and then at another, making a bundle of different things, selected and chosen from among those of less value.—Leonardo Da Vinci's Note Books. Translated by Edward McCurdy.

Taste Not in Money

Taste, runs the saying, counts no dollar sign. One can spend a million dollars and have a hideous home, and vice versa, one can spend but a few dollars and achieve good taste in the home with simplicity.

Taste is more than a question of education. It is more than a question of breeding. Some few have 't to be, but with more achieve it and a great mass of people have it thrust upon them, fortunately. We say fortunately for the majority of home owners are content to let those who have taste design and decorate their homes for them.

Spenser

Like most poets, he felt the impulse of the day and hour. His poem reflect the color of the sky over his head, blue and somber by turns. His poetry, though at all times sincere, was more or less apparent according to the seasons—more or less engrossing according as he felt the blessings or buffets of fortune. Yet above the span of his checkered career an eternal quest after earthly joy and heavenly bliss, an indubitable idealism is spread like the rainbow arching over a landscape beaten by the rain and illumined by the sun.—Emile Le Gouis, in "Spenser."

The speaker of the evening was Mr. William Halliday of the Newton Trust Co., who subject was "Budgeting." A Christmas tree from which each member received a gift was an enjoyable feature of the evening. Refreshments were served.

—The next meeting of the Acquaintance Club will be held Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 10, at the home of Mrs. Horace Sargent, 298 Central street.

—Arrangements are under way for a Forum of the Auburndale Club on Sunday afternoon Jan. 15. Rev. Jones I. Corrigan, S. J., of Boston College will be the speaker.

COMING EVENTS

Monday Club Of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton opens her home, 340 Lake avenue, on Monday afternoon, January 9, for the Monday Club's meeting at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Adra Bonser is in charge of the program for this first meeting of the new year.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. starts upon a new topic with their next meeting on the afternoon of Monday, the 9th, having completed a most interesting study of China, and all pertaining to that country and its people. "Great Thinkers," is the general subject for meetings of January, February and March, and a quotation from Will Durant sets the keynote of the study: "Let us have many... heroes; we cannot honor them too much, or commemorate them fruitlessly. These are the names that should adorn our calendars." His book "The Story of Philosophy: Plato" starts the series, and Miss Mary E. Hyde has the honor, and gives of her splendid knowledge, in presenting this for the opening deliberation. Miss Anna Thompson and Mrs. George F. Hardy will entertain the C. L. S. C. at the Work Shop on Columbus street.

Christian Era Study Club

Members of the Christian Era Club are requested to note the change of hostess for the meeting on January 9th when Mrs. E. P. Allen will entertain the members of the Club at the home of the president at 15 Vista avenue. There will be a paper, the Federalist Essays by Miss Susie Johnson, and one on Alexander Hamilton, by Mrs. Ernest Drew.

Waban Woman's Club

"Collecting Adventures in America and France," by Alice Van Leer Carrick, and narrated for the pleasure of the members of the Waban Woman's Club by her, is the provocative program for the afternoon of Monday, the 9th, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Waban Club House. Alice Carrick, known in private life as Mrs. Prescott Skinner, started collecting antiques in Hanover, N. H., and since the beginning of that intriguing adventure has continued in this fascinating pastime, of which she has written several volumes on "collecting" may find many worthwhile tips as well as enjoyment in her adventures.

On Friday afternoon, the 13th, comes the first in the series of four Current Events lectures to be given by Miss Eunice Avery in the Union Church Vestry at 3 o'clock, under the auspices of the Civics Committee. Mrs. R. M. Ellis, chairman.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

January 9th is Sons' and Daughters' Night for the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, in Emerson School Hall, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. W. R. Evans is chairman of the program to be presented for the pleasure of the guests, which is to be an illustrated lecture on "Whitman's Ride," to be given by Mr. J. Wilder Fairbank, of Boston. A social hour with refreshments will follow.

Professional and Business Women's Division of the Auburndale Woman's Club

Hon. Arthur P. Stone, of the Third District Court, will speak at the January 9th meeting of the Professional and Business Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Auburndale Woman's Club Room of the Club House.

Later in the month there will be a bowling party, the date to be announced at the next meeting.

Auburndale Junior Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club Junior Group will be held at the home of the Group's advisor, Mrs. Wickliffe Spaulding, 429 Walcott street, on January 11. The entertainment will be in the form of a musical, by members of the Group.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

"Songs and Stories of the United States Rivers" is the attractive topic for the consideration of the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Monday, the 9th, with Mrs. Arthur D. Batson presenting this in all its romantic possibilities. Mrs. Francis E. Nowers entertains the Class at her home, 919 Watertown street, at 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. George D. Thomas assisting as hostess.

The next regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be on Friday, January 13th, in the Unitarian Parish House. About 25 foreign-born neighbors have been invited as guests on this Americanization Day. The meeting will be in charge of the Volunteer Service Committee, Mrs. Francis Nowers, chairman. Miss Calista Roy, who is in charge of the Americanization work in the Newtons, will be the speaker and guest of honor. Her subject is "Good Citizenship." There will be music, tea and a social hour will follow the program.

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday morning, January 10th, at 10:30, the Auburndale Review Club members are invited to meet at the home of Mrs. S. W. Dike, 147 Hancock street, when suggestions for study for the coming year will be in order. Each member is requested to bring some topic which she feels, if adopted, will furnish beneficial study for the Club.

Newton Community Club

The meeting of the Newton Community Club which ordinarily comes on the second Thursday of the month is changed to Tuesday, the 10th, this Children's Day, and for their entertainment the Program Committee will present Mr. Carveth Wells, who will give an illustrated lecture entitled "My Six Years in the Jungle." Mr. Wells puts into his lectures his own thrilling adventures while he was exploring in Malaya for the British Government. In honor of the day music will be furnished by the children.

The Opera Talks are now under way, given by Mrs. J. A. Moyer, chairman of music, the second in the series coming on Friday, the 13th, at 10 a. m. The operas whose stories will be told, and whose outstanding music will be played, included La Gioconda, Lohengrin, Tosca, A Witch of Salem, Pagliacci, Aida, Tannhauser, Martha, Samson et Dalila, and Rigoletto. Those who are planning to attend the operas this winter will find this refreshing of memory helpful.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The second of the Literary Afternoons of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held on January 10th, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. J. W. Byers, 154 Lovell avenue. The subject is "New Biographies" and two biographies will be discussed, "John Paul Jones" and "The Father of Little Women."

Tickets for the current events course have been issued and may be obtained from various members of the executive board. This course of four lectures is given by Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole and the first one is held on January 23rd. Mrs. Poole's ability to group and catalogue logically must be inbred, for from the account of her budgeted life in the last copy of Federation Topics, we learn of her marvelous way of living. Just imagine having all one's Christmas presents bought and wrapped, and all cards addressed (but not mailed) by the last of September!

Social Science Club

On Wednesday, the first paper on "Pioneers of Thought," the Club's study topic of the year, will be given by Prof. Edwin P. Booth, of the Religious School of Education of Boston University. His subject will be "Aristotle." Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity and Mrs. Ralph C. Henry will be the hostesses at this meeting.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Wednesday morning, January 11th, at 10:15, is the third Informal Talk arranged by the Educational Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The subjects: "What to See, Hear and Read," relating to Current Art Exhibitions, Plays, Concerts, and Books will be given by the following leaders: Mrs. W. Cornell Appleton, Mrs. Everett W. Varney, Mrs. Charles L. Bird and Mrs. Charles N. Arbuckle. There is no admission fee.

There will also be a bridge on Wednesday, January 11th, at 2 o'clock, at Mrs. William J. Radway of the Activities Committee.

State Federation

RADIO. On Wednesday morning, the 11th, over WNAC at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Ralph H. Reed, chairman of the American Home Committee, presents Mrs. Lauren McMaster whose topic is "What Next," which is certainly a timely one, provoking Mrs. Hubbard B. Mansfield, will speak on "The Use of Leisure," and there will be ensemble singing by members of the Dorchester Woman's Club.

At 11:30 o'clock, a special for this week, Mrs. Benjamin D. May, Americanization chairman, will present Mr. E. Everett Clark, of the State House, who will speak on "Racial Background."

In connection with the broadcasts, also of interest to Clubs, Alice Gwendoline Albee, Northeastern Division chairman in the Department of Press for the General Federation, is giving her Course in Journalism during the Juvenile Smilers' hour on Tuesday evenings over WNAC. The station is offering an excellent prize for the best news story submitted in the contest being conducted with the Course.

TRI-DEPARTMENT CONFERENCE. The departments of the American Home, Education and Conservation are planning a joint program for Tuesday, the 17th, at Hotel Bellevue, Boston, at 10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m., with luncheon at 12:45. Clubwomen interested in these topics should mark their calendars to save this date. Details will be given later of the program.

PRESS DINNER. The Department of Press is planning an honor dinner for Miss Vella Winner, editor of General Federation News, for the evening of the 18th, at the University Club. Club Press Chairmen are invited, and may obtain tickets before January 16th from Miss Carolyn Peck, the Press chairman, at $2 a ticket.

MISS ALBEE'S BROADCAST. Those Clubwomen who were unable to "listen in" last Wednesday, the 28th, to hear Miss Albee's clever description of Newspaper work as compared to a Cafeteria, may be glad that there is space this week to print it, for it is so indicative of Miss Albee's keen wits, that it is well worth thinking about. From chairman of the State Press Department Miss Albee went on to higher honors as third vice-chairman of the General Federation Press Department. Her description of a Newspaper Cafeteria should appeal not only to Clubwomen but to all who are connected with newspaper work.

NEWTON HM

Food is the most import word in our dictionary, no matter how much we hate to admit it, or how much self control we try to exercise over our appetite for good things to eat. Food is the only word that three times a day comes into the thoughts of every man, woman and child—and animals, too.

Among the popular places serving food outside the home—of course home is the best place of all—is the modern cafeteria. Cafeterias cater to a wide variety of tastes and appetites with a "help yourself to what you like policy." Appetizers, soups, fish, meats, vegetables, salads, desserts, beverages and the ever present bread and butter are some kinds of FOOD FOR STOMACHS served by cafeterias.

The largest cafeteria in the world, however, serves a different type of food. That cafeteria is the American newspaper and its menu includes all kinds of FOOD FOR THOUGHT. At this cafeteria there are more people served daily than at any other, and the patrons always help themselves to their favorite bits of mental food.

Take the appetizers for example. They are found on the front part of any newspaper cafeteria, just as you enter near the door, only we call it the front page. Here we find the big spectacular things being done in the world. There events may go from daring ocean flights—certainly food for thought—down to the discovery in some unknown corner of the world of the teeth of a prehistoric animal, teeth used thousands of years ago to convey food for stomachs on its downward way. There is always some food for thought on the front page to suit all tastes and to give an appetite for further mental stimulation.

Then comes the soups and fish—the news stories of the day. The delight of the world's largest cafeteria is that each day serves its own news thoughts and no one knows until the day comes just what they will be. It is simply a matter of helping yourself to what you like. Wouldn't any housekeeper be overlooked if her day's menu would just come with the day?

Meats come next and for these you always turn to one special counter as you would in any cafeteria. The one counter in the newspaper cafeteria for meats is the editorial page. There you will find all the vitamins and proteins, the nourishment of the paper. You may not agree with it nor will it always agree with you if you appear in the forum columns of an editorial page—but again it is a matter of making your own selection. At least we can always find on this page things which may not meet our fancy but it is stimulating many times to know just what does please other people. It may make us think a bit ourselves for we must always realize that a newspaper is not created to express our ideas or opinions, but those of interest to millions of people. Editorial pages usually offer good crisp and fresh foods for thought.

We always need vegetables, a wholesome, substantial part of our diet. The newspaper supplies this form of food in a great variety. Club news, church affairs, musical, literary and artistic items of the day give ample food for thought and mental digestion. Most people like potatoes in some form and make them a part of their daily diet. So do most people make some Church a part of their daily life and find it a greater help to their spiritual and mental development than a potato is to their physical. Carrots are good healthy vegetables and can be made into many attractive dishes. Clubs are good healthy organizations, and can be made attractive in many ways. There is one vegetable that can be made most delicious in the serving or can be most completely spoiled—cabbage. So can musical programs be a delight or a torture. Your choice in the newspaper cafeteria and suit your own taste in this line. Green vegetables, spinach, peas, beans, and so on, are among our good looking vegetables and can be arranged in a multitude of appetizing ways. So the artistic soul can be satisfied in a multitude of ways in the newspaper and art reviews found in the newspaper cafeteria. Now onions are one of the most important of vegetables for the human body—a physical tonic not to be ignored. So literary pages and lectures are tonics not to be ignored in our foods for thought. Sometimes onions have a strong odor that can easily be suppressed. Let us not forget to suppress any unpleasant odors found in our literature of the (Continued on Page 7)

Mayor Childs Addresses New Aldermanic Board at Inaugural

Urges Installation of New Fire Alarm System, New Fire Station at Newton Corner, Continuance of School Program and Postponement of New City Hall Among Other Matters

Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen: As we meet today to organize our municipal government, I extend to you and to all whom we represent my best wishes for happiness and prosperity through 1928.

The voters of Newton having registered their choices have selected us to conduct the business of this city. To have been called to such high service and to have been entrusted with such responsibility is a great honor.

Let us show by efficient service and proper expenditure of public funds that confidence in us has not been misplaced.

We are servants of the people, not their masters. Let us act for the best interests of all. It is an interesting city whose destiny we direct. Newton is growing and growing rapidly. She will continue to grow and will, in all probability, show greater growth in years to come than any other suburb of Greater Boston.

A growing city like a growing child is expensive but well worth all its costs. Growth creates needs not only for more functions of government but also for the intensification of existing functions.

Times have changed. Modern civilization demands and needs civic improvements. Luxuries in our boyhood days are necessities now, not only in the home and school but throughout the city.

Expenses keep pace with new demands. The critic and political orator warn us that municipal expenditures are mounting and that since 1913 they have greatly increased.

The fact is true, but let us not forget that the purchasing power of the dollar has been cut in two and that wages have virtually doubled since before the war.

Taxes for the most part are labor and materials. Increase in indebtedness and taxes in this city have never been due to wasteful extravagance but rather to the extension of the sphere of governmental activities which call for larger revenue.

Our aim should be the efficient and economical expenditure of public funds, the elimination of waste, the getting, in so far as it is possible, full value for every dollar spent, and then, if in order to meet the reasonable needs of and provide adequately for a rapidly growing city, taxes must rise and bond issues increase, this should not deter us from facing our problem and solving it in a proper manner.

Let's distribute burdens which ought to be distributed, and following in the footsteps of our predecessors of thirty odd years ago, who faced greater problems for their day than even we are called upon to face, rise to the occasion and win at least the thanks of future generations.

When the situation is carefully analyzed, I am not so sure but that our increase in municipal expenditures is only apparent and that where they have actually increased, it can be satisfactorily shown to the fair-minded taxpayer that the increase has been justifiable and inevitable to meet the needs of our people.

The financial condition of the city is sound. Our municipal bonds are in demand and at our price. They sell readily.

The tax rate is $27.40, a decrease of sixty cents over the previous rate. The average of the 1927 tax rates of the 355 cities and towns in Massachusetts is $28.55. Our rate therefore is $1.15 below the average for the entire State, is among the lowest of the 39 cities, and several dollars lower than the average rate for cities in this Commonwealth.

Our total valuation on April 1, 1927, was $139,979,250, made up as follows:

Buildings	$84,172,800
Land	36,276,800
Personal	19,529,650

The valuation of exempted property was $21,231,950. We should take pride in this figure. The grand total of our exempted property is a credit to our interest in the higher purposes of life and our helpfulness to those who have more or less difficulty in making the grade.

Our population is approximately 55,000, which makes our valuation $2.54 per capita. The motor vehicles in the city number 10,842, with a valuation of $6,976,700, a considerable increase over 1926.

An analysis of the tax rate shows a division as follows:

City	$23.35
Metropolitan District	1.41
State	1.34
County	1.30
	$27.40

Of the amount devoted to city expenses, the division is as follows:

Education	$9.50
Highways	6.50
Protection to Life and Property	4.20
All Other Municipal Purposes	3.15
	$23.35

Exempted property is listed as follows:

City of Newton	$8,997,500
Benevolence	771,750
Charity	892,950
Education	5,065,650
Religious Worship	4,621,250
Cemeteries	303,100
Miscellaneous	469,750
	$21,231,950

A brief summary of our financial situation may be of interest:

Bonds authorized in 1927	$870,000.00

In glancing over figures of former years one notes with satisfaction that while the city's gross funded debt in 1926 was $1,375 of the assessed valuation, and in 1900 and 1905 practically 10%, it had fallen in 1910 to 8.35% and has been falling ever since until in 1926 it was 3.73% and in 1927, 3.70%.

In spite of all that has been accomplished during these recent years, we are not riding to destruction, and today everything considered, we are of finitely better off than we were fifteen or twenty or thirty years ago.

The past year has shown a steady and gradual increase in building construction. Newton has the distinction of not only increasing over the year 1926 but holds second place for building construction among her sister municipalities. Cambridge, Worcester and Springfield follow Newton in the order named. Present indications point to an increase in building for this year over last. A fine type of building is being erected here, for which we should be thankful, and to which we may point with pride.

The enforcing of the Building Code and Zoning Ordinance has been done satisfactorily. Our Building Code, obsolete in many respects, needs revision. For proper revision, and to save time, I suggest a paid commission.

As Newton approaches her 300th birthday, which comes in 1930, it would be well to begin to put into a first class condition what we already have, and suggest that we apply ourselves to that task with the same energy with which we undertake new construction.

This will require more money for maintenance. A larger amount of highway work should be done during the next two years than has been done heretofore. Abandoned car tracks should be removed from Walnut and Crafts streets and from streets in Newton Upper Falls and Nonantum.

It is always difficult to divide equitably funds for schools, highways, and other expenses, but I have the feeling that for the next year or two we may wisely expend a fairly good sum in the improvement not only of our main thoroughfares, but also of some other streets.

Last eight or ten years ago, when the Link of the Parkway on the Newton side of Charles River, the Faneuil Brook and so-called, was built, a statement was made to the Locality that the city would undoubtedly in the near future construct a suitable outlet from the Parkway to Nonantum square or its vicinity. Because of the lack of this outlet, the Parkway is not used to its full benefit. A complicated and difficult problem presents itself which we consider just where this outlet should be constructed but I believe that the engineers of the Metropolitan Planning Division have made some study of this matter. By conference and extending this study the problem might be solved.

Sewer, drain and street betterment work has been carried through satisfactorily during the past year. That sort of work must continue. I recommend sewers for the Whitney road district, over private land from Berkeley street to Commonwealth avenue, and in the Edge Hill road district.

In the matter of drains, Dickerman Brook and the Rame Brook district should receive attention. A study and start ought to be made in the matter of drainage for Cold Spring Brook territory. This is a much needed improvement.

The Washington street bridge at Lower Falls, the Riverside road bridge and the Kendrick bridge have been studied with a view to keeping them absolutely safe for the traffic of today, between this city and Wellesley, Weston, and Needham.

If new structures are necessary the expense will be shared. Something should be done to eliminate the cave on Dedham street, more traffic signals must be installed and arrangements ought to be made for a proper sanitary station at Nonantum square.

I need not take much of your time discussing school problems, except to say that I am deeply interested in their satisfactory solution. These problems are familiar to us all. Newton has always been noted for her excellent schools. People come here to live in order that their children may have the educational advantages which the city offers. They seem to think that they get more for their money here than they get for more money elsewhere.

The question often arises in the minds of all of us upon whom responsibility for the education of youth rests, "are we going way beyond what a common school education can reasonably be expected to provide?" Opinions differ, but from all the light which I can gather from competent authority, I believe that we are doing what is right for youth in educational matters.

Youth is the city's greatest asset. It is wiser to properly educate the children than to save silver and gold. It means a finer American citizenship later on. A school building program is now being formulated. The next step to be taken will be presented in due season. Conditions are most serious in Newtonville and congestion in the Clafin School district must be immediately relieved.

New construction has progressed and is progressing most satisfactorily. The Levi P. Warner Junior High School was completed and was put in use at the opening of the school term in September. This building was erected in the time specified and within the limits of the appropriation, estimates for which were given at the time the plans were drawn.

A building was built between the Administration and the Classical High School buildings, in which was included the connecting up of the Classical High School building with the heating plant of the Technical building. We now heat and furnish heat and power for all three of the High School buildings from the Technical High School plant. This should be a great saving in labor and material and give much more efficient results, as it does away with the use of the three boilers in the Classical building, saving fuel and labor. However, the boilers in the Classical building are held in readiness to be used should severe weather or other unforeseen circumstances arise. It might be wise at a little later date to install another boiler in the Technical High School plant, although up to the present time this has not been found necessary. This can only be determined after we have run the plant under the present method for one year.

The John Ward School at Chestnut Hill, was started in August, and has progressed satisfactorily, and will be completed on the time schedule and within the appropriation.

The Hamilton School, at Newton Lower Falls, was started in November and its progress is very favorable. It will be ready for use in the September term. It will also be built within the appropriation.

After careful consideration, the School Committee has requested that action be taken to place responsibility for the care and maintenance of the playgrounds under the Playground Commission, but subject to certain conditions. This request will be communicated to you forthwith. I recommend most heartily the change. I also raise the question as to whether our present method, under which buildings are erected and maintained by the Building Department, but operated by the School Department, is unwise and costly procedure. If you believe that is, I suggest for your consideration the advisability of placing engineers, firemen, and all of the men in charge of operating the heating and mechanical units of the school buildings, under the Building Commissioners. This, in my judgment, would result in saving, not only in repairs, but also in the use of fuel.

Our school buildings are unoccupied at night and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. In order to safeguard these buildings I suggest the following program, which has the enthusiastic endorsement of both the Building Commissioner and Fire Chief:—Install a clock system at the proper points in the basements of all of our school buildings, appoint two men, preferably employees of the Fire Department, whose duties would be to start at opposite ends of the chain of school buildings, visit, and pass through each and every basement. This would mean that each basement would be inspected four times each night at proper intervals, and the clock system would accurately check such inspections. This plan would necessitate furnishing these watchmen or inspectors with a car, but as the Building Department cars are not in use at night or on Sundays and holidays, they could be used for this purpose. The cost of such inspection would be for gasoline and for the salaries of two additional firemen.

The resignation of Francis L. Bacon, Director of Education at the High School, has recently been accepted with extreme regrets. He has done a fine piece of constructive work during his stay among us and his going was simply the inevitable call to one who was worthy to come up higher. Our best wishes for success and contentment follow him.

City Government is more than maintaining schools and highways, building buildings, and carrying on extensive public works.

It includes finances and accounting, maintaining law and order, safeguarding life and property, caring for the poor and unfortunate, providing libraries, facilities, preserving health and many other activities. The various city departments having these activities in charge have carried on their work most effectively during the past year.

The Plummer Memorial Library at Auburndale will be officially turned over to the city tonight, and the new library at Newton Centre will be dedicated on January fifteenth. Both of these efforts to the city are evidence of the fine public spirit of our fellow citizens in these villages. Their example is worthy of emulation.

I have learned with pleasure of the very recent report of the Fire Alarm Committee. I congratulate the members thereof upon their conclusion and I recommend that steps be taken immediately toward bringing our Police and Fire Alarm Systems up to date.

With a new Fire Alarm System, and other improvements, suggested by the National Board of Underwriters, carried out, Newton should soon be a Class A city, with lower fire losses and great saving in insurance to property owners.

Working conditions for firemen should be the same as in our neighboring cities and towns. The proposition for a new fire station at Newton requires no argument. It is just ordinary common sense.

More attention should be given in the future than in the past to the setting aside of open areas for parks and playgrounds in order that the Garden City effect of Newton may be preserved for all time.

With the tremendous growth of the city, open areas are fast disappearing. Unless foresight is shown soon, opportunity to acquire, at reasonable cost, parks and playgrounds, will be lost. We have a right to be proud of the playgrounds of our city, but more ought to be reserved for the future. Real estate concerns throughout the country are setting aside for parks and playgrounds from 8 to 10 per cent of the areas when planning subdivisions, believing that a playground properly located and laid out, with some park effects, properly cared for and supervised, is one of the greatest real estate assets which a city can have.

Recognizing this fact we ought to consider at least the acquisition of sufficient areas where the city does not now own them, before the price is exorbitant or the region built up. Thompsonville, Oak Hill, and Chestnut Hill should not be forgotten and land already owned by the city on West Newton Hill should be developed. Swampy land along the Charles River filled in would eventually give us playgrounds at small expense, abate mosquito nuisances, and in the meantime, provide a repository for city ashes. The swampy land between West Newton and Auburndale in the rear of River street should be thus treated.

Winter recreation in this city is each year becoming more popular. In view of the dangers accompanying street coasting, slides should be provided on our playgrounds and a toboggan coast erected at Edmonds Park. I recommend the installation of lights for evening hockey at Bullock's Pond.

Tennis courts should be provided at Auburndale and Cabot Park and an additional court at West Newton. Playground buildings will, eventually, have to be provided for the different playgrounds, especially where there are neighborhood centres connected with playgrounds.

A building with shower baths should be erected at the Hawthorne Street Playground, to serve with proper bathing facilities many people in that locality.

In order to safeguard our water at the source of supply and for its proper delivery, a radical change has been made in the discharge lines south of Kendrick street, carrying the water from the sewage wells, Nos. 1 and 2 to the junction manhole at Kendrick street. The old 20 and 24 inch vitrified and the 30 inch concrete lines crossing the meadows have been replaced by a cast iron line of 16, 20 and 24 inch pipe with lead joints, pneumatically caulked, tested by 35 pounds air pressure, to insure absolute tightness, and laid in a new location along a ridge away from the meadow.

All conduit manholes were raised to a grade above extreme high water mark, to eliminate even a possibility of flooding, and the collecting conduit north of Kendrick street has been pumped out and its interior thoroughly cleaned and disinfected.

The new well, equipped with pumping units in duplicate, has since the middle of the year furnished water of a very high grade and in as large quantity as was anticipated.

Tests are now being made to ascertain what additional water can be had with moderate expenditure from the Needham lands.

The water lands should be better protected by wire fences. The quality of the water now being furnished to the citizens appears to be satisfactory in every respect.

Practically all mains larger than 8-inch and a considerable mileage of smaller sizes have been cleared and more work of this character on the main 8-inch and a number of the 6-inch mains is anticipated the coming season.

Land development and building construction, which shows no letup, has made necessary a connection with the main sewerage system and the house connections equal the high figures of the two previous years.

During the present year it is hoped that we shall be able to install a record number of additional hydrants on old mains, connect short dead ends, and in a number of cases on old lines, replace some 4-inch lines, and give more time to the care of hydrants.

We were very fortunate in being able to procure in the fall about two miles of 6-inch foundry inspected pipe for $37.48 per ton on tracks in Newton, an extremely low figure.

In considering future needs we should have in mind an additional unit for the main Pumping Station, although the connection with the Metropolitan System and the new 20-inch line across the city have made less dangerous our dependence on the old pumping engines and boilers.

I recommended the taking of the remaining portion of the so-called "triangle" and the completion of a Soldiers' Memorial on the land already acquired for that purpose. I believe that with such a Memorial completed, all of our people will be in better position to say exactly how the remaining portion of the triangle should be developed.

It may be necessary to ask the Legislature for authority to borrow outside of the debt limit for school buildings or other projects, but it is not my intention to place upon the tax payers a new City Hall debt at the present time, having in mind other imperative needs.

With a reasonable expenditure on the building across the way, I believe that congestion at City Hall can be satisfactorily relieved for the present.

The recent report of the Committee on Pensions having been accepted, steps will be taken toward its adoption, which will place pensions for city employees on a sound basis. Thanks are due to the originator of this plan as well as to all who cooperated with him.

In closing I desire to express my thanks to the members of last year's Board of Aldermen, the members of all city boards and commissions, the City Solicitor, City Physician, City Messenger, Heads of Departments, the clerks in City Hall, to the teachers in our schools, to police officers, firemen and to all who have worked for the city in any capacity, for their loyalty and willing services well performed.

Let us remember with gratitude the work of our representatives in the General Court, and also the work of those organizations in our city which are continually making their contributions to a finer civic life—mental, physical and spiritual.

And now as we take up our respective duties, let me assure you of my desire to work with you in all matters affecting the welfare of the city. I shall welcome at any time your suggestions individually or collectively as to how in your judgment public service may be improved. Let us work together with a common end in view and an invincible good will in our hearts; thus will we solve every problem which arises, and serve to the best of our ability all of our people.

Brains and courage and high character—and the greatest of these is courage—in the executive and legislative branches of our government will keep this rapidly growing city up to date in every department, will enable us to carry through to completion programmes well under way, and lead us to transact municipal business with the sole end in view of making our city, which now enjoys the highest credit standing in the financial world, the best city in Massachusetts in which to live.

day—it needs watching as do onions! Mental digestion needs special care these days, and by fathers and mothers.

Salads are always pretty to look at and with their soothing oils, are excellent to keep physical digestion in order. The newspaper cafeteria offers a salad too, for mental digestion and a wider variety than other cafeterias sometimes serve. The salads of the newspapers are the rotogravure sections and the pictures of the paper, pictures of all descriptions calculated to please and entertain—an approved way to maintain good mental digestion. So newspaper cafeterias seek only the sweets, the deserts of the menu. In the same way patrons of the largest cafeterias seek only the sweets of life. The deserts of the newspaper are limitless. The radio page is one group. The theatre page is another. Concert and lecture programs come in for their share of patronage. Baseball, football, hockey, billiards, pool games and all the other things so dear to the hearts of sport lovers are big attractions in the newspaper cafeteria and included in newspaper deserts.

Of course beverages form an important part of every meal, even though there is an old saying that "there's a nip in the nip" and the "lip" and the "lip". There are those slips in the newspaper cafeteria, too. Sometimes a story does not get into the paper or only part of it gets in; a name is omitted or the wrong initial used or the photograph does not come out well—or the story is not given a prominent enough place in the opinion of those about whom it is written—and so on—a long list of terrible, dreadful things may happen—that is, terrible and dreadful from the point of view of those who patronize the newspaper cafeteria. The cooks and chefs who prepare the food for thought can usually tell you just why the slip occurred and if you will just listen, then you will have still more food for thought!

Bread and butter sounds rather ordinary and uninteresting to some people but it is the foundation of every good meal. Most of us remember the days when we were told we must eat our crusts of bread if we wanted to be rich when we grew up. Well, the newspaper cafeteria has a bread and butter section and like the crusts, the more they are eaten or used, the richer they are. Bread and butter in newspaper thoughts is the advertising counter of its cafeteria. No newspaper can exist without its advertising department and every year it grows bigger and better. It is an era of advertising. Nothing that is worth while escapes some form of advertising and it is one of the greatest forward steps this generation has made. Presenting to the public the fine things that are being done in the world, the splendid things which may have been getting us all acquainted with one another is a glorious task and a big one.

AUTO THIEF ARRESTED

Sgt. Bannon and Patrolman Norton arrested Roy Smith, alias Bernice Wozniak, 16 of Bangor, Maine, early Saturday morning on Beacon street, Newton Centre. Wozniak presided and the club went to Brookline where he stole an automobile which he was driving when arrested. He was arraigned in the Newton Court on Saturday charged with driving without a registration or license. The Brookline police will charge him with the larceny of an automobile.

Now that young Hickman has confessed to another murder in addition to his fiendish slaying of the Parkman child, this youth whose career of crime includes forgery and armed robberies, will perhaps be assigned psychoanalysts and will be allowed to attempt to prove that he is immoral rather than criminal, that he should receive medical treatment rather than punishment. He is quoted as having expressed the belief that he will escape capital punishment because Loeb and Leopold escaped it. And there are kind-hearted persons who wonder why crimes of violence have been rapidly increasing in this country.

Archaeologists have recently dug up at Corinth old Greek pictures which show athletes of that time amusing and thrilling audiences of the days when Greeks were engaged in more classical pursuits than conducting restaurants and candy shops. These athletes of those halcyon days pole-vaulted over lions, turned handsprings over charging leopards and facing an infuriated bull, impaled the ferocious bovine with a spear. Such feats called for great courage. But they were tame compared with the hazards the ordinary pedestrian encounters today when she or he attempts to cross a street where automobile traffic is heavy.

Once again agitation has been started regarding the construction of another bridge over the Charles River Basin from Dartmouth street, Boston, to a point about opposite on the Cambridge side. This proposition was advocated before by real estate promoters who have been developing the Park Square section in Boston and by certain Cambridge residents who have been developing the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce which alleges that the bridge is needed to relieve congestion at the Longfellow and Harvard bridges. We have seldom noticed any congestion on the bridges themselves but there is congestion at the Boston end of Longfellow bridge. Building another bridge across the basin at Dartmouth street is not necessary to relieve the congestion at the Boston end of Longfellow bridge. A much less expensive and more effective way to relieve this congestion would be to build a couple of ramps so that the heavy automobile traffic approaching from so many different directions at the intersection of Charles and Cambridge streets could be handled more easily. Traffic coming over a bridge at Dartmouth street, most of which would be headed to or from the business sections of downtown Boston would still have to climb over Beacon Hill and encounter the very heavy traffic of the retail district or head down Charles street towards the traffic jam at the intersection of that street with Cambridge street.

The Charles River basin between the Harvard and Longfellow bridges is one of the finest assets Boston has. It has caused favorable comments from all visitors to the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce, refuses to accept an appointment on the committee of that organization which is attempting to bring about the construction of the proposed bridge. He points out that the continuation of the roadway on the Boston side of the Charles River from Western avenue to Cottage Farm bridge will permit traffic from the South between Cambridge and Boston and the Northern artery.

It is regrettable that although the oldest and most famous of this country's institutions of learning is located in Cambridge it does not appear to have influenced those who seem most active in running the affairs of that city. If Harvard culture had more effect on the city government of Cambridge and upon the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce, the legislators and business men of that city would show more willingness to co-operate with their neighboring communities in Greater Boston to keep the Charles River basin the beauty spot it was intended to be. The Cambridge side of this metropolitan parkway would not be lined with factories and warehouses. That city would have made zoning restrictions to have prevented this.

Those who have been governing Cambridge and the Chamber of Commerce of that city have been laying stress on the rapid growth of that place as a manufacturing center. Prosperity is certainly desirable. But persons should not become so absorbed in material things that they lose sight of things which make for idealism. Citizens of Newton, as well as those of other surrounding communities have paid considerable of the cost in developing the Metropolitan park system which includes the Charles River basin. They would prefer to see the Cambridge side of this basin equally as attractive in appearance as the Boston side.

Many residents of Newton enjoy walking along the Charles River from Newton to Faneuil. There is but one sidewalk along the river boulevard between these two points. Last year the sidewalk from the foot of Jefferson street to the foot of Charlesbank road was improved. A topping of crushed stone was put on it and rolled, it made an excellent walk. Recently we took a stroll along this walk. It was a hazardous journey. Equestrians had been using the sidewalk as a bridge path and the surface was so torn up that walking upon it was a task rather than an enjoyment. There are comparatively few persons in this vicinity who ride horses. We hope our number will increase and that bridge paths will be provided for them. But the few who do ride horses ought to know better than to intrude on the rights of the many pedestrians who use the one sidewalk along Charles River Parkway.

Now that young Hickman has confessed to another murder in addition to his fiendish slaying of the Parkman child, this youth whose career of crime includes forgery and armed robberies, will perhaps be assigned psychoanalysts and will be allowed to attempt to prove that he is immoral rather than criminal, that he

City Employees' Union Hears Views Of Officials At Installation

Mayor and Several Aldermen Speak on Employment Conditions in Bay State Hall Last Friday Evening

The officers of the Newton City Employees' Union were installed at Bay State Hall on Friday evening by William C. Tirrell of Dorchester, Vice President of the State Federation of Town and City Employees. Over 100 members were present and they had as their guests Mayor Childs and members of the Newton Board of Aldermen including Aldermen Baker, Earle, Gallagher, Heathcote, Powers, Temperley and Woodcock. Others of the Aldermen sent letters of regret at being unable to attend.

A. Leslie Moriarty who has been president of the local union of city employees for many years, and who is chiefly responsible for the creation of this local and its success, presided. He referred to the laying off on December 23 of 108 employees of the street, sewer and forestry departments, and explained how the "seniority rule" as enforced by the Civil Service laws, compels city employees to be kept at their posts until their seniority in length of service.

Mr. Moriarty introduced as the first speaker Alderman William Baker of Ward 3. Mr. Baker expressed his approval of the existence of such an organization as the City Employees have, "getting together" of the employees and the members of the city government, and he promised the men that he will render any reasonable assistance to them in his capacity as a member of the Board.

Alderman Edward H. Powers told the city employees that he hopes the day will come when men who need work, and are able and willing to work, will not have to suffer periods of forced idleness. He stated that he will vote for any measure which will relieve the present unemployment situation of the city employees and he suggested that work on drains and other needed improvements be started.

Alderman John Temperley asserted that the enforced idleness of men is a permanent economic loss as the time thus wasted cannot be made up. He favors efforts being made to keep the employees at work both for their benefit and the benefit of the city. Mr. Temperley agreed with Mr. Powers "that the prevalence today of chain grocery stores and markets works to the serious disadvantage of working men when they are out of work."

Alderman William E. Earle, introduced by Mr. Moriarty, "as a friend of Newton's city employees" told how conditions in Newton have improved in late years as regards fewer periods of idleness for those who work for the city. He referred to the difficulties in keeping all the men at work all the time, but assured his listeners that his committee which deals with public works will do whatever it can to get the men back to work.

Alderman Thomas M. Gallagher praised the Newton employees for their fidelity to their duties, mentioning the hazardous work done by the water employees last spring in cleaning the wooden conduit at the grounds of the water reservation in Needham.

Clarence Delano, secretary of the Brookline Town Employees Union told of the benefits accorded to the employees of that town. He specified that they receive two weeks annual vacation with pay, two weeks sick leave each year and time off when any immediate relative is dead.

Alderman George Heathcote, introduced as one of the best friends of the Newton city employees, expressed the hope that they will eventually receive all the concessions which have been made to the employees of the Town of Brookline.

Mayor Childs was accorded a hearty reception by the employees upon being presented. Alluding to mayors of other cities, who discharge city employees who do not vote for them, Mr. Childs assured those present "that he had never discharged any employee who had seen fit to oppose him at the polls and never will." Contrasting employment conditions affecting city employees in the days before he became Mayor with those existing in recent years, Mayor Childs reminded his listeners of former years before his regime when city employees were idle from November 1st until the following April. In late years there has been little unemployment. The Mayor expressed his appreciation of the fact that men are now on the Board of Aldermen who have faced adversity and thus can realize properly the difficulties which laboring men have to contend with.

ANNUAL CHURCH MEETING

The annual meeting of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, was held in the church auditorium Thursday evening, January 6th. As this was the first annual meeting to be held since the dedication of the church, it was naturally an occasion for noting the progress and prospects of the church in its various activities.

There has been a substantial increase in membership, and a steadily increasing attendance at the services during this period, indicating a widespread community interest.

During the first six months of the year the sum of $78,500 was raised and applied to wiping out the remaining debt, enabling the church to be dedicated June 26, 1927, debt free. The year closes with all bills paid, and a balance on hand that warranted sending a contribution to a neighboring church toward its building fund.

While the material interests of the church have been so well sustained, the still more important spiritual life and growth have progressed apace. A gratifying increase in the benevolences of the church, enabled it to send $777.00 to the Mississippi flood sufferers and $500.00 to the sufferers in Vermont.

The two Readers of the church having served the allotted three years, the following successors were elected: First Reader, Francis W. Davis of Waban; Second Reader, Mrs. Edwin C. Johnson of Newton Highlands. The terms of three of the seven members of the Executive Board—the governing body of the church—having expired, the following were elected: William S. Whitman of Newtonville, Theodore P. Grant of Waban, and Frank H. Pitts of Auburndale.

BOY FOUND ON TRACKS

Late Saturday night a fireman from Hose 5, Auburndale, discovered Lawrence Jenks, 15, of 45 Pine Grove avenue, Lower Falls, lying near the tracks of the Boston & Albany opposite Woodbine street. The boy, who had received cuts and bruises on his body, was taken to the hose house and from there to the Newton Hospital. The boy was in a dazed condition and could not explain how he happened to be lying near the tracks.

Newton Business Men Make Plans For Year

Re-Elect Officers at Annual Meeting On Tuesday

The annual meeting for the election of officers and other business of the Newton Business Associates was held on Tuesday evening at the Hunnewell Club following the customary dinner served by Paxton's. In the absence of the president, Harold Moore, who was confined to his home by illness, first vice president Andrew J. Ford presided.

After the usual roll-call the secretary read the reports of the December and November meetings. The December meeting having been in the form of a political rally, when the candidates for city offices spoke, all business had been omitted. Dwight Colburn, chairman of the committee on an association seal reported that the seals had been received and that members could have same and have them transferred to the windows of their respective firms. It was voted that the cost of these seals be distributed among the members. The seal to be used is from a design prepared by Harold Wilson of the Winn Sign Shop.

Thomas Burns gave the report of the auditing committee, George Campbell that of the treasurer and Albert Walker of the secretary. The presiding officer read the following letter from President Moore.

January 10, 1928. Newton Business Associates, Fellow Members:

The year 1927 has been the happiest I have spent in Newton Corner, and the reason is "The Newton Business Associates". When some of us over a year ago talked over the fact that it was too bad such a progressive place as Newton Corner was without an organization where the business men might assemble and discuss together the various problems we all share alike, we did not believe that when January, 1928, rolled around our dreams would have come true to such a splendid degree. But they have, and that is why I feel that the past year has been such a pleasant one for me, for I have not only been a member, but your president.

I shall not tread upon the fields of the treasurer and secretary, whose reports will follow, but I cannot but express in a few words what I think about the Newton Business Associates' first year.

We have nearly 80 members, all dues received and bills paid, and in this little balance safely deposited in the Newton Trust Company. The monthly meetings have brought us together around the table where good fellowship has reigned supreme, and the benefits derived cannot be estimated. Many customers of our local stores have spoken to me of the good will existing among the merchants, and surely the Business Associates have, to a large degree, made this possible. Others have spoken of the changed appearances of the stores and the many very attractive windows, especially at the Window Dressing Contest times.

Our outing was a credit to this city and all in all was the best and cleanest the business men of Newton have ever held, and I have been to all of them, and know whereof I speak.

We have accomplished other important obligations to the end that I am more convinced than ever that we are on the right track, on the right road, to an even greater year during 1928.

John Ruskin once wrote: "Whoever you are, be noble. Whatever you do do well. Whenever you speak, speak kindly. Give joy wherever you dwell."

In closing I would place before you the following recommendations for consideration this coming year: 1—Increase of membership until every place of business is represented. 2—More definite plans for meetings;

Captain J. B. Noel to Give Lecture on Mt. Everest Expedition

The capacity of the auditorium will be the only impediment to those who know they cannot afford to miss Captain John B. Noel's thrilling lecture on the attempted ascent of Mt. Everest, to be given next Thursday night, January 19, at Eliot Church, Newton.

The story of the Mt. Everest Expedition is one of strange and heroic adventure, as great as any in the annals of exploration; of a great struggle against terrific natural forces amid cold and tempest, in a rarefied atmosphere on the very roof of the world.

"The Epic of Everest" has been graphically dramatized by Captain Noel, the official photographer with the 1924 Expedition and with the three previous expeditions as well. The story he tells is one of failures and triumphs, and through the aid of the motion picture camera he brings a most complete and graphic story of the attempts to scale the dizzy heights of the highest mountain in the world.

As these wonder pictures are thrown on the screen Captain Noel tells his own personal story of the purposes, the work, and the tragic results of this famous expedition.

Mr. Everest reigns supreme as the crowning glory of the Himalaya Mountains. It is venerated in "Lama" land as the "Goddess Mother of the World." It lies in parts of Tibet, where prior to 1924 no white man had been permitted to enter and for that reason was unexplored.

The climax came in 1924 when two of the party of British explorers, Mallory and Irvine, with oxygen tanks strapped to their backs, reached a point 800 feet below the top—to disappear forever! Undaunted? The Spirit of Adventurous Achievement boys not. Already plans are under way for a new attempt that may accomplish what so far many expeditions have failed to do.

The lecture will begin promptly at eight fifteen o'clock. Tickets at 75 cents each may be obtained at Hubbard's Drug Store, opposite the public library, Newton, or at the door.

to be of more benefit to members and keep the interest high at all times.

3—The city fathers replace the fire bell being taken down from Eliot Block.

4—Better street lighting for the whole of the business section of Newton Corner.

5—Public convenience station.

6—Newton Business Associates to have Annual Christmas Dinner—Contests prior to Christmas with three prizes—$25, 15, $5.

And now before I sign on the dotted line let me express my sincere gratitude to all the officers and members for the interest and support given me this past year and to bespeak for the new officers an even greater and better year to come.

Yours for Newton Corner, HAROLD MOORE.

Walter A. Hodge, chairman of the nominating committee, in presenting the report of that committee, stated that the first year of the existence of the organization which had just ended was one of progress. The members, individually and as a body, were entitled to the credit for the accomplishment of several improvements in business conditions at Newton Corner, including the abolishment of the "See Newton First Tour" for automobile traffic. With these things in mind and with other opportunities ahead the committee felt that, while without doubt there were many members competent to serve as president, that it would be wise to re-elect the entire set of officers. The report of the committee was accepted and it was voted that the secretary cast one ballot electing Harold Moore, president; Andrew J. Ford, first vice-president; Richard J. Dwyer, second vice-president; Frank Perry, third vice-president; George Campbell, treasurer; and Albert N. Walker, secretary.

An open discussion of the recommendations made by President Moore

Newton High Hockey Team Goes Into Lead

Blanks Everett Yesterday, 3 to 0, for Full Game Advantage

Yesterday afternoon at Ware's Cove the Newton high school hockey team went into the lead in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League race by blanking the Everett High School six, 3 to 0. Frank Spain, center ice, was the star of the game and it was his stick that cazed the puck on all three occasions.

Newton's game in the first period was somewhat erratic and the passing ineffective but as the game proceeded the team settled down to excellent hockey. The first score came in the first period when Spain took the puck at center ice and scored on a shot close to the net. In the last period he received a pass from Powers for the second goal and later on a pass from Captain Brown for the excellent score. Dan Harrington, who was recently transformed into a goal tender, made many clever stops.

The summary: Newton H. S.—Bell, Powers, Riley, rv; Spain, c; Brown, Wikie, lv; Gilligan, Sutcliffe, rd; Bennett, Gardner, ld; Harrington, g. Everett H. S.—Ward, Bleiler, lv; Fisher, Bleiler, c; Ott, Grafton, rv; Atwood, ld; Crane, Digby, rd; Dragone, g.

Score, Newton H. Goals made by Spain 3, Referee, J. W. Mooney. Time, three 12m. periods.

NEW LIBRARY OPENED

The new library building at Newton Centre will be formally dedicated next Sunday afternoon, with exercises beginning at three o'clock.

The report of the committee in charge shows that $65,255.42 was raised in various ways for the building, some $58,000 from subscriptions and pledges. The expenses were $64,736.63 according to a balance of $518.74.

The principal expenses were $34,892 for general contract, and $12,800 for the land. Generous donations were made by the architect, Mr. James H. Ritchie, Lewis F. Perry Sons Co., interior decorators, Molish & Byfield, library furniture, and handsome electric clock by Mr. Henry E. Warren.

The library committee consisted of Dr. Edward A. Andrews, chairman; Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Mr. John C. De Mille, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, Mr. James H. Marsh, Mrs. George J. Murphy, Mr. Ambrose W. Moriarty, Mrs. John F. Capron, Mrs. George Willard Smith, Mr. Charles P. Powers, Mr. A. Oram Fulton, Mrs. George L. Parker, Mrs. Charles N. Arbuckle, Mr. Albert L. Scott, Mr. Mahlon G. MOVIES AT HIGH SCHOOL

On Jan. 17th at the Newton high school at 7 o'clock in the evening a motion picture showing the process of manufacture of enamel ware, potteries and brass goods will be shown. The showing is being given under the auspices of the plumbing class of the Evening Vocational School and an invitation to attend is extended to those interested.

D. R. TO MEET

The next meeting of Sarah Hall Chapter, D. R. will take place next Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs on Hunnewell avenue, Newton. Rev. Raymond Lang rector of St. John's Church of Newtonville, will be the speaker.

In his letter and of other matters suggested by the various members was then held. Committees for these various subjects will be appointed by the executive committee at its meeting next Thursday.

New Central Post Office But Part Of Plan For Improved Service

New Building For Newton Corner As Well As Enlarged Facilities at Waban and Chestnut Hill to Follow

Recent inquiries by representatives of the Newton Chamber of Commerce have disclosed the fact that the erection of the new Newton Central Post Office building in Newton Centre, to be completed and ready for occupancy not later than May 1, is but a part of the plan of the United States Post Office Department to give the several Newton's an exclusive distribution service of its own, more efficient and entirely unlike anything in the way of mail service that Newton has previously known. The completion of the new building at Newton Centre will be followed by the erection of a new Post Office building at Newton Corner for which advertisements for bids will appear in the immediate future. West Newton's new Post Office on Waltham street, housed in a separate new building and undoubtedly one of the most finely appointed offices of its size in Metropolitan Boston, was thrown open to the public on Tuesday of this week and is now serving the people of that community. Extended and enlarged facilities are contemplated in the near future in the postal stations at Chestnut Hill and Waban, as soon as leases can be readjusted and arrangements made for the proposed changes and improvements, while the postal station at Newton Lower Falls has recently been remodeled and refurnished.

Coincident with the occupancy of the new central building at Newton Centre, an entirely new and radically different system of handling mail matter in Newton will go into effect. To keep Newton mail in Newton, discontinuing entirely the present system of sending a large amount of Newton mail matter into Boston to be sorted and bundled at the Back Bay Post Office, is the chief purpose of the new plan adopted by the Post Office Department.

As previously announced, all incoming mail addressed to any of the Newtons will be delivered at the new central Post Office at Newton Centre, where it will be sorted and bundled according to the respective carriers routes in the respective villages, and will be sent to the various post offices of the city in a fleet of trucks radiating from the new central office at Newton Centre. These may then be packed and made ready for delivery in but a few minutes by any carrier in any office in the city.

It has also been announced that parcel post matter will be handled in Newton only at the new office in Newton Centre, its delivery being kept entirely out of all other offices and stations in Newton. Parcel post matter destined for Newton, or mailed in Newton, will not be sent into the parcel post terminal in Boston as at present—sometimes to be seriously delayed during rush periods—but will be sent direct to Newton Centre. All parcel post deliveries in Newton will be made by truck from that point.

The most important announcement of all—from the viewpoint of increased efficiency and expediency in the handling of local mail—is the fact that letters mailed in Newton for delivery in any of the other Newtons will not be taken out of Newton for sorting or handling of any sort. A fleet of trucks operating on a frequent schedule will deliver mail direct from the office where it is mailed to the office of delivery, letters mailed locally not even going to Newton Centre for sorting and bundling except those mailed after six p. m. Local mail will be sorted and bundled at Newton Centre for the first delivery the next morning all over Newton, instead of going into the Back Bay station for similar handling as at present.

As pointed out to representatives of the Newton Chamber by Post Office Inspector In Charge Park D. Colvin, who has supervision over the New England Districts, and Inspector Ernest F. Sharp, who with his assistants has devised the new system of handling and distributing the mails in Newton, one of the greatest advantages of the new system is the fact that all Newton mail will be handled by Newton men, who know Newton.

Employees in the Boston post offices have experienced no little difficulty in becoming familiar with all the Newtons, while correspondents of Newton people who live without the city have even more difficulty in determining where one Newton village begins and where the adjoining villages end. It often happens that a letter addressed to a number on Washington street, Newton, should be sent to Newtonville or West Newton, that one addressed to Beacon street, Newton Centre, should be addressed to Chestnut Hill or Waban, or similar conditions disclosed in connection with other letters. It is not uncommon for letters to be merely addressed to Newton when they are really destined for Waban, Auburndale or any of the other Newtons. This results in many delays when mail is handled by postal employees not thoroughly familiar with village lines and street numbers in the city.

Under the new plan only those residing in Newton, or permanently employed in Newton post offices, will handle mail destined for delivery in any part of Newton. Mail matter originating in this city for delivery elsewhere will all be taken to Newton Centre where, in the new central office, it will be sorted, pouched, and despatched for delivery all over the country, instead of being sent into Boston for that handling as at present.

The extensive changes, while radical in many ways, will not affect the personnel of the present Newton offices except that some transfers will be necessary to Newton Centre, the present plan involving the transfer of two clerks from the Newton Corner office, two from the Newtonville office, and one from West Newton, to the new central office. It is expected that the personnel in all other offices will remain undisturbed.

MISS STUART ENGAGED

Miss Helen M. Stuart, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Stuart of Newton and Cohasset, whose engagement to John Hubert Corcoran, the son of the late John H. Corcoran and Mrs. Anna Ford Corcoran of Cambridge, has been recently announced, is a graduate of the Sacred Heart College, Ostend, Belgium, and of Manhattanville College, New York city. Mr. Corcoran is a Harvard, '18, man and a graduate of the Harvard School of Business Administration.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

RELAY TEAM HAS VICTORY PUNCH

The Newton-Medford high school dual track meet last Saturday on the Newton track was won by the orange and black runners, by the scant margin of a solitary point when, in the final event of the day, the relay quartet of Romaine and Fowler Cole, Captain Malcolm Reed and John Mullen came through with a decisive victory over the Medford four. Prior to the relay race Medford was leading, 38 to 34, but the five points for the relay made the final score Newton 39, Medford 38, to bring to a close one of the most thrilling meets in the history of scholastic track sport.

The first event was the 30-yard dash, which was run in two heats with the first two men qualifying for the final. "Bud" Edgerly of Medford captured the first heat, with Fowler Cole of Newton second. Romaine Cole led Frank White of Medford to the tape in the second trial. The four runners toed the mark for the final, and Edgerly flashed across the line a few inches ahead of Fowler Cole. Romaine Cole was a close third. Medford thus took the lead from the start, five points to four.

Newton wrestled the lead away in the next event, the 30-yard hurdles. White of Medford won the first heat. Romaine Cole of Newton won the second and Edgerly Warren of Newton the third heat. In the finals Romaine Cole came through with a first, as expected, but Edgerly Warren pulled one of the big surprises of the day by beating White to the finish for second place, putting Newton in the lead 12 points to 6.

The orange and black team increased its lead another point when Bob Kinrade leaped 9 feet 9 1/2 inches in the broad jump for a first, while White and William Clark of Medford took second and third.

The 300-yard run was run in two heats, with the three best times taken for the point scoring places. In the first heat Captain Ed Gaffey of Medford led Captain Malcolm Reed of Newton all the way, and was clocked in 37.1 seconds, which was fast enough to give him first place. Nathan Pearson and Kilburn Adams of Newton faced Oliver Borden of Medford in the second heat. Pearson breezed home in the lead, in 37.3 seconds, which gave him second place, while Reed took third.

True to expectations, the visitors captured both first and second in the shot put, when Edward DeLeo of Medford tossed the 12-pound weight 42 feet 8 1/2 inches, and Gerald Griffin, also of Medford, put it 40 feet 1 1/2 inches. Creighton Gatchell, Newton's star football player, placed third, with a put of 38 feet 6 1/2 inches. The eight points Medford picked up in this event put them in the lead again, 23 points to 22 for Newton.

Newton was assured of at least five points when a field of nine starters toed the mark in the 1000-yard run. Jimmie McCrudden, who is probably one of the two best schoolboy runners at this distance in the state, led the field all the way, and was never forced to extend himself. His time was 2 minutes 25.5 seconds. Kenneth Cuneo and Frank Molea of Medford placed second and third, with the former about eight yards behind Medford. This division of points knotted the score at 27 points each.

Newton again took the lead, when Edward Ebelhare won the high jump. The Newton star jumper, who is capable of clearing six feet in stiff competition, quit jumping at 5 feet 7 inches when he found himself higher than he ever did before to the William Clark of Medford for second place. The pair cleared 5 feet 6 inches on their third attempt at that height. Fine's jumping gave Newton a lead of five points, with the 600-yard run and relay yet to come.

Twelve men were in the field of starters in the 600-yard run, which was run in two heats, six to a heat, with the three best times taken. Dick Reynolds, Arthur Chamberlain and Fred Burton tried valiantly to beat the Medford runners home, but when the times were all in it was found that the visitors had scored a sweep of the event, to put them in the lead by four points. Frank Molea was first, in the excellent time of 1 minute 21.4 seconds. Harry Wright and Robert Andrews placed second and third.

The Newton relay team came to the mark with grim determination to win or die written on their faces. Romaine Cole led off for the locals against Bud Edgerly of Medford. Cole beat his opponent to the first bank and was never headed. Coming off the last turn on the first lap Edgerly attempted to pass Cole, but the visitors had scored a sweep of the event, to put them in the lead by four points. Frank Molea was first, in the excellent time of 1 minute 21.4 seconds. Harry Wright and Robert Andrews placed second and third.

MERMEN PREPARE FOR FIRST MEET

The Newton high school swimming team opens its 1928 season next Wednesday afternoon in the Newton Y tank against the Boston English High school mermen. Clyde G. Hess, boys' secretary at the Y. M. C. A., is the coach of the team, having been appointed to the position he held two years ago when last year's coach, Albert J. Carling, resigned from the faculty of the high school. The team suffered a severe loss by the graduation of L. L. Osborne, a scholastic and New England junior champion who is now attending Exeter. Captain Kenneth Merrill and Charles Green, a dash man and diver respectively also graduated and the team is left with but two letter men.

Captain Hess has been giving the swimmers opportunity to show what they can do in each event and in this way is getting a line on the best possibilities for each event. Captain Harry Lodge, one of the two veterans, will probably compete in the dash, 100-yard and relay. James Essen, the other letter man, is the coach of the team, and black's best diver and is also a strong breast stroke swimmer.

The squad includes several prospects, who, while not making first Newton's opponents with some stiff opposition. Along with Captain Lodge in the dash Coach Hess will enter a number of other swimmers including Franklin Thompson, William Soule, and Edgar Davidson. In the century next to Lodge the best prospect is George Hutchinson. This lad has been making rapid progress the past few weeks and will be relied upon to take Osborne's place in the 200-yard swim. William Perry, a younger brother of Philip Perry, captain and star of the Newton mermen a few years ago, is also improving his form and speed in the latter event and will most likely team with Hutchinson.

Along with Essen in the breast stroke two likely looking youths are David Scott, a member of the tennis team, and Robert Chapin. In the dive Essen is being forced to extend himself by a little lithe chap named Robert McGrath. In the back stroke Davidson and Perry are the two foremost swimmers.

Awarded Pentathlon Medals
Prior to the Newton-Medford track meet last Saturday, Clarence V. Moore, chairman of the track committee of the Newton Athletic Association, awarded medals, presented by that body to the first three highest point winner in the outdoor pentathlon meet held last fall. Edward Ebelhare was given a gold medal for first, Hamilton Kollmyer, a silver medal for second, and Robert Kinrade a bronze medal for third.

N. C. S. T. C. Ruts Harvard Out
The long reign of the Harvard squash racketeers at the top of the Mass. Association team competition has ended. A few weeks ago the Crimson team lost to the Cambridge Club team, and last Saturday the Newton Centre Club team put the finishing touches on by winning 4 to 1 from the Harvard players. B. A. A. by defeating the Cambridge Club team clinched the bunting in this season's race. As the result of Saturday's matches in Class A Newton Centre, Harvard, Cambridge, and Harvard Club are knotted in second place, with averages of .500 each. In Class C the Newton Centre players beat the B. A. A. team 4 to 1 to maintain their first place tie with the Harvard Club, which defeated Lincoln's Inn by a similar margin. The Newton Club team scored a clean sweep of all five matches with Weston, and is now tied with the Union B. C. with a percentage of .550.

Burkhardt To Coach Belmont
Edgar Burkhardt, former Newton high star centre ice player, has been appointed to coach the Belmont High School hockey team following the resignation of Sidney Ayers. Burkhardt was coach of Belmont hockey in 1925 and 1927 but this season the school authorities desired to have the coach a member of the faculty and named Ayers. The latter resigned last week to enter business and Burkhardt has taken his place.

Medford tied for second, 5 ft 6 in.
Standing broad jump—Won by Kinrade, Newton, 9 ft 9 1/2 in; White, Medford, 9 ft 5 1/2 in; second; Clark, Medford, 9 ft 4 1/2 in; third.

12-lb. shot put—Won by DeLeo, Medford, 42 ft 8 1/2 in; Griffin, Medford, second, 40 ft 1 1/2 in; Gatchell, Newton, third, 38 ft 6 1/2 in.

Relay race—Won by Newton (R. Cole, P. Cole, Reed, Mullen, Edgerly, Miller, Borden, Gaffey). Time—1m 30 3/8.

RINDGE FIVE WINS BY LARGE SCORE

In the first interscholastic basketball game since 1913 sponsored by Newton high the orange and black team was overwhelmed by a 50 to 19 score on Tuesday afternoon in the new high school gymnasium. The greater experience of the visiting team tells the story although it was not until the second half before the local five was outclassed. Despite the one-sided score Coach Green's outfit displayed promise for the future as several of the players showed ability to cope with the opposition at times during the game.

Edward Lynch, Rindge centre, was the star of the game with ten goals from the floor. Time after time his speed allowed him to elude his opponent and get free for a pass. His teammates seemed to know where he was without loss of time and their accurate passes to him many times resulted in scores. Captain Dean Moore of the visitors played a prominent part in the game. He repeatedly broke up the Newton attack and spoiled many shots. He counted eleven points on five field goals and one free shot.

For Newton Don Parker, Fred Becker, and Bernard Rockwood played best. Each counted six points with Becker caging three goals from the floor and Parker and Rockwood each getting two baskets from the floor and two free tries. "Penny" deMille added the other point on a free shot. Many other shots came within an ace of counting but the slight inaccuracy caused by inexperience and some nervousness cost the orange and black many points.

Parker put Newton into the lead a few minutes after the opening whistle by cleverly eluding his guard and taking a pass beneath the basket. Lynch shortly after tied it up on a close shot. Two more baskets by the Rindge centre put Rindge ahead but after deMille caged a free shot Becker and Parker each counted to take the lead away. Rockwood added to Newton's lead with a goal from the floor and Parker caged one of two free tries. Just before the end of the period Westcott counted to make the score 10 to 8 in favor of Newton.

Rindge began to outplay Newton in the second quarter and the orange and black did well to hold them to a 19 to 14 count at half time. During the second half Rindge had things all their own way and the game was clinched. Tonight Newton goes to Needham where they will meet the Needham high quintet in their second game. They are not discouraged by the defeat. Rindge as it is the first opportunity they have had to test their ability and tonight Needham will have to step to outscore them.

Between the halves of the first team game the second teams of the two schools met with Newton the victor by a score of 24 to 13. Harris, Kirkpatrick and Kintland were the high scorers for the Newton seconds.

Hodder Again Wins

Several years ago, when Clark Hodder was playing hockey for the Harvard Varsity team, he scored the deciding goal against the Toronto University team and brought victory to the Crimson. Last Saturday night Hodder, a member of the University Club hockey team, was playing against the same team, now playing under the name of the Toronto Varsity Grads, and a third of the way through the second period he caged the puck for the only score of the evening, and giving his team an even break in the two-game series which began on Friday night. In the first game the visitors won by a 2 to 1 score. It was first decided that total goals would count, but the Grads refused to agree, and it was finally decided that each game would count singly. The University Club then went out and evened it up. While the winning of the game redounds to the credit of Hodder, a former Newton High hockey star, the most prominent player in the game was Ted Leonard, a former Newton High star and more recently a Dartmouth star. Leonard played the game of his life, and his exhibition is said to have been more sensational than the work of the professional hockey team goalkeepers. He was kept on the jump by the Grads in every period, and in the first two his efforts were startling as he turned shot after shot aside. In the final session, however, he was even more amazing, as the desperate visiting players, seeing the game going against them, tried valiantly but in vain to get the puck past Leonard. Captain George Owen, at centre ice, played a good game, which for the greater part of the time was spent in bolstering up the defence.

Salesa Wins Two Decisions
In the amateur boxing tournament conducted by the Women's Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Woburn on Tuesday night Tony Salesa of Newton was given the decision over DIANZALES of Boston in the semi-final of the 126-lb. class. He also won the final round match from Arthur Nelson of Lynn.

Harvard Wins From University Club
Wednesday night at the Arena the Harvard varsity hockey team staged a great comeback, following their defeat at the hands of McGill University last Saturday night in New York, by getting the edge on the University Club by the score of 2 to 1. George Owen's club team took the lead two minutes after the opening whistle while the college team tied it up early in the second period and counted the winning tally five minutes before the final bell.

Although Guy Holbrook, Newton's representative at the Harvard sextet, failed to score, he played a brilliant game and stopped the graduates from getting started time after time. Clark Hodder, George Owen, and Horace Cole, all former local youths, were in the game.

HARMONATED RECEPTION

POINT NO. 4—ACCURACY OF RADIO FREQUENCY COILS

As with the condensers, customary precision of the Radio frequency coils would not meet the requirements of HARMONATED RECEPTION. With two or more stages, controlled by a single driver, all of them MUST tune ALIKE. And to do this, the coils must be ALIKE to the minutest detail of construction and operation. The three windings on each coil must be separate and identical in length and spacing with those on every other coil. Factory production allows only half of 1% leeway. But in any one receiver, these coils are exact counterparts, to within a fraction of 1%. Uniformity is something you can count on WITH CERTAINTY in selling HARMONATED RECEPTION.

SPORT NOTES

Yale Swamps Tech

The M. I. T. hockey team journeyed to New Haven last Saturday and were completely overmastered by Captain Dick Vaughan and his Yale hockey mates by a score of 12 to 1. The Eli players scored almost at will throughout an uninteresting contest. Vaughan tallied three of his team's points.

Yale Swamps Brown

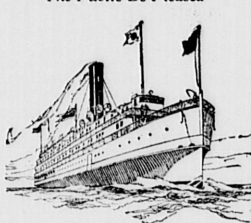

The Yale hockey team romped away with its game with Brown University at Providence on Tuesday by the score of 8 to 1, outplaying the Bears in all departments of the game. Yale's fine team play had Brown on the defensive practically throughout the game while the home team players were obliged to take most of their shots from a long distance. Captain Dick Vaughan of the Eli six and a local youth was one of the outstanding individuals of the game, he tallied three goals unassisted and figured prominently in the scoring of two others. Phil Lingham at right defence for Brown flashed some individual work that was very creditable as did Don Hunt, former Stoneham High star goalie, who prevented Yale from hanging up a record victory.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

An Auction Bridge party was held at the Commonwealth Country Club on Wednesday evening, January eleventh. The hostesses were Mrs. Frank B. Cummings of Newton, Mrs. W. Horace Workman of Brookline, Mrs. Charles E. Murnan of Brookline. They were assisted by Mrs. Henry S. Jenkins of Brookline, Mrs. George F. Graham of Waban, Mrs. James Fee of West Roxbury, Mrs. Henry I. Fitzgerald of Brookline, Mrs. Joseph H. McManus of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Eugene O'Donnell of Allston.

This was a club function and was for the benefit of the disabled soldiers. Next Sunday afternoon the Russian Cathedral singers will give a concert for the members at four o'clock.

Butler, Harold W. Trefrey, Patrick Lehane, John Gerrard, Rufus Cushman, Dana J. Foley, Joseph Cavanaugh.

Julius B. Ramm, the present Commander, will be in charge.

The American Legion Auxiliary, Post No. 48, will hold its regular monthly meeting at Elks Hall, Newton, on Wednesday, January 18, at 8 o'clock.

PROF. TAYLOR RESIGNS

Prof. J. B. Taylor of Lowell avenue, Newtonville, for over 45 years a resident of this city has resigned the Deanship of the University of Massachusetts.

The following extract from a letter written by the trustees of the University indicates the esteem in which Prof. Taylor is held—"The members of the board of trustees of the University wish me to tell you, Professor Taylor, that they have been proud of your leadership of the University, that they are aware of how much you have contributed towards the growth of our school, and that they ardently hope that you will continue to take a personal interest in the life and growth of the school."

A farewell luncheon was given to Prof. Taylor on Friday noon by members of the classes of 1928 and 1929 of the Pre-Medical school, Charles Jacobs of the Class of 1928 presided and presented Prof. Taylor with a handsome silver loving cup suitably engraved.

Prof. Taylor in his greater liberty offers his services by lectures, talks or lectures to individuals, clubs or classes on literature or history. Address 157 Lowell avenue, Newtonville.

LASELL

The third concert of the Lasell Seminary Symphony series was given under Paul Shirley's direction in the Audubon Club House on Tuesday evening, January 10. The artists were Gaston Elcus, first violin; Pierre Mayer, second violin; Georges Fourel, viola; Alfred Zighera, cello; Howard Goding, piano.

On Sunday evening, January 15, the vesper service will be in charge of the Lasell Missionary Society. The meeting will be addressed by Miss Katherine Merrill of Matsuyama, Japan.

The Highland Glee Club of Newton will give a concert for the Lasell students and their friends on Monday evening, Jan. 16, in the Audubon Club House.

Mr. D. Ralph Maclean is conductor of this club and Mr. Karl Switzer the accompanist. They will be assisted by Mr. Alfred A. Gruhn, Tenor.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

Pupils of the All Newton Music School have appeared during the past week at the following entertainments. On Sunday night, January 8th, at the Boston Public Library, the Interestment Music School Concert, Alice Collieran played "The Gavotte" by Bal four-Gardiner, Northern Lights, by Torjussen; Nocturne by MacDowell.

On Tuesday afternoon, January 10, at the special Children's Day of the Newton Community Club; Alice Collieran, a group of piano pieces; Elizabeth Barber, a piano selection; Anna Kovitz, a violin selection. The playing of these young pupils was greatly enjoyed.

DEATH OF FORMER REPRESENTATIVE

The Late Bernard Early

Mr. Bernard Early, for many years prominent in civic and business affairs in Newton, died at his home in Newton Lower Falls, on Wednesday morning after an illness extending over the past year.

Mr. Early was born in Newton Lower Falls in 1856 and educated in the Newton schools. His entire business life was spent in the paper trade from which he retired in 1920.

He was vice-president and member of the investment board of the Newton Savings Bank, a trustee of the Newton Hospital and active in other Newton organizations up to the time of his death. He served for eight years in the Newton board of aldermen and was its president for the past two years of that service. He represented Newton in the Massachusetts Legislature for six years, served with distinction as chairman of the important committee on State Administration and was a member of the Webster commission under Governor Cox. He was recognized by Governor Guild as a tax expert and was a member of the Guild Commission for revision of Massachusetts tax laws. During the World War he was secretary of the Exemption board for Newton. He retired as president of the Claffin Guard Veterans Association during the past year and was a 4th degree Knight, charter member and past Grand Knight of Newton Council, K. of C.

He is survived by his widow, Mary Alice (Nash) Early, and two sons, Roy V. Early of Needham and Lawrence Early of West Newton and two daughters, the Misses Agnes C. Early and Edith F. Early of Newton Lower Falls.

A solemn high mass was celebrated this morning at St. John's Church, Newton Lower Falls, Rev. John J. Flood, celebrant, and the interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

DEATH OF NOTED WOMAN

Dr. Julia Bissell, a pioneer medical missionary in India, where her station was at Ahmednagar, and whose services were of inestimable good to the women of that country, died Thursday of last week at the Newton Hospital. She had been residing of late at the Walker Missionary Home in Auburndale.

Dr. Bissell had had a most unusual career. She was born in India in 1862, her parents, Rev. Lemuel and Mary Bissell themselves having been missionaries. She came to this country at an early age to be educated, and her first experience was in the public schools of Amherst and Newton. She spent a year at Mount Holyoke, and then entered Wellesley, where she became a member of the class of '86.

She took a course at the Women's Medical College at Philadelphia, which in those days was about the only place open to her sex, and having been graduated in 1893, she went back to India and started a dispensary, which gradually developed into what became known as the American Hospital for Women and Children, the work, as was that of her earlier years of service, constantly being under the general supervision of the American Board of the Congregational Church.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon. Rev. Robert A. Hume, D.D., retired missionary in India, conducted the service at the home, and Rev. Cornelius E. Clark of the Auburndale Congregational Church, officiated at the grave in Newton Cemetery.

DEATH OF MR. WHEELER

Mr. John F. Wheeler, a resident of this city for over 35 years, died early Monday morning at a private hospital in Newton after an illness of several months. Mr. Wheeler was born in Boston 75 years ago and was the son of James H. and Catherine (Reed) Wheeler. He was educated in the Boston schools and for years had been engaged in business as a shoe salesman.

He was a member of Winslow Lewis Lodge of Masons, St. Bernard's Commandary K. T. and Aleppo Temple. Mr. Wheeler never married. His nearest survivors are nephews and nieces, Lucius Wheeler of Newton, Donald Wheeler of Newton Centre, Edward Wheeler of Woodside, Long Island, N. Y., and Miss Eleanor Wheeler of Tampa, Fla.

Mr. Wheeler attended the Channing Church and Rev. C. A. Drummond, the pastor, officiated at the funeral services held yesterday afternoon at Mt. Auburn Chapel.

DEATH OF JAMES T. BURNS

Mr. James T. Burns, who died Monday after an illness of three years, was 58 years of age and had been employed for years as a machinist. He is survived by his widow. Funeral services by Newton Lodge of Elks were held Tuesday evening at Rich's undertaking rooms and there was a requiem mass at the Church of Our Lady on Wednesday morning. The burial was in Westboro, Mass.

NEWTON "WONDER GIRL" IN OPERA

Dorothy Speare, Newton "wonder girl" novelist and prima donna, will give her first Boston concert since her recent triumphant Washington D. C. operatic appearances, next Wednesday evening at Symphony Hall. Sponsoring the concert is the Women's Council of Boston University, at which institution Miss Speare pursued post-graduate studies after graduating from Smith and working for a Master's degree at Radcliffe. Miss Speare is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Speare of Newton Centre.

The Washington appearance of the new American prima donna were properly scheduled this year as the important event of the tenth anniversary of the Washington National Opera Company. Introduced as the heroine of the occasion, the new prima donna won her way forthwith into the hearts of the audience. Her entrance as a musical star was a surprise to thousands who heretofore have known her as a magazine writer and author of several best selling novels. The transition from a highly brilliant literary career to instantaneous success in opera and concert has not meant the abandonment of her writing, however. Between concerts and studies, Miss Speare has found time to write a new novel which will appear early in the Spring.

BRIDGE PARTY FOR BOSTON COLLEGE

A most attractive bridge party was attended by several hundred people at the Woodland Golf Club January 6th. The proceeds obtained are to be used towards a Boston College Scholarship. The Bridge players were directed by Mr. Neil MacDonald of Auburndale. The committee in charge included Miss Helen Donovan of Brighton, Miss Katherine Cox of West Newton, Miss Penelope Hall of Chestnut Hill, Misses Gannon of West Newton, Misses Dooley of Weston, Miss Elizabeth Mc Morrow of Brookline, Miss Helen Larkin of Waltham.

Many of the B. C. alumni attended, among whom were Mr. Chester Prior, who was the recipient of congratulations from his many friends on his recent election as a member of the Board of Newton Aldermen. Other alumni interested included Mr. J. Alloysius Cox of West Newton, Mr. Paul Thayer of Newtonville, Mr. Arthur MacNeil of Brookline and Mr. Frank Welch of Natick.

Among Newton people attending were Mrs. George Cox of West Newton, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Burns of Newtonville, Mrs. John Gurney of Waban, Mrs. Edward Madden of Wellesley Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Goulet of Newton Centre, Mr. and Mrs. John Curley of Auburndale, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Curley of Newton, Mr. Edward Dooley of Weston, Misses D'Arcy of Newtonville, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lammon of Auburndale, Mrs. W. Hennessey of Auburndale, Mr. and Mrs. J. Farrell of Auburndale, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dwyer of Newtonville, Miss E. Moyer, Misses Mary Donovan of Newtonville, Miss Julia Enekeas of Newton, Miss Mary Butler of Auburndale and many other interesting people.

A buffet collation was served at the close of the affair.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY

On Friday evening, January sixth, many friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Frank Perkins, 186 Woodward street, Newton Highlands. The first part of the evening was given over to bridge after which a collation was served and dancing enjoyed until the wee hours of the morning.

On entering the dining-room, tastefully decorated in red and white, each guest was asked to find a favor which bore his or her name. With this was a small roll of paper, attached to a red rose, announcing the engagement of Dorothy A. Gould and Leon H. Perkins. Miss Gould is the daughter of Mrs. Bertha E. Gould, 465 Auburn street, Auburndale, and Mr. Perkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Frank Perkins.

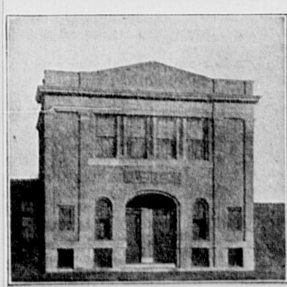

DEATH OF MR. NICHOLSON

William Nicholson, seventy-one years of age, died on Saturday at his home, 413 Cherry street, West Newton, where he had lived for twenty years. He had been retired from active life for several years but earlier in his career he had been in business in Canine, N. Y., and in Buffalo where he was a railroad auditor. He was born in Dumfries, Scotland, and came to this country when a young man. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and is survived by his widow, who was May Elizabeth Morrill of Holyoke; a daughter, Miss Ruth Nicholson of West Newton, and a son, George E. Nicholson who lives in Tulsa, Okla.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Rev. Percival M. Wood, rector of the Church of the Messiah, officiating, and the burial was at Yonkers, N. Y.

EDITORIAL

Few men have made such an enviable record on the life of a community, as did the late Bernard Early. Always interested in civic affairs he labored long and faithfully as well as efficiently as a member of our city government, as an important official of the Newton Savings Bank and as a trustee of the Newton Central Hospital. Possibly his greatest service was as a member of the Massachusetts Legislature, where he had an important part in the reorganization of the state departments. His sound common sense, his fearlessness of political disfavor and his sturdy personality were factors which made him one of the leaders in the Legislature. His death is a great loss to the state as well as to the city.

We have yet to be convinced that the proposed new central post office at Newton Centre will give us faster and better postal service. It stands to reason that with mail coming direct from Boston, as it does at present to each post office in the city, is a further and apparently unnecessary step; by sending it first to Newton Centre will inevitably slow up the service to the extent that additional routing will take.

We very much regret that our experiment of a semi-weekly newspaper in this city was not a success. While we might have been able to continue the experiment a few months longer, the failure to have it accepted as second class matter by the Post Office Department, made the matter of distribution so serious that it seemed best to abandon the enterprise.

PUBLICITY CONFERENCE

The Newton Central Council held a conference on Wednesday at the rooms of the Newton Y. M. C. A. with representatives of the press in regard to Newspaper Publicity for the work being done by the Council and its constituent organizations. Mrs. Louis H. Marshall presided and remarks were made by Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, president of the Council, and by representatives of the Graphic, the Town Crier, the Progress and the Independent. Willing co-operation was expressed by the editors in giving the Council adequate publicity.

MICHAEL MCCORMACK

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Freier of 36 Nonantum Place entertained a few friends at their home on Sunday evening, most of whom are unusually talented musically. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Grunther of Roxbury, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McCormack of Roxbury, Miss Elizabeth Hahn, Mrs. Harold Brown and Ruth Hamilton. Mr. McCormack and his wife, who was Emily Guenther, are well known in Boston musical circles. Both studied for several years in Italy and sang with opera companies there. They returned to this country last year and Mr. McCormack is now playing one of the leading parts in the popular musical production "My Maryland" which has enjoyed a long run in Boston. He possesses a tenor voice of unusually fine quality and a brilliant future is prophesied for him. He entertained the gathering at Mr. Freier's with a number of selections and he was assisted by his wife, who possesses an excellent soprano voice. Miss Hahn contributed several piano solos.

POLICE NEWS

Daniel Moran, 26, of 833 Boylston street, Newton Highlands, was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon on Wednesday for committing assault and battery on a young woman employed as a domestic on Parker street, Newton Centre. On the night of December 27 the girl was waiting in the transfer station at Boylston street, Chestnut Hill, for a Boston & Worcester car, when Moran, who was a stranger to her, entered the station and offered to drive her to her home. She accepted, but instead of taking her home he started to drive his automobile into a road leading into a wooded section off Boylston street, some distance from the transfer station. As the girl started to escape from the car Moran tripped her causing her to fall and injure her knees. He then drove away. The police were informed and Inspector Conroy obtained a description of the man from the girl. He gave this description to Serg. Bannon and the latter, suspecting Moran, took the girl to see the latter and she identified him as her assailant. Moran admitted his guilt and was given the jail sentence. He is married.

Emil Lawson of Natick, employed in a Newton garage, was fined $10 in the Newton court yesterday for assaulting Joseph Thompson of Roxbury, who was also employed in the garage. Lawson appealed.

Tuesday morning Mr. and Mrs. August Czekawski of 89 Linden street, Upper Falls, appeared in the Newton court to answer charges of assault and battery on John and Fannie Shkilevich of 87 Linden street. A young son of the Czekawskis also is charged with active part in a joint assault on the next door neighbors who were severely treated last Friday. The accused were recently ordered by the Board of Health to get rid of some hens and they blamed the accusers of making the complaint about the fowl. According to the Shkilevichs considerable hair was pulled from Mrs. Shkilevich's head by the lady defendant and she was badly battered by young Czekawski with an iron bar. The cases were postponed until today.

Captain James Mullen has returned to duty after having been ill for a week with a severe cold. Inspector John Shaughnessy is still confined to his home with bronchitis. For the past two weeks night patrolmen who serve on the first half of the preceding night have been taking turns doing traffic duty at certain street intersections about the city while children are going to and coming from school. The men are doing this instead of house duty and must serve three times on the days they are assigned to this work, which will average about four hours each night for the men thus detailed. This plan allows nine more street crossings to be guarded for the children. The motorcycle officers have been assigned to house duty at police headquarters.

Donald Moore of Cambridge was fined $100 in court on Wednesday for driving while under the influence of liquor.

FIRST NATIONAL STORE FINED

The First National Stores, Inc., a corporation conducting many grocery stores and markets in this and other cities, was fined $25 in the Newton Court on Tuesday by Judge Bacon. On December 17th, Henry C. Mosman of Broadway, Newtonville, a state health inspector, saw eggs displayed in the window of the First National Store Inc. at 308 Walnut street, Newtonville, and on them a sign saying "Selected Fresh Eggs; 30c a dozen." Mosman entered the store and bought a half dozen of the "fresh eggs." The manager admitted that the eggs were cold storage eggs which Mosman revealed his identity and was charged with not having the eggs properly marked in the window, or with having the bag containing the eggs marked "Cold Storage" as specified by the pure food laws.

Another chain store company will be the defendant in the Newton court on January 20 on a similar charge by Mr. Mosman.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Representative Clarence S. Luitwiler of Newton has filed three bills for the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Frank A. Goodwin.

One of the bills would prevent the Superior Court from placing on probation anyone charged with a felony, if he has previously been placed on probation, or convicted for a felony. In 1926 a similar statute was passed with relation to the district courts, but according to the Registrar, the power has been abused by the Superior Court.

A second bill would change the laws of parole. At the present time, if a person is sentenced to State prison for a period of from nine to 15 years he may be, and usually is, allowed out in six years, or two-thirds of the minimum.

The bill provides that no one sent to State prison after January 1, 1929, shall be paroled until he shall have served his minimum. Another section of the law is also amended. At the present time, the Parole Board shall parole a prisoner in State prison after he has served his minimum, and the amendment leaves it optional with the Parole Board.

Another amendment provides for parole from the reformatory. If this bill passes, there can be no parole for a second time from Concord Reformatory, until the prisoner shall have served at least two and one-half years.

The third bill presented defines "using an automobile without authority." Many thieves who are stealing automobiles, instead of being prosecuted for theft, are being prosecuted for "using without authority."

CITY HALL

Mayor Childs was the speaker last week Thursday noon at the joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of Medford.

Raymond Lehrer, Mrs. Benjamin Buckley, Mrs. Walter Whitely, Miss Barbara Estabrook, Miss Emily Blaisdell, Miss Emma Coolidge and Miss Hope Gregory will assist in the dining room.

The proceeds will go toward the Student Loan Fund which the Daughters of the Revolution will give this year to Wheaton College.

DEATH OF MR. COLEGROVE

Mr. Warren S. Colegrove, a resident of this city for many years, died suddenly last Saturday at his home on Proctor street, Newtonville. Mr. Colegrove was born in New York City and was 65 years of age. For many years he has been an insurance adjuster with office in Boston. He was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, the Central Church of Newtonville, the Central Club and the Play-ers. He is survived by his widow who was formerly Minnie Speer of Passaic, N. J., and one daughter, Mrs. Rufus Estabrook of Auburndale. Funeral services were held on Wednesday, Rev. Dr. A. R. Ellis of the Central Church officiating.

MRS. HARRIET JEFFERSON

Mrs. Harriet Jefferson, for many years a resident of Auburndale, and formerly bookkeeper for Johnson & Keyes, died on Monday at the Newton Hospital. Her funeral services were held yesterday at her sister's home in Natick. Burial was at Medfield. She is survived by one son, Charles Jefferson.

ALBERT EISENHARDT

Albert Eisenhardt of 777 Dedham street, Oak Hill, died suddenly on Monday. He was born 63 years ago at Erfurt, Germany, and had resided in this city for 15 years, having been employed by R. G. Shaw 2nd. His funeral was held yesterday, the remains being cremated at Forest Hills. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Campbell of West Roxbury. The deceased is survived by his widow, a son, Paul Eisenhardt, and two daughters, Mrs. Florence Dangerfield and Dr. Louise Eisenhardt.

DEATH OF EVA M. SMITH

Mrs. Eva M. Smith, the wife of Charles Henry Smith, passed away at the Newton Hospital after a brief illness on January 6.

Funeral services took place at the Church of the Messiah, conducted by the Rev. Percival M. Wood, pastor, and assisted by the Rev. John Matteson, of Whitman, Mass. A quartet sang. Interment was made in the family lot at the Newton Cemetery. She was highly esteemed in the community and an ardent worker in the church.

She leaves a husband and a daughter, Mrs. Francis Guy Beal, of Connecticut, and two grandchildren, one sister, Miss Marguerite Burns of Boston, Mass.

Before her marriage she was Eva M. Burns of Mammoth, Nova Scotia, where she was very well known in musical circles being a concert singer and a teacher of piano.

Kathleen Keddy, wife of Miles Keddy, died at her late home in Somerville on Sunday. She was the daughter of Patrick Monahan of 27 Pearl court, Newton, and was 22 years of age. Her funeral service was held on Tuesday morning at the Church of Our Lady.

Mother Mary Fitzpatrick, a member of the Ladies of the Sacred Heart, died at the convent at 785 Centre street, on Tuesday, in her 61st year. She was a native of New York City. Her funeral was held yesterday morning and burial was at St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association is a World-Wide Movement. Each year the citizens of Newton give substantial amounts to help establish Associations in the new countries of Europe, South America, China, India, and the Near East. This expression of good will from America draws the nations closer together and helps to bring nearer the time when good will and peace will be practiced throughout the entire world.

January 17th to 24th is Thrift Week. The Newton Y. M. C. A. with many other organizations calls attention especially to the young men to the value of Thrift. For convenience the subject is divided into seven parts, one for each day of the week. One day is given over to the banks to emphasize their service to the community. Another day is National Life Insurance Day. Other days are, Own Your Own Home Day, Make a Will Day, Family Budget Day, Pay Your Bills Promptly Day. The Seventh Day is Share With Others Day.

Alden Keene, Treasurer of the Newton Co-operative Bank, will speak on "Thrift" at the Fellowship Club at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening, January 16th. We invite those who are interested to come to hear him. He will begin speaking at seven o'clock.

Through the courtesy of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston the film, "More Power to You," was shown at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening. Mr. McLaren, representing the Edison Co., spoke briefly of the work of the Company and how it was trying to give better service in spite of the great demands upon all its resources to keep up with the requirements of the fast growing community which it serves. The pictures were much appreciated by the members of the Club and their friends.

STORE BURNED AT NEWTONVILLE

Shortly after midnight on Saturday night Patrolman Tobin discovered a fire in the store at 248 Walnut street, Newtonville, occupied by Max Meltzer as a clothing and haberdashery store. Tobin pulled Bell 23 and when engine 4 arrived the firemen found the interior of the store a mass of flames. Determined work on the part of the firemen prevented the fire from spreading to other parts of the building which is occupied by several stores in the ground floor and by offices on the second floor. The building is owned by Edward Quinlan, a Newtonville druggist. Meltzer estimated his loss at $5000.

Saturday afternoon at 2:50 Box 52 was for a fire in the house at 49 Colby road, Waban, owned by W. P. Crosby and occupied by A. W. Lawrence. The blaze was confined to the kitchen and the damage was slight.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Mr. Charles B. Floyd of Auburndale, an authority on birds, will give an illustrated talk, Saturday, January 14, at 2 p. m., at the Children's Museum of Boston on "Water Birds of Massachusetts." Mr. Floyd will use his own colored slides and talk on commonly known birds of the Massachusetts coast, showing them, in pictures, from the hatching throughout their life cycle.

Mr. Floyd, treasurer of the Federation of Bird Clubs of New England, in his work with birds, has made an interesting study of common terns, having banded 10,000 young ones. The marked birds have been heard from in all parts of the North American and South American continents, showing the wide territory these rapid fliers cover during their migrations. When a tern with a metal band on its leg is found a report is made to the government office and relayed to Mr. Floyd. Thus a general account can be kept of the tern's travels.

Mr. Floyd's talk on Saturday will be made especially interesting to the children through the beautifully colored slides he himself has made in his work.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTRE

The annual meeting of the Stearns School Centre will be held on Monday afternoon, January 16, at 3 o'clock in the former Bonnar-Atwood Studios, 92 Bowser street, Newtonville. Reports for the year will be read. Mrs. Wallace M. Leonard will speak on Social Service Work Among Seafaring Men, followed by tea. All those interested in the work of the Stearns School Centre are cordially invited.

KIWANIS CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Woodland Golf Club on Tuesday was attended by 75 members. President James P. Gallagher presided and Hugh Boyd acted as song leader. Frank Harrell of the club, a talented professional entertainer, gave selections on the saxophone and a collection of ordinary glass goblets which Mr. Harrell has arranged to form a sort of vibraphone. The speaker of the day was Rev. Harry Hall of the Allston Kiwanis Club who took for his topic "The Aims of Kiwanis." He told of the good this organization is doing in bringing men of different races and religions together in the common cause of helping others and he emphasized the principle of Kiwanis "that those who join the club do so to give rather than to receive."

President Gallagher announced that "Les" Woodman of Newton Centre has been appointed secretary of the Newton Kiwanis Club.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

Lieut. Col. H. Z. Landon of the First Corps of Cadets was the guest and speaker at the Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary held at the Woodland Golf Club.

Col. Landon gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the work going on at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds with particular reference to the great advances made in the efficiency and range of anti air craft guns.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

A series of luncheon lectures on Modern Drama and Dramatists is being arranged for out at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill. These lectures will be given by Mrs. J. W. P. Kennedy (Barbara Bradford), a member of former 47 Workshop, at Harvard, and a student of playwrighting under Prof. George P. Baker. They are in aid of the Disabled Veterans.

AUTO HITS GIRL

An automobile driven by John Luurtsema of Bright street, Waltham, hit Mary Ford, 13, of Court street, Newtonville, on Eliot street, Upper Falls, Sunday afternoon. The girl suffered injuries to her right knee and hip. She was taken to the office of Dr. Warren Hoey for treatment. Luurtsema claimed that the girl ran from behind a Middlesex & Boston bus.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Waban Woman's Club

Mrs. William G. Brown, chairman of Education, has secured Miss Mabel Bragg for the second meeting in the series of talks called "Mothers' Round Table," scheduled for Monday, January 16, at 2:30 in the Union Church Vestry. The general topic to be considered is "Obedience and Punishment."

January 17th meeting of the first of the Art Museum Lectures, with John Singer Sargent as the subject of the lecture, and Mrs. C. A. Sawyer, Jr., hostess. The members who attended last year's lectures at the Museum remember them with much pleasure, and this year the program looks equally promising. The Class will meet at the Museum at 2 o'clock, and by communicating with Mrs. Sawyer, transportation and tea may be arranged.

Auburndale Review Club

"Modern Fiction" will be considered at the January 17th meeting of the Auburndale Review Club. Mrs. Arthur C. Farley entertains the Club at her home, 251 Central street. The specific examples of modern fiction to be presented are "Drachmann and Pontoppidan" in a paper by Mrs. Frank F. Davidson; "Life and Writings of Selma Lagerlof"; in one by Mrs. George F. Howland; and then Mrs. Wicklife J. Spaulding will illustrate the works of Lagerlof by reading therefrom.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The high spot, or rather the high note which marks the high spot, musically, of the Club year, comes on Tuesday, the 17th, when the annual musicale of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club is to be given under the direction of Mrs. Herbert O. Steeves and members of the Music Committee. An innovation is to be tried this season, in presenting a pianist for the entire program, something that has not been done before in the local Club. The artist selected is Frederick Tillotson, who will interpret a program ranging from Bach and Liszt to the modern Debussy. An opportunity to discuss the music and other matters of interest will be given during the social hour following the meeting, when tea is to be served by Mrs. Thomas L. Goodwin and members of the Social Committee.

Wednesday morning, the Art Committee is making its annual pilgrimage to Boston for a tour through the Museum of Fine Arts under expert guidance. Arrangements were made over a year ago for the talk on "The Tree of Life" which is to be given by one of the Museum staff and illustrated by rugs and textiles. As the subject is one of more than general interest, it is hoped that a number of Club members will avail themselves of this opportunity to learn the meaning of the figure we see introduced in so many specimens of eastern handicraft, and will give their names in plenty of time to Mrs. Donald D. McKay, who will see that automobiles are at the Museum of Fine Arts under expert guidance. Newtonville Woman's Club

Rev. Charles R. Brown, D.D., dean of the Yale Divinity School, will speak on the subject, "The Best Use of Knowledge" at the next regular meeting of the Club on January 17th. Dean Brown is said to be a speaker of unusual power and no one should miss the opportunity of hearing him. The music of the afternoon will be in charge of Mrs. Elliot D. Hansen.

The meeting of the Newtonville Women's Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Walter Allen, 488 Watertown street, Wednesday, January 18, at 2:30 p. m., the subject being "Planting Seeds in Peats and the care of the Seedlings."

Members will be glad to hear of the generous and kind hearted work of the Hospital Committee which met at the home of Mrs. Chester A. Duffield, 26 Dexter road, on January 12, where much sewing for the hospital was accomplished.

at the Croydon, 457 Centre street, under the directorship, as last year, of Mr. James R. Houghton, baritone. Names of those who wish to join the group of Club songsters should be sent to Mrs. F. A. Wetherbee, 211 Bellevue street, or to Miss H. Henry at the Croydon.

The Opera Talks are being enjoyed each Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the homes of hospitable members, the next one coming on the 20th. Mrs. James A. Moyer, Music Chairman, will be glad to furnish information as to the various operas that will be taken up in story and music, and announces that if members do not wish to join the group at $1.00 for the entire five, they may attend a single "Talk," for twenty-five cents. Verdi's Aida and Sappho by Messnet will be the operas considered on the 20th.

Mrs. William L. Ratcliffe, of 284 Franklin street, is planning and carrying forward a most fascinating class in Italian hemstitching, having achieved glory by obtaining Madame Columbia DiPersio as instructor. There will be six lessons—about which Mrs. Ratcliffe can give further information to those interested—for $3.00, the first one having been given at 10 a. m. last Wednesday, the 11th. Linens and thread recently brought by Madame DiPersio from Italy may be obtained by students of her gentle art at very reasonable cost. The opportunity to learn this beautiful work and to enjoy sociability promises to be one of the most popular undertakings of the Club this year.

Bowling teams are now forming, with the second tournament as an incentive commencing as soon as possible after the middle of January. Besides the promise of "good fun" from Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge and Mrs. William A. Somerby, who are asking for names to be sent them—telephone N. N. 1129-W, or N. N. 3013-R—they offer the remark that with the likelihood of unpleasant weather coming bowling means an opportunity for excellent indoor sport as well as exercise.

The Class in Horseback Riding is under way, and those wishing to ride should call Miss Marion Stone, N. N. 2481.

The Keep Fit Class, with Miss Helen Danneberg as instructor, is meeting at Y. M. C. A. Mrs. Carroll F. Thompson, N. N. 1475, will be glad to furnish information as to the Swimming Classes. And for Winter Sports, a title that somehow always makes one thrill with imagination of Canadian wilds, or Swiss climbing, with Hikes as the weather permits, or snowshoeing, skiing and tobogganing, should there be a storm, Club members should leave their names with Mrs. Renshaw Smith, N. N. 1936, or Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, N. N. 2582-M. Owing to unexpected weather, with change in plans or arrangements made at the charmed moment, the telephone will be used to call these groups together. There is promised, too, that if the roads stay open, the Wachusett trip that had to be abandoned because of the day being rainy, to the regret of twenty members who signed up, will still be arranged if possible.

West Newton Community Service Club

Miss Sophie Hart, professor of English at Wellesley College, who is so greatly in demand as a speaker on current literature, as well as on her interesting experiences in foreign lands is to be the speaker for the West Newton Community Service Club on January 18th, at 8 o'clock, at the Parkside House, at 2:30 o'clock. Her subject will be that ever alluring one "The Great Temple of Angkor, and India."

A social hour will follow with tea served. With such an interesting program promised others than members will be delighted to be invited. They may attend upon the payment of a guest fee of 50 cents.

On Friday, the 20th, at 10:40 o'clock, in the same meeting place, those fortunate Club members who have had the time and foresight to avail themselves of the opportunity of keeping informed on Current Events in this busy world, will once more hear Mrs. Claude U. Gilson, the Club's popular lecturer in this series.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

On Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock the Boston Woman's Civics Club, with its many Newton members, and a Newton woman, Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton presiding as president, will meet in the attractive Venetian Room of the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, to hear an address by Mrs. Alice G. Topos on "America at the Crossroads." Mrs. Topos is a fluent and powerful speaker, and to this adds a charming personality and attractive appearance that is not always so marked in the most able lecturers. She has made a place for herself that will not soon be forgotten as the leader of the temperance movement in Massachusetts, having been president of the State W. C. T. U. Current Events will be brought to the attention of the members by Miss L. Gertrude Howes, as leader, treasurer of the Club.

Social Science Club

On Wednesday at 11 o'clock the Social Science Club will be entertained by a musical program at the home of Mrs. Freelan O. Stanley, 363 Waverley avenue, Newton.

Auburndale Woman's Club

On Thursday afternoon, the 19th, the Auburndale Woman's Club will hold its regular meeting at the Auburndale Club House at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Mary Parker Dunning will speak on "Japan, the Land of Cherry Blossoms," a topic that stirs the imagination in the picture of color and beauty it always calls up of these blossoms. Mrs. Dunning adds greatly to the charm of her topic, also, by frequent changes of costume by which she illustrates her discussion and by telling many humorous incidents as to the life of the Japanese women. Tea will be served in the hour of sociability following the lecture.

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

The program for the Shakespeare Club for their meeting on Saturday afternoon, the 21st, is to be a quiz on Acts I and II of King John. The Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. F. S. Keith, 20 Hartford street.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The annual Guest Night of the Newton Centre Woman's Club has been postponed to January 25th as it conflicted with the Boston musical debut of Dorothy Spears, a Newton Centre girl, whose rise in Washington opera the community has watched with interest. On the 25th the Music and Dramatics Committees have charge of the program, which will consist of an one-act play "A Sunny Morning," by Quinteros, translated from the Spanish, and a Musical Idyll in one act, "Good-night, Babette," by Liza Lehmann. The chairmen in charge are Mrs. Everett W. Varney and Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock.

Rehearsals for the "Rainbow Revue," the first week in February are well under way, under the direction of Mrs. Francis N. Nathan.

State Federation

FALL MEETING 1928. Announcement is made that the State Federation has accepted the invitation of the Hampden County Women's Club to hold its Fall meeting in Springfield on November 13, 1928.

Another announcement is that two more Clubs have recently joined the State Federation, the Acanthus Club of Vineyard Haven, and the Unity Club of West Roxbury.

RADIO. Next Wednesday, the 18th, WNAAC, at 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. D. M. Goodrich, chairman of Conservation, will broadcast "Conservation Possibilities." Newton will be especially interested in this broadcast of one of "our own."

Mrs. John H. Kimball, chairman of Legislation will have Mrs. Joseph Pes-enden represent her Department with a message on "Endorsement or Non-Endorsement" of bills at the State House.

PRESS DINNER. The social event of the winter, and one that the Press department claims with pride, is a dinner in honor of Miss Vella Winner, editor of General Federation News and manager of Headquarters news service

Women's Clubs at Washington, D. C.,

to be given by the Press and Publicity

Department of the State Federation,

Miss Carolyn J. Peck, Chairman, at the University Club, 49 Trinity place,

Boston, Wednesday evening, January

18, at six o'clock. Those invited include the Club press chairmen of the State, the officers of the State Federation, and Massachusetts women in the work of the General Federation, and the Club editors of the State papers carrying Federation news. In addition to Miss Winner, the guest of honor, the speakers will be Mrs. Grace

Morrison Poole, Mrs. Frederick Glaz-

ier Smith, Miss Alice Gwendoline

Albee, Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter,

Miss Alice F. Thus, representatives of the Boston papers, and members of the Press and Publicity Department representing different phases of publicity

Miss Winner, who is the guest of the State Federation at the Sixth District Conference to be held at Hotel

Statler, January 18, is an experienced newspaper woman, publicist, and Club woman. For a number of years she was connected with leading papers in Oregon, Washington, and California, as special correspondent, feature writer, and editor of women's pages.

For three years she was press chairman of the Oregon State Federation and editor of the Oregon Federation

News. Miss Winner was one of the organizers of the Portland (Oregon)

City Federation, and served it as secretary, press chairman, and director.

During the year in which Miss Winner has been in charge of the publicity work of the General Federation at Washington, the amount of publicity has increased five hundred percent, and only a limited budget prevents a

is a Throop (Pasadena, Cal.) University woman, and a member of the

Washington, D. C.

The invited to attend this social function should obtain their tickets from Miss Peck before January 16th at $2 each. The amount of work to arrange such an affair and to see that places are properly reserved is perhaps little realized, and Miss Peck

once more demonstrates her exoutie ability in adding one more well-managed affair to the already colossal task of handling the State publicity.

EVERY HOUSEWIFE APPRECIATES

The Economy Service

1

Because it does MOST of the work. Everything washed. Everything ironed. You may want to touch up a few garments by hand, but the BIG JOB of ironing we do for you.

Because the cost is so reasonable!

10c lb. for flat work
15c lb. for wearing apparel
Minimum charge $1.50

Because it is an answer to a wide appeal for an economical service that does both washing and ironing at a cost that is well worth the price.

WOMAN KILLS MAD DOG

Yesterday morning police headquarters at West Newton was notified by the Brighton police that a mad dog which had bitten several persons in that district was headed towards Newton. Patrolman John McNeil was notified and several officers were dispatched from headquarters to look for the dog. While they were speeding to Newton, the dog, a small mongrel terrier, appeared on Rogers street, near the Brighton line, and attacked Oliver Garceau, 16, biting the boy on the leg. Young Garceau fought the dog off and stepped on its head, but the animal to the ground. His cries for assistance were heard by his mother, Mrs. Sally Garceau, of 25 Rogers street, who seized a hammer, and, rushing to her son's aid, killed the dog with a well directed blow to the head of the frenzied animal.

CORNELIUS DARCY

Cornelius Darcy, an employee of the city of Newton for 38 years, and for most of that time an engineer on the steam roller of the Street Department, died at his late home, 65 Pearl street, Newton, on Wednesday. He had been ill but a few days with erysipelas. He was born in Newton 53 years ago. His funeral services were held this morning at the Church of Our Lady and the large attendance was evidence of the popularity in which the deceased was held. A delegation from Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, was in attendance. He is survived by his widow, two sons and one daughter.

Ex-Alderman John C. Madden Given Remembrance at Annual Banquet

Members of Last Year's Aldermanic Board Honor Retired Alderman From Ward 1 With Gift of Watch

The members of the 1927 Board of Aldermen of Newton held a farewell party and banquet at the Charles River Country Club on Thursday evening, January 12. They had as their guests Mayor Childs and City Clerk Grant, Alderman Thomas M. Gallagher acted as master of ceremonies and each of the retiring aldermen was called upon for remarks. Those responding were Aldermen Wakefield, Leahy, Hodgdon, deMille and Hinckley, all of whom responded in a happy vein. Alderman Hodgdon was quite frank and as master of ceremonies told all the present of the flaws in their legislative careers, as he had observed them.

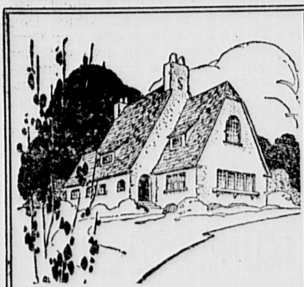

In behalf of those who had been associated with him on the Board of Aldermen, President Sinclair Weeks presented a valuable gold watch to retiring Alderman John Madden of Ward 1. Mr. Weeks said:

"During the five years in which I have served as a member of this Board and attended these annual dinners, I have seen a great many Aldermen take their departure from our midst. Some of them, for one reason or another, have occupied more important places in the picture than have their fellow members, but one and all they have, during their term at the wheel, worked conscientiously and faithfully in the interests of the people of this city.

"Tonight we say farewell to our good friend from Ward 1, John C. Madden, vice-president of the Board during 1927, a man who has, without bias or prejudice, and with an absolute open mind, tackled the problems which have come before the Board, working with constant and undivided attention for the promotion of good government in the City of Newton.

"During my five years on the Board I don't think I have ever heard John Madden say a mean or an unkindly word about any man, and probably that is the reason why his friends are numbered amongst all those who have the privilege of knowing him and what he stands for. I like to think, however, that his best friends are numbered amongst his associates who, during the past ten years, have worked with him on the Board of Aldermen, for they are the men who have come in closest contact with him, and who know something about the character of the contribution which he has made toward the many problems which have come before the Board.

"It is a common expression to say 'You will get your reward in Heaven,' but I am sure that John Madden must get his reward in the knowledge that he leaves this group with the consciousness of work well done and with the respect, admiration and affection of all those who have had the privilege of an association with him. And so I want to take this opportunity, on behalf of the members of the 1927 Board, to present to him this watch, suitably inscribed, as a tangible evidence of our feeling for him and our regret over the circumstances which

Gives Large Sum For Church Organ Fund

Gift of $20,000 By Horace W. Orr to Central Church Announced At Annual Meeting

The most important feature of the annual meeting of Central Church, which occurred Jan. 12, was the announcement of a gift of extraordinary generosity to this organization, offered under certain conditions by Mr. Horace W. Orr. A statement in regard to this offer was made by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Arthur M. Ellis. Mr. Orr offers to give $20,000 to the church for the purpose of deepening the chancel and for the redecorating of the auditorium, on condition that the church shall raise an equal amount to improve the auditorium and the quarters used by the church school. It is desired to enlarge the chancel in order to provide space for a larger chorus choir, with permanent seats for the singers. The gift is offered as a memorial to the late Mrs. Orr, who was a devoted member of the church and much interested in all its activities.

Brief remarks were made by several members, and it was voted to accept this offer with gratitude, and to appoint the necessary committees to obtain the needed funds and accomplish the results outlined above.

About 250 people sat down to an excellent turkey dinner, and after the meeting had been called to order by Mr. Wallace C. Boyden, moderator.

There was a pleasing ceremony of recognition of the services of four members who by their efforts in various positions have contributed very generously to the welfare of the church. Substantial gifts of money were made in each case. Mr. C. W. Davidson made the presentation to Mr. Albert M. Lyon in appreciation of his fourteen years' service as moderator. He referred to the wisdom and fairness with which Mr. Lyon had presided over the deliberations of the society, and the effect of his influence in preserving harmony in the organization. Mr. H. P. Patey made the presentation to Mr. Boyden in recognition of his service as clerk for thirty years, and to Mrs. Boyden, for twenty-five years superintendent of the junior department of the church school. Mr. Patey referred to Mr. Boyden as one of the pillars of the church, and expressed the gratitude which the entire church feels for the extraordinary thoroughness with which Mrs. Boyden for so many years performed this onerous duty. He then paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. Boyden's personal influence in the church school and the success she had had in impressing the children with the truths of religion.

Mr. Fred W. Rust then made the presentation of a Royal typewriter and money to Mr. Joseph B. Robson in recognition of his fifteen years' service as treasurer, which office he will continue to hold. Mr. Rust referred to the remarkable efficiency which Mr. Robson had manifested in this position. Appropriate responses were made by the recipients of these gifts, who expressed the satisfaction that they had gained from the service they had rendered.

Dr. Gorham W. Harris, clerk, reported that 80 members were admitted in 1927, of which 49 came in by confession and 31 by letter. Five members had been lost by death and nine were dismissed by letter. The membership at the end of the year was 745. Those who passed away during the year were Mrs. Horace W. Orr, Mrs. Herbert R. Gibbs, Mr. Alfred W. Cole, Mrs. Mary L. Morehouse, Mrs. D. A. Yates. The clerk reported that during the year people had joined the church by letter from ten different denominations, and of these only one-third had come from Congregational churches. The last three ministers of the church had at previous times been members of various denominations not Congregationalist.

The clerk also read the report of the standing committee which showed that the year had closed with a surplus of $30 in the treasury. Mr. Robson's report as treasurer showed total expenditures for home purposes were $18,473, and benevolent contributions by the church and all its organizations were $9811. The Woman's Association raised $2542 for its various activities. Reports of permanent funds showed $867 in the Mrs. Mary F. Felton fund, $1800 in the Edward W. Greene fund and $251 in the Mrs. Mary L. Morehouse fund.

It was voted to change the evening for the mid-week service to Wednesday, to conform to the usual custom in Newtonville. The Pilgrim Hymnal was adopted for use in the church service.

Newton High Hockey Team Wins Another

Takes Third Straight Game and Holds League Lead—Stoneham Victim 7-1

Newton high school held its lead of a full game in the interscholastic hockey league by defeating Stoneham High yesterday afternoon at Ware's Cove, Auburndale, 7 to 1. It is Newton's third straight league victory. The ice was good in the first period and with Captain Brown and Spain on the rampage three goals were soon lumped up. As the game went along the ice grew softer with a let-down, mostly on the part of the visitors' defense with the result that Newton added four more goals while Richardson of Stoneham succeeded in getting the puck past Harrington in the Newton net. Spain tallied three times, Captain Brown twice, and Gilligan and Bell once each.

Mace Andrews, Mr. Kenelm Winslow, Mrs. Percy E. Woodward; October meeting, Mr. Albert D. Amorysen, Mrs. D. Brewer Edgely, Mrs. Albert M. Lyons.

Previous to the business meeting a devotional service was led by Rev. Dr. William E. Strong. The following reports were read: Young People's Society by Suzanne Slocum; C. C. Girls' Club by Louise Chambers, president; church school, by Mr. Walter H. Sears, superintendent, this report showing 365 pupils, 53 teachers and of ficers, and an average attendance of over 80 per cent.; director of young people's work, Mr. John William Hawkins of Newton Theological Institute; Central guild, Mrs. Myron W. Davis, former president; Woman's association, Mrs. Charles Frail, secretary; housekeeping committee, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, chairman; Central club, Mr. Ernest N. Nichols, president; auditor, Dr. Percy G. Stiles. The finance committee, through its chairman, Mr. Fred W. Rust, presented a budget for 1928 providing for an expenditure of $19,360. It was voted to authorize these expenditures.

The evening closed with a brief address by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Ellis, in which he dwelt on what he described as the four epochs in the history of the church, the first of which was the time of organization, the second of which centered around the construction of the present edifice, the third of which was characterized as a transition to a church of liberal theology, beginning with Rev. Ozma Davis. He described the fourth period as the present time, in which he felt that questions of theological controversy were being laid aside while the

The Rainbow Revue Of Revues Coming

Two Performances To Be Given At Newton Centre Early Next Month

The success of the popular Rainbow Revues, which have been given for several years at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, has created a demand for a review of these Revues. The performances, which will be given at the Newton Centre Woman's Club Friday, February 3rd, and Saturday, February 4th, will present some of the most successful numbers of the past shows with changes in settings and casts, together with new numbers of exceptional beauty.

The Revue will feature several solo dancers. The doors will be closed for ten minutes during the opening floor number and ticket holders should be in their seats at 8 o'clock, as the curtain will go up promptly to allow time for the dancing which will follow the Revue.

The cast includes many of our own Newton young people and among the soloists are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Stuart, Mr. Norman Powers, Miss Janet Frink, Miss Carolyn McClellan, Miss Carol McGaw, Miss Dorothy Barton and Miss Priscilla Wright. Mr. Donald Howard of Cambridge, tenor soloist and master of ceremonies at the Club Karnak and Miss Gretchen Grant, specialty dancer of George M. Cohan shows, are our two professional performers.

Mrs. Frank N. Nathan is general chairman of the committee in charge. She will be assisted by the following sub-chairmen: Mrs. George F. Richardson, Jr., treasurer, Mrs. John Metz, program; Mrs. Cyrus T. Schirmer, tickets; Mrs. John Whittlesey and Mrs. Francis N. Nathan, smokes; Mrs. George Graves, candy; Miss Cornelia Holmes, candy girls; Mrs. Stanley F. Barton, beverages; Mrs. Edward H. Bill and Mrs. F. J. Blake, coffee and doughnuts; Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, cast chairman; Mrs. Fred Rising, costume chairman and Mrs. Frank Williams, head usher.

W. C. T. U.

Last Monday evening at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church in Newtonville, the West Newton W. C. T. U. celebrated the eighth anniversary of National prohibition. Supper was served at 6 o'clock and was followed by an entertainment. Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton, President of the Middlesex County W. C. T. U., was the guest of honor and told in a most instructive and enlightening manner of the great benefits which have come out of National prohibition.

During the evening piano solos by Doris Jeffery and readings by Betty Hall were much enjoyed.

Vocal solos by Mrs. Helen Pennell of Auburndale, and Mrs. Herbert Rice of Needham accompanied by Mr. Harold Slaney, added to the pleasure of the evening. The supper was in charge of Mrs. Arthur Neal and Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley was chairman of program.

AUTO HITS CHILD

Frederic Kline, 5, the son of A. C. Kline of 1073 Centre street, Newton Centre, was hit by a car Monday night at the corner of Centre street and Commonwealth avenue. The driver did not stop. The boy was picked up by Edward Durkin of 56 Gardner street and taken to the Newton Hospital. He received bruises about the body.

Bessie Conroy of 182 Cherry street, West Newton, was hit Monday night by an automobile driven by William Bianchi of 20 Quirk court, Newton. She was taken to the Newton Hospital to be treated for injuries to her head and body.

first emphasis was being placed upon worship.

The church is looking ahead to its 60th anniversary, which will be celebrated this year, and it is hoped to observe this occasion by the improvements which will be made possible by Mr. Orr's generous gift and the contributions which it is expected will be received.

New Library Building at Newton Centre Dedicated Last Sunday

Mr. Frank H. Stewart Gives Interesting Address At Exercises Which Attract Hundreds of Interested Citizens

The beautiful new library building just erected on Centre and Cypress streets, Newton Centre, was thrown open to the public and dedicated on Sunday afternoon. The building was crowded to the doors by hundreds of residents who were interested in this notable addition to the attractions of the village.

Dr. Edward S. Andrews who was greeted as the father and grandfather of the library movement, presided and there was an invocation by Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity Church.

Mr. Frank H. Stewart was the orator of the day and spoke in part as follows:

"This library building which we dedicate today is unique. Other libraries have been built with public moneys. Still others by the generosity of single individuals such as Mr. Carnegie. But this building is the combined gift of 2300 men, women and children of Newton Centre who have enthusiastically joined in this enterprise. The first gift came from a little girl of Italian parentage, who ran all the way from Thompsonville, in order to be the first contributor. Another gift came from a little boy, who, like the widow in the Bible story, brought his mite—all that he had—which in his case was the total sum of three cents. The very large number of contributors shows how generally the entire village has risen to this opportunity to fill an urgent public need, and to give to this section of our city this beautiful and greatly needed equipment.

Most significant of all is the fact that its need and advantages have been so fully appreciated by our foreign-born neighbors that every family in Thompsonville, literally to make this splendid library possible. Each and every person who has contributed to this good cause is furnishing the equipment to give great joy to himself and others, to give many persons a lift in life, to help them up the ladder of improvement and better fit them for the tasks and duties of life.

"Someone recently said that the purpose of going to school and college was not to learn a lot of things, but merely how to think.

"The end of education is to train the mind. An educated man is better prepared than the ignorant to do anything. Education has a better foundation from which to start his practical knowledge. An education is nothing but the tool for intelligence to work with.

"More and more as our modern life becomes so complicated and exacting, we have come to see a growing appreciation on the part of our people that the times demand the power of thought. In every place, educated persons are needed to maintain our institutions, as well as individual and national existence. At the present time, it is a lamentable fact that most education is superficial and illiberal. Public education seems to be so un-learned that the standard set must always be for an average pupil, and hence all pupils must learn the same lesson by the same means at the same time. No opportunity is given to develop or stimulate individuality. In effect such educational systems tend to develop a mass mind following the baneful practice of standardization which infects not only our educational systems, our style of clothes, our social habits, thoughts, amusements and all the ordinary affairs of daily life; but substitutes, in many cases, the education of the movie and the daily paper for intelligent mindedness, and ignores the teachings of the wisdom of the past, the realities of life, and the great lessons of its experiences.

"Into all the confusion and shams of the life of our times, and the apparent aimlessness of life on the part of so many, the well equipped library comes as a constructive force to develop one's individual aptitudes and powers, to replace the stunting process of standardization, and to help us avoid the errors which obtrude upon us on all sides. Without cost, it makes easily accessible and available the best thought of all times on all possible subjects. One can find here a complete record of what has been thought, said, and done in the world. To the child, it opens with magic keys to the doors to knowledge, and to rich adventures of intellect and discovery. To all, it brings the power to possess a trained mind, to cultivate individual aptitudes and tastes, to facilitate creative work and self-advancement, to obtain culture and inspiration. In a very practical way, it gives the means of increasing earning power and capacity, and teaches not only how to do particular things, but how to do all one's work better. It thus serves, in the fullest possible manner, to develop for each in his own way, and according to his special needs, both his individuality and intellect, to complete one's education and mental equipment in the truest sense, and to raise one's intellectual standards and powers.

"One becomes an educated person, by virtue of patient study, meditation, intellectual courage, and the desire to discover the truth. Here in this library is a great university of the world. No preparatory school training is required. No teachers are necessary. All that is required of its students is a desire for knowledge, whether in Handicrafts, Trades, Agriculture, Professions, Art, Literature or Science. One with such a desire can here learn from the wisdom of all ages, ancient and modern. He can have counsel with the best minds of all times and find the companionship of best friends. He may summon at will the enthusiastic aid of the great creative geniuses in every line of thought and endeavor. Here, for the seeker after truth, are the sources of all wisdom, the lamps to light his pathway and lead him on to ever higher and more perfect pinnacles of improvement and perfection from the first ages old beginning to the present hour. Thus will he attain the inestimable joy of knowledge, an understanding of this great adventure of living, and the enduring satisfactions of life. And the eager inquiry which will greet all such seekers who cross this threshold will always be 'How can we help you in your quest?' For they will find at hand in the members of the library staff, sympathetic guides to point out to all seekers after knowledge the paths and direction which will take them to the treasure house which contains the common knowledge of all mankind.

"Need I, therefore, urge you freely to use this new library yourselves and to encourage your children so to use it? Now that we hold it as an accomplished fact, do not its active patronage and constant use become both a duty and a privilege which all should gladly appreciate and enjoy?"

Mr. A. Oram Fulton, chairman of the committee made a brief report (Continued on page 4)

NEWTON RUNNERS
HAVE EASY WINCaptain Reed and Gatchell Spring Surprises

The Newton High School track team scored a decisive victory over the Boston College High School runners last Saturday afternoon on the Newton High track by a score of 57 1-3 to 19 2-3. Newton made slams in the low hurdles, 300-yard run and the standing broad jump. The visitors in winning first places in the dash and the shotput and winning the relay with a few points picked up in the various other events scored more points than in all of their meets last season. In many events Coach Enoch of the Newton team did not enter his best athletes.

The outstanding features of the meet were furnished by two prominent Newton athletes, Captain Malcolm Reed and Creighton Gatchell. The latter has been improving rapidly in the shotput and during the practice sessions of the week had heaved the eightpound weight over 40 feet for his first experience. In competition with George O'Neill of B. C. High in the meet one of his final tries measured 42 feet ½ inch for second place. This put was but 5½ inches behind O'Neill's and assures Newton of added strength in this event in the later meets.

When the call for the 600-yard run was made Gatchell asked the Newton mentor for permission to run.

Inasmuch as the team had lost two of its best men in this event with the recent announcement of marks the Newton coach gave his consent. He also switched Captain Mal Reed from the 300-yard run to the 600 and the pair were Newton's entries in the first heat. The race was in two heats with the three best times to be taken for the division of points. In the heat with Reed and Gatchell, the latter, B. C. High's best man, and two others, Donahue took the lead but on the next to the last lap Reed jumped him and finished in first place. Gatchell, who had never done any training for a race of this nature was in the second row at the start and trailed along in the rear for a few laps. He then passed two of the visiting runners and in a driving finish nearly caught Donahue at the tape. Reed's time was 1 min. 22 2-5 sec and Gatchell's 1 min. 25 3-5 sec. To the surprise of everybody in attendance Gatchell's time was better than the first man in the second heat so that the final result was the result of the first heat. With two men making fair time in the 600-yard run with but little previous training for this distance Newton now has a team that is capable of scoring in practically every event on the program. Before the season is over it would not be surprising to see the state title come to the wearers of the orange and black.

An instance of good sportsmanship was displayed in the hurdles. The race was run in two heats with the first man to finish to qualify for the finals and the second man to finish to race for the right to be the third entrant. Newton athletes finished first and second, shutting out the visitors. Romaine Cole withdrew from the finals in order to give Robert Angier and Robert Spellman a chance to score points toward their letters. Edgar Warren was the third entry. Cole and Warren are the two best hurdlers in school and Warren could easily have taken the finals but he jogged the distance and let Angier and Spellman fight it out for first and second. Angier nosed out Spellman by a narrow margin at the finish.

In the relay race Coach Enoch sent Romaine Cole, Edgar Warren, Richard Spencer and Donald MacIntyre to the line against B. C. High's best. B. C. High won by about ten yards. In the 1000-yard run Jimmie McCrudden had things all his own way and won by fully three-quarters of a lap over Gilbert Adams of Newton and Francis Rogers of B. C. High. The summary:

35-Yard Dash—Won by Alfred Shea, B. C.; Nathan Pearson, N., second; Fowler Cole, N., third. Time, 1 min. 22 2-5 sec.
35-Yard Low Hurdles—Won by Robert Angier, N.; Robert Spellman, N., second; Edgar Warren, N., third. Time, 1 min. 22 2-5 sec.
300-Yard Run—Won by Fowler Cole, N.; Earlring Bearstoe, N., second; Nathan Pearson, N., third. Time, 47 1-2 min.
600-Yard Run—Won by Malcolm Reed, N.; John Donahue, B. C., second; Creighton Gatchell, N., third. Time, 22 2-5 min.
1000-Yard Run—Won by James McCrudden, N.; Gilbert Adams, N., second; Francis Rogers, B. C., third. Time, 20 2-5 min.
Standing Broad Jump—Won by Robert Angier, N., 42 ft. ½ in.; Milton Fine, N., 40 ft. ½ in.; Stanley Brown, N., 38 ft. ½ in.
Running High Jump—Tie for first between Ebelhane and Fine, both of Newton, height 5 ft. 4 in. Tie for third between Warren, Newton, and Devlin, B. C. High, height 5 ft. 3 in.
Putting 12-Pound Shot—Won by George O'Neill, B. C., distance 42 ft. ½ in.; Gatchell, N., second, distance 42 ft. ½ in.; Edward Ebelhane, N., third, distance 36 ft. ½ in.
Relay Race—Boston College High vs. Newton High, won by Boston College High (John Donahue, Edgar McCormack, Harold Knight, Alfred Shea); Newton High (Romaine Cole, Edgar Warren, Richard Spencer, Donald MacIntyre), second, Time, 2 min. 22 2-5 sec.

"Doc" Fanning, former Newton High trainer, who has entirely recovered from his recent illness, took up his duties as trainer of athletic teams at the DeWitt Clinton school Monday.

Country Day Six Defeated
Monday afternoon at Belmont the Country Day school hockey team was defeated by the Belmont Hill school sextet, 3 to 1, in a well-played hockey game. The ice was very good, making fast play possible, and thrilling moments developed. Belmont led all the way, scoring twice in the opening period. F. Gleason tallied the sole counter for Country Day in the closing minutes of the first session.

Osborne Wins Two Firsts
Exeter's swimming team made an excellent showing in its opening dual meet of the season last Saturday in their overwhelming defeat of the M. I. T. freshmen by a 5 to 0 score. Lloyd Osborne, former Newton High star, was one of two double winners with first in both of his usual events, the 100 and 200-yard swims.

NEWTON MERMEN WIN

Wednesday afternoon the Newton high school swimming team opened its season with an easy victory over the Boston High school of Commerce swimmers in the Newton Y tank by a score of 49 to 10. The Newton mermen won five first places in the six events in addition to the relay and also took six second places and one third. Chapman of Boston Commerce won the 40-yard breaststroke for the visitors' only first place.

The wearers of the orange and black went right into the lead from the start by winning the relay. Captain Harry Lodge gained a three yard advantage over Nicholson, his opponent, while Essen and Thompson crossed the lead five yards each over Semarjian and Donovan. Davidson swimming at anchor added two yards in his race against Chapman to give Newton the race by three-quarters of a length. The time was 1 minute, 31 4-5.

As was expected James Essen won the dive with Robert McGrath of Newton second and Semarjian of the visiting team third.

Captain Lodge and Edgar Davidson had a great race in the 40-yard dash with the latter nosing out his leader by inches. Jasons of Commerce was third. The winner's time was 21 4-5. Chapman of Commerce took the 40-yard breaststroke race by a substantial margin over Scott and Chapin of Newton who tied for second. Chapman's time was 29 3-5.

For the second time in the meet Davidson defeated Lodge when he beat the visitor in the 100-yard swim by a narrow margin. Davidson's time was 1 min. 11 1-5. Michelson of Commerce took third.

Wales and Perry of Newton had a nip and tuck race in the 40-yard backstroke with the former winning the decision in 31 seconds flat. Donovan of the visiting team made his first appearance in the meet and finished better than third if he had got ten a better turn at the half-way mark.

In the 200-yard swim it was another case of a race between the two Newton entries which in this event were George Hutchinson and William Berry. Hutchinson won by about ten yards with Perry taking second with nearly twice that distance between him and Snowden of Commerce who added the visitors' tenth point.

Newton's next meet will be held next Thursday afternoon at Cambridge against the Rindge Technical school mermen.

NEWTON TAKES NEEDHAM

Last Friday night the Newton High School basketball team broke into the win column by taking the Needham High School team into camp, 25 to 16, in the Needham court. The Orange and Black quintet played a far better game as a team than in the game with Rindge on the preceding Tuesday, which marked the resumption of basketball as an intercollegiate sport at Newton. At the end of the first half Newton was leading by the scant margin of one point, 15 to 14. Shortly after the whistle opening the second half a speedy attack swept the home team off their feet and assured victory for Newton. Fred Becker, as left forward for Newton, was the high scorer of the game with five baskets from the floor. Spencer deMille, Newton centre, and Newcomb, Needham right forward, were tied with seven points, each catching three from the floor and one from the foul line.

Between the halves the Newton second team defeated Needham's seconds in a fast game. The second team has done well in all of its games and Coach Ray Green feels that inside of another year Newton basketball teams will be worthy opponents of the strongest school quintets. The majority of players on the two squads are juniors and sophomores, there being only three seniors, making the prospects for a fast team the next year or two very good.

SPORT NOTES

Andres and Johnson at Dartmouth
The Dartmouth freshman outfit has two men among the members, for Henry Johnson and Hal Andres are among the leading candidates for the defense positions. Johnson when at Newton was an extraordinarily keen player, and teamed well with Stone, who has deserted his former running mate and is playing his old position for Bowdoin. Andres was the key-stone of the Newton defense last year, and was ranked as one of the most efficient men before the nets that Doctor Martin ever had.

NEWTON FAVORITE
OVER BROCKTON

The Newton high track team will meet strong opposition tomorrow afternoon on the local track when it opposes the Brockton high runners, who were defeated by Brookline high last Saturday at Brockton by the narrow margin of three points. While Newton high is the favorite it is expected that the various events will be settled by close decisions. The work displayed by Captain Mal Reed in the 600-yard run and Gatchell in the 600 and shotput last week increases Newton's strength as a team. It is now well-balanced in every event.

Farrell and Oulette of Brockton will be the two visitors whom Romaine and Fowler Cole will oppose in the dash with the local boys having turned in the better times for the event. Doherty of Brockton won the 300-yard run over Badarraco of Brockton and he is expected to push Fowler Cole to a new record in this event. Cole has it in him to lower the present figures and it would not be surprising to see them fall tomorrow. With Reed and Gatchell in the 600-yard run a line will be obtained on the meeting a week hence between the pair and Record of Brookline. Comparing the times of the 600-yard runs in the two meets last Saturday it should be a great race. As usual Jimmie McCrudden should have little opposition in his favorite event the 1000-yard run. The fight for second place between Adams of Newton and Bajoninos of Brockton should be close. Clifford of Brockton will be Romaine Cole's closest competitor in the hurdles.

In the field events Newton overshadowed Brockton. If Gatchell can duplicate his heaves of over 40 feet in the shot put Newton is assured of five points in this event. Kinraide and Fine should pick up first and second in the broad jump and Ebelhane, Fine and Warren should clean up in the high jump. Newton should also win the relay if the strongest team is sent in to run by Coach Enoch.

CANTABS WIN IN SECOND HALF

Cambridge High and Latin school added another victory to its basketball string by defeating the Newton High quintet Tuesday afternoon on the Newton floor, 35 to 16. For the first half of the contest the battle was nip and tuck, with the visitors having but a three-point advantage when half-time was called. The score at that time was 15 to 13. The third period opened with Newton holding the visitors for several minutes before Captain Davis and his mates could get their attack going. When they did the Newton defense could not stop them and the score mounted rapidly in the Cantabs' favor. In the second half Cambridge outscored Newton 20 to 4.

Captain Davis of Cambridge was the star of the game, his repeated dashes down the center of the court, dribbling the ball, often ending in a basket from a close-up shot. Davis tallied nine points, as did Katz at left guard.

Clancy at right forward was close behind this pair with eight points, while Cowdy, Cambridge star right forward, was being held to two baskets from the floor and one from a foul. Spencer deMille at center was Newton's high scorer with two field goals and two successful free tries.

Previous to the game the first squad elected William Pearce as captain of the quintet.

SPORT NOTES

Pickard Playing at Hebron
Bob Pickard, the one time pitcher for Newton teams, is playing hockey for Hebron Academy in Maine this winter, and doing a fine job from all reports. He is covering the left side of the defense, and shot two goals in the first team on the Maine schedule. He never had any real hockey training at Newton, but his natural ability and fine skating have brought him to the eyes of the Hebron coach and since then he has been making steady improvement.

Hoyt the Star at Williams
The Williams hockey team this year, led by Bill Blaney of Waban, has two other Newton men on the team, for Jimmy Hoyt of West Newton and Dwight Shepherd of Newton proper are playing on the sextet. Hoyt made good as a freshman and then saw his laurels fade because of illness, and he went back this year determined to make good. In the Dartmouth game the players all said that Hoyt was one of the best wings that they had seen in action for a long time.

Lingham and Vaughn Clash
In the recent overwhelming defeat of Brown before the onrush of the remarkable team that Dick Vaughn, captain at Yale, the fact that Lingham and Vaughn, who used to play against each other at Crystal Lake, were opposing each other was an interesting side light. Vaughn scored three of his team's tallies, and was the outstanding player on the ice for the Blue. The best feature of his play is the fact that he always is playing for the team and seldom for himself. Lingham was the best player on the ice for either team, and his general play was such that the Yale coach said that he was as good a defense player as he had seen for three years, or since the passing of Owen as a college player.

Two Newtonites on Cushing Ice Squad
On the Cushing Academy hockey squad are two local youths. James Wells is captain and centre ice while Charlie Diman of Newton is fighting for one of the regular defense positions. The Cushing schedule opens on Saturday when the team meets Vermont Academy.

B. U. Tops Bowdoin
The Boston University team, "Gyp" Lawless of West Newton, captain, with a perfect passing attack, defeated a fighting Bowdoin College sextet, of which Dick Thayer, former Newton star, was captain and centre ice while Charlie Diman of Newton is fighting for one of the regular defense positions. The Cushing schedule opens on Saturday when the team meets Vermont Academy.

right defense and a brother of the Polar Bear captain, appeared in a black derby as a luck piece. He carried the brunt of the Bowdoin attack, and was the best player on the visiting team. Dick Thayer scored both of his team's goals, one on a brilliant individual dash and the other on a long shot.

Phelps Scores in Dive
Charlie Phelps of the Williams College swimming team finished third in the dive in the dual meet with Union College at Williamstown last Saturday which Williams won by the close score of 37 to 34.

Last Saturday in the annual Boston Y. M. C. A. open handicap track meet an All-Star relay team of which Tom Clausen ran at anchor, defeated the Boston College team in a two-lap event.

The Newton High mermen will swim the Huntington school swimming team in a dual meet at the Boston Y tank on Feb. 9th.

Our Lady High Wins Again
The basketball team of Our Lady High school added another victory to its long string last Friday afternoon by overwhelming the Revere Catholic High school quintet, 54 to 11, on the local court. Burke, with 17 points, McLean with 15 and Lane with 14 were the outstanding local players.

Lincoln Wins Dash
Hamilton Lincoln, former Country Day school swimming star, is now a member of the Yale freshman swimming team. In the meet with Andover on Wednesday at Andover, which the Blue yearlings won, he won the 50-yard dash and swam at anchor on the winning relay team.

Exeter Blanks Hebron
Captain Ben Crosby and his Exeter hockey mates blanked the Hebron academy sextet Wednesday afternoon on the Exeter rink, 3 to 0.

Lingham Scores for Harvard
One of those unusual incidents of scoring for an opponent occurred in the Brown-Harvard hockey game at the Arena Wednesday night which the Crimson won 7 to 0. Phil Lingham, in attempting to block a pass made by a Harvard player, deflected the puck into his own net. Earlier in the game another Brown player was the unfortunate victim of a similar play.

Yale Overwhelms Bowdoin
Captain Dick Vaughn and his high scoring Yale hockey team swamped the Bowdoin college six Wednesday at New Haven, under an 8 to 0 score. Vaughn tallied three of the eight counters. Win Howland at goal for the Polar Bears was peppered all through the game as the Eli cohorts repeatedly broke through the outer defense.

Williams on Short End
The Williams hockey team was on the short end of a 1 to 0 count in its game with Amherst, Wednesday at Williamstown. The sole counter came in the final period when Lord Jeffs staged a fast passing attack.

Newton Centre Finishes Second
In the Class A series of the Mass. Squash Racquets Association race which ended Saturday, the Newton Centre team, composed of R. F. Stuart, A. R. Hoyt, W. H. Rice, R. C. Cooke, and R. C. Bray, finished in second

TRUE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

The Christmas work done by the Newton Welfare Bureau during the recent Holiday Season was most satisfactory and worthwhile because of the unusually large number of homes into which they were able to bring Christmas cheer. Everybody was most generous.

$438 was given to the Bureau to help spread Merry Christmas throughout the City of Newton. 98 families received Christmas dinners; 91 gifts of new warm underwear were made; 412 children received toys; 8 families received gifts of coal; 73 children were invited to Christmas parties, the invitations coming through the Bureau.

There were, of course, many people who helped spread this large amount of Christmas spirit. It was done in several ways. Certain organizations, churches, and persons assumed full responsibility for the whole Christmas of individual families giving a tree, dinner gifts to each member of the family, in some instances also giving coal. Others, who did not attend to details first hand, gave the Bureau money which was spent in providing for families not already taken care of. Four groups gave the Christmas parties to which 73 children were invited—the Newtonville Woman's Club, West Newton Women's Educational Club, West Newton Community Service Club, and Newton Centre Unitarian Society. Some of the Girl Scouts assisted in the packing of the toys, and this was of course a great help because it means a great deal of time and effort. The Rotary Club also gave great assistance in collecting the toys from the schools in Newton and delivering them all over the city to the families. Mr. Archibald Osgood of the Garden City Laundry, through the Rotary Club, offered the use of a truck and the services of two men to do this work. How well such giving at Christmas expressed the true Christmas Spirit, especially when nowadays we hear so much about "useless giving!"

All the families to whom dinners were given were first checked up in the Clearing House of the Newton Central Council. This prevented one family from receiving several dinners while others received none.

The following groups and individuals either planned Christmas for the families themselves or gave money that enabled the Newton Welfare Bureau to do the work, and it is to them that the Newton Welfare Bureau and the families are deeply indebted.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER D. R.

The regular meeting of the Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., was held Wednesday, January 11th at the home of Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs, 155 Hunnewell avenue, Newton.

The Regent, Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, was in the chair. Following the transaction of the usual business, Mrs. Alexander M. Ferris, the honorary Regent of the Chapter, in a few well chosen words, presented to Mrs. Charles Wilbur Wright (Miss Sarah Farnham Bagley) a gift of gold as a wedding present from the Chapter. Mr. and Mrs. Wright were married on January 1st and will make their home in Woolwich, Me.

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, vice-Regent, then presented Miss Dora Cappuccio, who opened the program by playing instrumental selections. The Chapter was much interested in a brief talk given by Miss Ruth Forsberg, who for 19 years has been connected with the Immigrants Home in East Boston. Here girls from almost every country in the world who seek admission to this country have entrusted their matrimonial affairs to her capable hands. Knowing 7 languages enables Miss Forsberg to listen to their stories and help them with their problems. She locates missing bridegrooms, buys trousseaus and wedding rings and arranges suitable ceremonies at the Immigrants' Home. Every girl landing on our shores is safeguarded in every way so that no reflection can be cast upon her morals. As far as Miss Forsberg knows, only a couple of these immigrant marriages have failed to be lasting.

Owing to the illness of the Rev. Raymond Lang, who had been announced to lecture on "An Ideal American Soldier in Peace Time," the Rev. Dr. Percy T. Edrop, rector of All Saints Church in Belmont, was introduced as the chief speaker of the afternoon. Dr. Edrop is an ex-service man and a most interesting and pleasant speaker and told much that was worth while about conditions in the United States at the present time.

GIRL SCOUTS

The week of January 15th has been observed by Girl Scout troops of Newton as well as the rest of the United States as Juliet Lowe Memorial Week. At each troop meeting contributions were made to the Juliet Lowe Memorial Fund, which will be used to promote Girl Scouting and Girl Guiding throughout the world. Each patrol in each troop told about some interesting thing that she has learned of the life of Mrs. Lowe, and each Captain talked to her troop for a few minutes about the life, ideals and accomplishments of their Founder.

Mrs. Lowe was a native of Savannah, Georgia. In 1886 she was married to an Englishman, William Lowe of Warwickshire, England. During the years that she lived in England, she became very friendly with Sir Robert Baden-Powell and his wife, the founders of Boy Scouting and Girl Guiding in England. On her return to this country in 1912 she formed the first troop of Girl Scouts in America, at her home in Savannah. At that time she said that she would die happy if the organization grew to number 5000 girls. At the time of her death on January 18, 1927, there were over 150,000 Girl Scouts in the United States and more than 12,000 in Massachusetts alone.

To her was given, before she died, the fulfillment of her heart's desire. For years she had dreamed of an International Sisterhood held together by the bond of Girl Scouting. When the International Conference of Girl Scout and Girl Guide Leaders gathered in American from all corners of the earth in the Spring of 1926, her dream was fulfilled. That this fulfillment of her dream may never be lost the Girl Scouts of the United States are establishing this fund in her memory to carry on the work of the International Girl Scout movement.

Girl Scout Troop News

Troops 1 and 22 of Newtonville are busily hemming 70 dish towels for the Newton Hospital. The material for the towels was given to them by the Women's Club of Newtonville.

Troop 24, of Waban took advantage went on a skating party at the Braeburn Country Club on Thursday afternoon. Afterwards they met at Captain Wright's house for hot cocoa around the fire.

Thirty or more delegates to the Girls' Conference at Arlington met together at the Girl Scout Headquarters in Newtonville on the afternoon of Thursday, January 5th, to discuss the coming conference and the parts that they should take in it. Jane McGregor of Troop 10, Newtonville, was chairman of the meeting.

It is with the deepest regret that the Girl Scouts of Newton learn of the death of Jane Carver of Newton Highlands. She was a true Girl Scout and a loyal member of Troop 11, who will be sincerely missed by all her comrades.

Y. W. C. A. ANNUAL MEETING

The Y. W. C. A. finance campaign will be held January 22nd to 28th and the sum necessary for maintenance for this is $8100. The preliminary work of this campaign is now under way and the friends and contributors of former years are being approached by letter for their gifts. A group of women, under the leadership of Mrs. Braham, are being asked to work in some centers of the city, and local groups in Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Abundant are being organized. Since the Association has been from the first done work in Watertown several individuals in that city are interesting themselves in this maintenance fund.

Last year the Association failed to raise the total amount of this budget, and so drastic cuttings in both work and equipment had to be effected. It is very essential this year not only that the equipment be made adequate, but that new groups of girls be organized in parts of the city where a need for work is already recognized. Since the Association is obliged to start the year 1928 with such a serious handicap in funds, the request for the full amount of $8100 is most urgent. It is thus earnestly desired that all those contributors and members who have received letters and publicity concerning the work shall contribute both promptly and generously in order that we may not only continue, but extend the work for women and girls in Newton.

STONE INSTITUTE AND NEWTON HOME FOR AGED PEOPLE

Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the above-named corporation will be held at the Home, 277 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls, on Saturday, February 4, 1928, at 3 p. m., for the following purposes:

First—To fix the number of directors and the quorum thereof, for the ensuing year.

Second—To elect officers and directors for the ensuing year.

Third—To transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

Directors' meeting at 2:30 p. m.

C. A. R. MEETS

"Old Ironsides" Society, C. A. R., held its monthly meeting Saturday, January 7. The study of the Revolution was continued, with papers on the lives of British and American officers and a few events. Janet Greene gave a paper on Lord Cornwallis, Alicia Jones on John Burgoyne, William Macauley on Gen. Charles Lee, Barbara Eaton on Battle of St. Leger's Army in the Forest and how Washington prevented Burgoyne having reinforcements, Fredricka MacVicar on Burgoyne's Surrender. All present told what they could about Philip Schuyler, Gen. Herkimer, John Stark, Joseph Brant and the Battle of Bennington. Mr. John E. Cox told of the anniversary of Bennington, where he went with the S. A. R. this past summer. Bradford Greene played the piano and Elizabeth Chapman played a piano solo and Barbara Rodman "Adoration" by Borowski. Mrs. E. W. Littlefield was chairman of the hostesses, and Mrs. Walter Jones helped the young members to have a good time by playing games and telling their stories.

February 20 the senior members are to celebrate the second birthday of the society with a dance.

A group of the members went to the Navy Yard and presented Rear Admiral Andrews with a check for $50, profits from the Thanksgiving party. A visit to the rope walks and battlement made the morning a most interesting one.

INSTALLED

Mrs. A. E. Cunningham, Tent 2, D. of V. of C. W., held their annual installation in G. A. R. Hall, Masonic Building, Tuesday evening, January 16. Installing Officer was Past Dept. Pres. Helen Phinney, assisted by her staff.

Newly elected officers were President, Eliza Malloy; senior vice-president, Nina Lovejoy; junior vice-president, Arabelle Francis; chaplain, Etta Soules; treasurer, May G. Kidder; council member No. 1, Susan Wetherbee, No. 2, Elizabeth Sheridan, No. 3, Nellie Morrissey; patriotic instructor, Lenora Kerr; secretary, Nellie Osborne; pres. co., Matilda Cauldwell; guide, Mary Barry; guard, Gertrude Beckwith; assistant guard, Fannie Asbel; musician, Ella Curtis; color bearer, No. 1, Helen Malloy, No. 2, Margaret Kerrivan, No. 3, Blanche McGowan, No. 4, Sadie Weston.

Com. Mick of Post 62, G. A. R., Past Dept. Com. Wetherbee, Senior Vice Com. Boyd, Junior Vice Com. Stoddard, Comrade Oliver and Comrade Osborne, all of Post 62, gave a short talk and Senior Vice Com. Libbey of Camp 31, S. of U. V. of Civil War, gave a few remarks. Past Com. Cauldwell and Putnam of Camp 31 were present. Com. Wentworth of Camp 31 was unable to be there, but Com. Cauldwell gave Com. Wentworth's Greeting to Tent No. 2.

Refreshments were served. Tent 2 Pres. Malloy, presented in behalf of the Tent, a pretty gift to the installing officer, Helen Phinney, and installing guide, Florence Hutchins, and a gold Past President's badge to retiring President Francis Cahill. An enjoyable evening was spent by those present.

LODGES

Waban Lodge, I. O. O. F., on Wednesday evening, January 11, celebrated the birthday of Thomas Willey, the founder of Odd Fellowship in America at Baltimore, Md., April 26, 1819. The entertainment was the reading of the Proclamation of the Grand Sire and a short concise history of Thomas Willey by the Recording Secretary, Past Grand Charles F. Dow. Past Perlin gave many Oriental tricks of great merit. Mr. Sam Tyack, who has given many broadcasts over the radio, rendered several songs and monologues, Charles W. Dow accompanied. Past Grand E. A. Locke gave a reading.

Summer P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., conferred the Rebekah degree upon several candidates on Monday evening, January 9. The president of the Rebekah Assembly, Mrs. McFarlane, and Board of Assembly officers were present, as was District Deputy President Emily G. McLearn and suite. A fine supper was served under the supervision of Katherine Vining.

Garden City Encampment, I. O. O. F., visited Liberty Encampment at Allston on Monday evening, January 9. The Royal Purple degree was conferred before the Grand Officers.

Clan MacGillivray No. 176, Newton, Mass., at their last meeting in Bay State Hall, Centre street, decided to have a winter party, along with Lady Mary Spears Lodge, No. 163, Daughters of Scotia, on Monday, January 16, at 8:30 p. m. All those of Scotch birth or descent should come and get acquainted. This is the Jubilee year of our order and we are starting a big membership drive. Anyone interested in this order, the officers will be pleased to give you the necessary information.

D. R.

Sarah Hill Chapter, D. R., will hold a musicale this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Adelbert Fernald on Elmhurst road, Newton.

THE ROISIN DHU CLUB

The Roisin Dhu Club will conduct a Social and Dancing party on next Tuesday evening, January 24th, in Bay State Hall on Centre street, this city. There will be both Gaelic and modern dancing under the direction of Joseph Maher. The entire proceeds of the dance will be devoted to a worthy charity.

On the committee are the Misses Kathryn Roche, Bessie Jordan, Mary C. Coulston, Nellie O'Connor, Mollie McDonnell, Anna J. Jordan, Agnes Murphy, Mary J. Jordan, Elizabeth Daly, and Mrs. Ellen McDonnell and Miss Mary Sands.

EDITORIAL

The inaugural addresses of Mayor Childs improve with age. There is much to commend, and little to criticize in the address he made to the new city government last week. The mayor gives considerable space to the matter of schools, and evidently takes pride in the accomplishments of the past year in the matter of new buildings. The recommendation that the Playground Commission have control of school playgrounds will meet with the approval of everyone. It ought to have been done long ago. The proposition for a night inspection of school buildings for fire protection is not so sound. Just why it is not possible for our not overworked police force to make this inspection as part of the night duties has evidently not been considered. The two firemen suggested for this purpose could be given more important duties elsewhere. The proposition to give the Building Department absolute control over school buildings and their maintenance has been considered by many past city governments. There are sound arguments on both sides of the question. There is much common sense in the recommendation regarding a new fire signal system and a new fire station at Newton Corner. Both these improvements look towards a lower rate for fire insurance for all our people. The recommendation for more open areas for public purposes is in line with the new attitude towards real estate development, and would be most advantageous for a city like Newton.

We are glad to note the attitude of the Mayor toward a new City Hall. That improvement can easily wait for action in the future. All in all it is an address well worth the perusal of every taxpayer of the city. The chairmanship of the school committee changes from Hutchins to Hutchinson. The nonchalant manner in which the Claims and Rules Committee of last year disposes of the apartment house situation by saying that they find no popular interest in the matter beyond a few storekeepers, who hope to profit by the increase of population which would follow apartment house building, is not creditable to the broad-mindedness of the committee. We do not advocate the building of apartment houses in all parts of the city, but there is ample room for an apartment house zone in every village which would allow young married people as well as older persons who have abandoned housekeeping an opportunity to still retain or to make their homes in the city. There is a real need in this direction, notwithstanding the automatic dictum of the committee.

Congratulations to Auburndale and Newton Centre on their new library buildings. These villages have set a standard which all other parts of the city should emulate.

calling attention to the gifts of an electric clock, pictures and statues as well as the generosity of the architects and firms engaged in the construction of the building.

The keys of the building were then turned over by Mr. D. J. Ferguson, the builder to Mr. Brown representing the architects and then to Mr. Fulton who in turn passed them to Mayor Childs, through Dr. Andrews, Mayor Childs then accepted the building in behalf of the city, complimenting the committee and the village of Newton Centre in his usual eloquent manner.

We are indebted to the architect Mr. James H. Ritchie for the following description of the building.

The materials used are concrete foundations, selected waterstruck brick and the exterior walls, variegated slate roof of graduated lengths, upper floors floor construction partly fireproof and partly wood joists carried on steel.

There are two major adult reading rooms, large delivery hall, and a children's room, all on the first floor. There will be no stack room in the building, but both the principal reading rooms and the delivery hall are equipped with bookcases seven feet high, and these with some special bookcases back of the librarian's desk provide space for between 6500 and 7000 volumes.

The children's room at the rear of the building is provided with an art entrance and exit so that access to this room may be had without passing through the main library.

Linoleum floors are used throughout. The main reading rooms and reference room are treated with beam ceilings, finished in a fumed chestnut. The ceiling of the reference room is entirely of chestnut and treated in stenciled color.

James H. Ritchie and Associates are the architects, and D. A. Ferguson of Newton Centre the general contractor.

A thorough physical examination, in the fall of each year, of all the Newton school children, including the Junior High, has been the past four years, under the auspices of the Health Fund, from Seal Sales. This has proved to be of great value in the school health program, but it has required the use of a considerable portion of the fund that is needed for the extension of the preventive measures for the under par children which these examinations disclose; particularly for the enlargement of the summer camp group. The Board of Health, however, fully realizes the value of these examinations and is making provision in its budget for 1928 to carry the same as a part of its organized school program. This will allow a very appreciable increase in the number of children who can be given summer camp life, and will enable the length of their stay at the camps to be longer, and that is often very important.

Intensive follow-up efforts will be made, as in the past, in close co-operation with the School and Health Departments, to help those needing advice and relief, and assistance in the struggle to build up—for the chief aim of the whole program is preventive.

The Welfare Bureau in the course of its daily contacts finds unexpected opportunities to help in this work of relief and prevention; and a portion of the fund will be reserved for such use. It is hoped that the sum total of this campaign will be the past figures of previous years, which have shown gratifying increase from year to year.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

When the time limit for the introduction of new business last Saturday, some 1200 measures had been filed for consideration at this session.

Six bills affecting various features of the criminal law were filed by Representative Luitwiler of Newton on petition of District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell of Middlesex County.

The proposed measures include "an act to relieve the condition of jurors unable to reach an agreement," another to permit the taking of testimony in criminal cases of witnesses who are unable to respond to summonses duly served, and a third to define the meaning of "conviction" and to facilitate the proof of convictions in connection with the admission of a record to affect the credibility of a witness.

The fourth extends the scope of the statute defining perjury, while the fifth bill provides for an increase in the penalty for assault upon police officers. The sixth measure amends the law to protect automobile owners against unlawful takings regardless of the technicality of whether the car is operated on a public way or not.

A bill for a Greater Boston was filed by W. J. McDonald.

The measure, which is along the lines of some of the Greater Boston bills which have been before the Legislature in the past contains several new features, however. The municipalities to be included under it as "Boston," are Arlington, Belmont, Boston Brookline, Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Milton, Newton, Quincy, Revere, Saugus, Somerville, Waltham, Watertown, Winchester, Winthrop and Woburn.

Each city and town would "have and hold its own self-government as it now or hereafter may exist, except only the police and fire departments."

The unified police system to be headed by three commissioners appointed by the Governor for terms of five years and a salary of $8000 each, would take over the Metropolitan District Police, the Faneuil Hall Market and all other market police and the departments of the municipalities mentioned. The commissioners would have authority to appoint superintendents for each division, together with other officers and men, except that no division should be larger than was such department on June 1, 1906.

The unified fire system would also be headed by three commissioners similarly appointed and for similar terms, with salaries of $6000 each. The powers of the fire commissioners would be along the same general lines as the police commissioners.

The city of Newton is a petitioner for the extension of the Metropolitan parkway from Brookline through this city to the Watertown line, to require gasoline permits to expire on May 1st, for authority to take additional land at the "triangle" Commonwealth avenue and Walnut street, and for amendment to the law relative to traffic regulations.

Hearings have already begun on many measures of minor importance. Mr. Armand C. Bang of Newton spoke in favor of his bill for the establishment of a division of preventive medicine in the Department of Public Health.

Mr. Bang said the money spent by the people of the United States in expenses incident to sickness and death equals the Federal Government's expenditures, $3,000,000,000 annually.

In Massachusetts, he said, the number of preventable deaths each year reaches 16,000, while there are 32,000 bedridden, and the monetary loss totaled $115,000,000.

The proposition was opposed by John W. Downs, representing insurance interests, on the ground that if it were adopted on the scale suggested by Mr. Bang it would call for an expenditure of some $60,000,000, this to come from the employers and employees.

The sole opposition to the plan of Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the Division of Metropolitan Planning, for the construction of three missing links to the circumferential highway was uttered by Ephial Adlow, special counsel for the city of Boston. Hearing was before the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs. The plan calls for the expenditure of $1,125,000, one-half to be paid by cities and towns in the metropolitan parks district and the other half from the highway fund.

Mr. Adlow declared himself in opposition to all the projects included in the bill, which he described as an "omnibus bill." It's the old story, said he, of burling enough propositions together under one bill to gather enough votes to give it respectable support.

The idea of "burling troubles" and finding a solution for all of them didn't appeal to Mr. Adlow. "I haven't yet seen the man who could bunch troubles and step in overnight and solve them."

Previous to Mr. Adlow's appearance there had been unanimity on the part of many speakers as to the desirability of the general plan and its various parts.

Mr. Harriman explained the construction proposed. One would connect the Newburyport Turnpike with the northern artery at a cost of $450,000. Another would extend the Alewife Brook Parkway at a cost of $510,000, and the third would connect Commonwealth avenue with the Blue Hills Parkway at a cost of about $150,000.

A social hour followed with refreshments served by the hostess.

Army Mask Used

The army gas mask has been found good for use on locomotives moving through railroad tunnels, but it does not protect against carbon monoxide gas found in mines or gases found in burning buildings.

"Wool" From Dogs

"Wool" obtained from Samoyed dogs is believed to have commercial possibilities. During the war in Europe it was woven into cloth, from which garments were made.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

"I have thought a good deal about the 300th birthday party that Newton is going to celebrate in 1930," writes T. O. C., "and would like to get your ideas as to the form. You told us in the Graphic that it should be engineered by the people and we should show ourselves at our best, but you didn't go into details. Can you and will you?"

Naturally, when I read this I was in such haste to oblige T. O. C. that I almost slipped on the rug in my rush to the typewriter. To be consulted, even by one who thinks I know him so well that I will recognize his initials, is an honor of which I am duly conscious.

Therefore, let me set forth my firm belief that the principal difficulty will be that of eliminating suggestions. Whenever a tercentenary is proposed in any community the whole population is afflicted with a rush of ideas to the head. On one hand is a group that believes nothing would be more fitting than an outdoor pageant. They will suggest the selection of a hillside that offers plenty of vacant land as the site of an open-air theatre, and plan something in which there are dances by girls carrying garlands of flowers, a tomahawk march by college freshmen dressed as Indians, and a final tableau with all the players standing in a mass while varicolored lights are thrown upon them from different parts of the grounds. Such things as these have been known to cause a loss of not more than $1000, but that is the minimum. The deficit is usually much higher, but the more the affair runs behind on expenses the more successful it is believed to have been artistically, and the question of money does not matter.

Of course another group of citizens will want a program of outdoor exercises at which local and imported orators will be heard, if one manages to get near enough to the platform. The system followed is often like this: A stage is set up at the end of a field. It is decorated with red, white and blue bunting and provided with a canvas top that completely shelters the occupants from the elements. In front of the stage are placed 700 or more chairs to be occupied by the general public, those holding tickets to have first choice and any seats remaining vacant within five minutes of the beginning to be available to those without tickets.

There is only one level of chairs, of course, so that you can't expect to see much from the back or even the middle rows. Usually there is one speaker whose voice has carrying power, but he is apt to keep his head down so that the whole program of speech-making becomes inaudible to most of the assembly.

Then the day starts cloudy. Everybody comes prepared for rain, and it "burns off hot," and then there is much sweating. The torture is increased by the reading of an original poem of thirty-seven stanzas.

All the utterances from the platform, no matter how clear and loud, are bound to be drowned by the shouting of motor horns in the distance. The only people who sit through it without complaint are the musicians who receive million wages, and who would rather have a job calling for a few numbers than march around the town in band uniforms.

No, T. O. C., I can't help you much, unless you decide to celebrate Newton's birthday with a surprise party at which anything goes.

It's been a long time since I have read a better inaugural address than that of Pres. Harold Moore of the Newton Business Associates. I am glad the Graphic printed it, but I am not surprised, as it was brief, snappy and very much to the point.

He did not indulge in the customary hokum of a presiding officer, but put his thought into a small space, which, after all, is most effective.

He set forth six recommendations which, as I look at it, are intended to prove as beneficial to all Newton citizens as to the business men themselves. If there is anything in a city to keep local affairs where they should be in the public mind, it is the energies of organized business men directed at public improvements. They are on the ground and can remind the Aldermen when any cause appears neglected. I am certain they will get things done. How much more effective is a village group than a cumbersome city-wide body with such a variety of interests that concentration is almost impossible.

It is seldom that we find anything nice said about filling stations. When there is an instance of this kind it should be given as wide publicity as possible. I mean, if we want to be fair about such matters. Now then a story in the Town Crier tells of the installation of a number of arc lights in Newton Centre square. The writer states they are needed to illuminate "blind spots which have been entirely unlighted every night after the various gasoline station lights have been turned off."

As far as I can observe this is an admission that the filling stations have helped furnish the much needed illumination for our thoroughfares. They should at least receive credit for it, since Newton is almost universally known as one of the most poorly lighted cities in the country.

I can solemnly declare under oath that I have no interest in any filling station or properties desired therefor; that I haven't anything to sell in this line, and don't own any oil stock. At the same time I am not sure that it isn't a mistake to always cry down the presence of filling stations. There are places where a filling station is far preferable to a one-story business block, and yet residents would shout their protest against the former and meekly submit to the building of the latter.

Filling stations, in my opinion, have left open many places, particularly at the intersection of streets. Had the owners of the land erected buildings there would not have been so clear a vision provided for drivers. If some kind of a commercial enterprise is to occupy a building site why not a filling station that is well in from the street. Certainly they are designed not to be offensive. Of course, some are a trifle palatial, but that doesn't trouble me.

No, I am by no means so hard set against filling stations as I have been in the past, and furthermore I do not expect any discount or other privileges than those enjoyed by other casual customers.

I am looking forward to what promises to be an interesting experiment. Like you and others I have heard people complain about the character of motion pictures. "Why do they always have the same kind of stories?" somebody asks. "Why don't they get away from the routine?"

I wonder if the people who say these things are in earnest. No doubt they think they are, but when the test comes do they meet it? Within a period of weeks there is to be shown a Newton moving picture which should put them on record one way or another.

It is not my purpose to disclose the name of this play or many other advanced facts, so I cannot be charged with writing a press notice. I shall say, however, that it is vastly different in plot from a majority of pictures. There is no mystery, no crime, no radicalism and nothing high-brow. It is an attempt to "educate up" the average movie audience.

It is a picture about Americans and their love of country. But inasmuch as there is no maiden in distress, and nobody "gets married," and there is no villain, no sex problem or no extravagant heroics, I have my doubts as to its popular appeal.

As I said, it will be interesting to learn how deeply impressed Newton audiences will be by splendid photography, excellent acting and a story that does not contain much or custard pie assaults.

"We have no reason to complain about the weather this winter," said my friend the general contractor. "That means you're more than satisfied." I suggested, "Tell me why."

"I don't recall a winter like this since I became a contractor, and that's some few years. You see, we figure on bad weather and make all our plans accordingly. We allow so many months for this or that piece of work and so much for labor and so much for delay and so forth. The winter has given us the grandest break we have ever had."

"There was one large building which we did not expect to have finished until Spring, as we assumed that the snow and severe cold would make it impossible to complete the work before that time. This very job is already finished, even to grading the grounds."

"Then the ground isn't frozen?" I ventured.

"No, and that and other advantages make us contractors feel pretty well pleased with ourselves."

OLD BELL REMOVED

Monday afternoon the huge fire alarm bell was taken down from the tower of Eliot Block by employees of C. Bowen of Boston. These experts rigged a tackle 125 feet above the street and quickly lowered the 2240 pound bell to a waiting truck. The bell will be stored at the yard of Engine 1 house until a new fire station is built at Newton Corner. It is probable that this much needed station will be erected this year.

The big bell was purchased by the city 40 years ago after the old Eliot Church had been destroyed by fire and the bell there destroyed; the church bell having been used to sound the fire alarm. The present bell was located for many years in the old Armory building at the corner of Washington street and Centre place. When the old Armory was torn down the bell was removed to Eliot Block, where it has since been located. If purchased today it would cost about $2500.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Only one out of four travelers who journey north to see the midnight sun witness the phenomenal sight. It is said, however, during his Norwegian travels, Prof. William Howell Reed not only saw the sun at midnight, but has the pictures to show. On Sunday afternoon, January 22, at 3:30, he will give an illustrated lecture at the Children's Museum of Boston.

Since the program is especially arranged for boys and girls above the fifth grade, admission will be by tickets which may be secured free at the Museum at any time during the week, or on Sunday before the lecture.

DECEMBER HEALTH REPORT

Fifty-four persons died in Newton last month—32 males and 22 females. Three of these deaths were not from natural causes; one man was asphyxiated in his garage by the carbon monoxide exhaust from his automobile, one person committed suicide by shooting, one man was killed as the result of an automobile accident where he suffered a fractured skull. There were seven other sudden deaths, all from natural causes.

Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the will of Augusta M. Stanley, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are hereby required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

NEWTON'S 300TH ANNIVERSARY

History Reveals That First Permanent Settler Came Here In 1639—City Hall Can Be Delayed Until Then

Mayor Childs in his inaugural address recommended that the building of a new city hall may well be postponed for several years until other much needed improvements and public wants will have been obtained. He mentioned more schools and better streets as things which should be attended to before an expensive new city hall will have been built.

In one of his recent inaugural addresses Mayor Childs had recommended that Newton build a new city hall which would be completed in time for the 300th anniversary of the founding of Newton in 1639. Mayor Childs showed good judgment in changing his mind on this matter. Newton needs a new city hall but it does not need one so much as it needs other things, as the Mayor said.

In all probability the Mayor based his reference to a tertiary celebration of the founding of Newton in 1639 on the fact that the official seal of the City of Newton states that this community was founded in 1639. According to the best authorities on the history of Newton, the official seal is quite incorrect as regards the founding of this place. Boston was founded in 1630, ten years after the Pilgrims came across the Atlantic. Cambridge, of which Newton is an offshoot was not settled until 1631, and this place was its first permanent settler in 1639, its first church in 1643, and it was separated from Cambridge and organized as the separate town of Newton in 1679. Cambridge was originally called New Town by its first English settlers and in 1632 it was surrounded by a palisade enclosing about 1000 acres of land, thus making it a fortified settlement.

In 1634 the residents of the then New Town found themselves in such straits because of lack of sufficient meadow land that they petitioned the General Court either for the right to remove to another site or to enlarge their holdings. In accordance with this petition they were given large grants of land to the north and south of their settlement. The lands on the south side of Charles River included nearly all of what later became Brighton and Newton. In 1638 when Harvard College was founded, the General Court authorized that the then New Town be called Cambridge in honor of the old university city in England. The tract of territory on the south side of the Charles which had been given to the settlers of New Town was first known as "the south side of Charles River," or by its Indian name, "Nonantum." About 1654, when religious meetings commenced to be regularly held in the territory south of the Charles, the name "Cambridge Village" was applied to that section. In 1679 when the settlement south of the Charles was separated from Cambridge, by common practice it became known as New Cambridge. Some of the inhabitants did not care for this designation and in 1691 a petition was presented to the General Court which resulted in New Cambridge being renamed New Town. Later the name was altered by common usage to one word—Newton, and in 1766 when Judge Fuller became town clerk, upon his own initiative, and without authority, he commenced to spell the name of the town "Newton." Judge Fuller did not make this change to honor the man who gained lasting fame by watching an apple fall. The old town clerk shortened the real, official name of this place just to save a little time, and perhaps ink. His action was condoned by his fellow Newtonians of that time because they too had pronounced the name Newton rather than New Town. One does not have to open one's jaw so wide to say "ton" as one does to say "town." And in those days it was a common habit to chew tobacco.

In its early days Newton was bounded largely by the Charles River. But Watertown, which was founded one year earlier than the first New Town, or Cambridge, while it agreed to the granting of the territory south of the Charles River to its neighbor, insisting on retaining a strip of land south of the Charles River 200 rods long and 60 rods wide. The first settlers of Watertown built fish weirs along near where the Galen street bridge and the dam now stand. The tidal waters in those days ran beyond Watertown and large schools of fish came to enter fresh water in the spawning season. The fish found this fresh water where Hyde Brook enters near the foot of Nonantum Place, and where Smelt Brook enters west of the present location of Galen street bridge. Smelt Brook is now known as Cold Spring and Laundry Brook.

In recent years Newton has become Boston's most attractive suburb. Land here brings higher prices than in neighboring communities. Some persons in late years have purchased land or properties just over the line in Watertown or Brighton and later were quite disappointed to learn that their newly acquired property was not in Newton, as they had supposed. But in 1844 some persons then residing in Newton thought so little of the price that they started to petition the General Court to set off the northwest corner of the town, known as the Chemical Works, and join it to Waltham. The Waltham Bleachery had been built some years before, as well as the Waltham Manufacturing Company, this country's first large cotton mill. Then, around 1844 the Fitchburg railroad was built, and the inhabitants of that part of Newton, whose business interests were in Waltham, and who, having access to the new railroad, desired to be freed from helping maintain the roads of Newton, started to work for separation from the latter town. They persisted and in 1849 were successful. So Newton lost about 600 acres of land on which later was located the huge watch factory and other big manufacturing plants. Since that time the boundaries of Newton have not changed but the character of Newton has. The least changes have occurred in Upper Falls and Lower Falls, which now, as then, are largely devoted to manufacturing, al-

N. C. SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The second open meeting of the Newton Centre School Association held Wednesday afternoon, January 18th, in Mason School Hall, was one of the most successful in the history of the organization, both from the point of numbers and interest of the audience.

After the president, Mrs. Wm. H. Rye, opened the meeting Mrs. Ryther and her two daughters, pupils at the high school, gave several enjoyable selections for piano, violin and cello. Business reports occupied a very short time, and were followed by a brief outline by Mrs. Kuntz, of the Posture work recently inaugurated in our Newton Schools. A High School pupil demonstrated a few of the corrective exercises that are being given to all children who need them.

The speaker of the afternoon was then introduced. Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott of Winchester, president of the Boston Branch of University Women, a member of the Judge Baker Foundation for Psychological Research, gave a most interesting and stimulating talk on "Treatment of Problem Parents." She said this lecture was the direct outgrowth of one on Problem Children, because of the numerous questions her previous lecture had inspired.

Parents, she said, often do not follow completed directions given by a doctor on the children's physical condition once they seem to be better and are frequently not even concerned with the more subtle and dangerous mental and psychological problems, which should be taken to a specialist along those lines. She gave definite reasons why parents often do not understand their own children. She emphasized the fact that every child desires recognition, and that as a result, parents, not wanting to spoil a child, neglect to give credit to a naturally good child where real credit is due, and do not realize how much praise, and sympathy and often praise, are needed.

Mrs. Abbott blames the parents for being responsible for much that is wrong in child behavior, and cited cases of the following types of parents giving examples in each case.

Ignorant parents—tragic indeed were the lives of their children. Parents too absorbed in their own interests to see those of the child. Parents who fail to give adequate sex instruction.

Parents who are erratic in their discipline, sometimes too severe, sometimes too indulgent. Mothers who nag, whose whims govern their actions.

Incompatible parents where the resulting friction has serious results on the child's mind and heart. A plea was made that punishment inflicted should fit the crime, and never be done in anger, and the audience was told that there was danger from too high standards as well as too low because it is wrong to force a boy or girl into college who has not the emotional stability as well as the mental ability necessary to undertake a college course today.

The dominating type of parent has much to be responsible for in taking away a child's natural initiative, and inviting rebellion against authority.

A few of Mrs. Abbott's words of advice were. Never to mention a child's fault in front of others—it starts a dreaded "inferiority complex," never to minimize a child's assets or make comparisons. Every parent should know his child, his companions, interests, the books he reads and above all she pleaded that parents be reasonable in what is demanded of a child. It is often wise to overlook much and never show him off as it is apt to breed nervousness.

Our speaker ended by advising all brothers to have a hobby a "great dominating interest" as they grow older, to compensate them for the loss of the interest of their children's early absorbing years. They must help the children now and always overcome their faults and just as carefully help them develop their native talents for "being a parent is the greatest job on earth."

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTER

The Stearns School Center held its Annual Meeting on Monday, January 16, at the Bonnar-Atwood studio. Miss Lucy E. Cobb, President of the Association, presided.

The Secretary's report was given by Mrs. George W. Auryansen, who listed the good times of the clubs during the year: the trips to Mrs. Gardner's Palace and the Wayside Inn; her own entertaining of the Mothers' Club at her home, and the Junior Girls' weekend at Manomet.

The Senior Girls welcomed Miss Frances Stebbins as their new leader. The report of the Treasurer, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew was read and accepted.

Miss Emily Reed, the Community Worker, read her report describing the activities of the separate clubs. The Senior Girls' Club took a course in economics; had bowling at the Y.

M. C. A., and gave their annual winter play and a minstrel show. The Junior Girls had parties and trips to interesting places. Most noteworthy of these was a trip to Snow Shoe Cottage. The Colonial Club had its lessons in Italian embroidery, its gymnastics, and a successful dance from the earnings of which they took $50 toward the radio, given in combination with the other clubs and the school. The Mothers' Club had costume parties, a banquet and a picnic. This February they are specializing on kitchens. To anyone wishing to be taken into the confidence of a child, Miss Reed said, an afternoon at Harvard dental is recommended. The depths were plumbed.

Mrs. W. E. Jones read the report of the Nominating Committee. The following officers were elected: President, Miss Lucy E. Cobb. Vice-President, Mrs. Cecil W. Clark. Secretary, Mrs. George W. Auryansen. Treasurer, Mrs. Carl Montanari.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Wallace Leonard of the Salton's Haven. She described her work among women as very picturesque. Beginning her work during the war she has since continued, reaching women in the Navy, Marines, Coast Guard and on merchant ships, touching many nationalities. The only regret of her interested audience was her failure to give more of her personal experiences.

The afternoon ended with tea served to the Directors and many friends of the Center.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc. report that through their office in the past week final papers have been passed whereby the well known Vernon Court Hotel, located at 430 Centre street, corner of Vernon street, has been sold. This property, the only property of its kind in the entire City of Newton, has been conveyed by Israel Ziman of Fall River, to the Putnam Real Estate Trust, who have purchased for investment. The property comprises a six story brick building, the first floor of which is elaborately finished and used as the hotel dining room. There are, besides, about forty apartments, and the entire property is the most valuable apartment house property in the city. The price has not been made public, but it is understood that the valuation is in the neighborhood of $250,000 including the land and buildings. There are 10,900 sq. ft. of land. Mrs. Frederick H. Putnam, formerly a resident of Newton, and who is well known in Brookline as well as Newton, will personally supervise the management of the property.

In the Chestnut Hill district, the Burns' office report that they have sold the two-family frame house located at 51-53 Crosby road to Anna L. Harrington, who buys for investment. The house, which has been completed this past year, contains 12 rooms and 2 baths, together with a two car garage and 6000 sq. ft. of land, is valued at $22,000. Pasquale Cetrona gave title. Burns and Sons have also sold to A. S. Johnson of Beverly, for Edwin O. Smith, the single frame eight room home at 44 Marion street, Wollaston. With the house there is a two car garage and 7,000 ft. of land, and the property is valued at $11,500.

Mr. P. Joseph Collins has sold through the Burns agency a tract of desirable building land on Kendrick street, corner of Magnolia avenue, Newton. There are 31,000 sq. ft. which have been divided into three lots. The value of the property is $10,000.

LODGES

The annual meeting of the Odd Fellows Building Association will take place next Friday evening.

The DeMolay band and the Concord quartet will give a concert in the High School auditorium on Tuesday evening.

Dalhousie Lodge of Masons held an enjoyable ladies' night on Wednesday evening. Heffernan's orchestra, furnished music for dancing which followed an interesting entertainment.

THE WABAN FORUM

Mr. Rufus P. Cushman, chairman of the advisory council of the Young People's Forum of Waban, presented an intelligence and information test at its meeting Sunday in the vestry of the Union Church.

This is an annual event in the Forum calendar and is compiled by Mr. Cushman. It contains questions of political, scientific and musical information, as well as questions on modern and classical literature and questions designed merely to test the intelligence.

Following are some of the questions; the answers will be given at the next meeting of the Forum:

What have the lily, tulip and narcissus in common?

What are the Central American States visited by Lindbergh?

Complete the following: The world is so full of a number of things,

Who legendary hero is associated with Sherwood Forest?

Who is the president of Mexico?

What is the middle initial of Joseph Congdon, the local realist?

What instrument is the term "scuri" connected with?

How is the last name of the man who flew from New York to Paris spelled?

Name the last three Presidents of the United States of America.

Name the representatives sent to Washington by Massachusetts.

Give the full name of the Mayor of Newton.

At the next meeting, Sunday, January 22, in the Union Church vestry, supper will be served at 6:10 and the meeting will be opened at 6:30. There will be a meeting of the executive committee afterwards.

The correct answers to the test will be read and some of the answers given by members.

Following this, the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald will begin a new feature, the Question Box.

Mrs. William A. Wheaton has been elected to fill a vacancy in the advisory council and attended her first meeting last Sunday. Under her direction the supper committee served salad and "pigs-in-blankets".

The advisory council met after the forum to make plans for raising money this year. These will be announced at the next meeting.

Miss Muriel Andrews led the open discussion of the Young People's Forum of Waban on "Brooks We Like and Dislike." In the business meeting Mr. Rufus P. Cushman, senior councilor, announced the "Church Institute of the Union Church of Waban, in which the Forum is to take part.

The first meeting of the "Institute" will be held January 29, in the Union Church. Supper will be served at six. Three conference groups, arranged for different ages and interests, will follow.

The Forum members will join one of these, under the direction of the Forum, in the business meeting.

The Forum invites all young people of high school age in Waban to join them in this Institute. The subscription for the course is $1.25.

Mr. Cushman also announced the beginning of a new type of meeting, the Question Box. At the next meeting, Sunday at 6:10, the questions are to be handled in by the members. These will be answered on the following Sunday.

The meeting next Sunday will consist of the annual Intelligence Test. The discussion of books, led by Miss Andrews, took in novels, travel books, short stories, poetry and plays.

The use of the historical novel, the modern authors and the comparative value of short stories and novels were among the subjects discussed.

The treasurer, Mr. Dunbar Holmes, announced a balance of over one hundred dollars raised by Christmas Card sales.

Next Sunday there will be a meeting of the Council, and on the following Sunday of the Executive Committee to decide upon the Forum's annual entertainment.

MAYOR APPOINTS MR. SAWYER

Charles A. Sawyer, Jr., of 57 Dorset road, Waban, who has been appointed Mayor Childs as a member of the Board of Appeal of the Building Laws, has been a resident of Newton for twenty years. He is 46 years of age and graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1902. From 1909 until 1915 he was superintendent of the George A. Fuller Company, a well known building concern of Boston.

In 1917 he became vice-president of the company and had charge of all building operations conducted by it in the western portion of the United States. His headquarters during this period were at Chicago. Since 1924 he has been president of the Sawyer Construction Company of Boston.

Some of the buildings constructed under his supervision while he was connected with the Fuller Company are—Town Hall, Clinton Mass.; State Capitol, Augusta, Maine; addition to the South Station, Boston; Harvard Freshmen Dormitories, Cambridge; Tower Court, Wellesley College; Omaha Building, St. Paul; Telephone Building, Milwaukee; Pennsylvania Railroad Freight Terminal, Chicago.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

There were 135 patients in the hospital in the week ending January 14. Of these, 42, or not quite one-third, paid as much as the cost of their care.

The boys, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. George L. West, were free patients. The out-patient department treated 109 patients, the eye clinic and there were 10 accident cases. Of the 16 babies born during the week four were girls and 12 were boys.

The social service department made nine calls at the hospital and transferred seven patients in its car.

Founders set rather a record last week. Of the babies born two were twin boys, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Orr, and in one twelve hours eight babies were born.

The Newton Nurses Alumnae Association now has 360 members in good standing.

The No More Kokki Klub had a gala program at its meeting last Monday evening as it welcomed back Dr. George L. West after a four-months absence due to illness.

The visiting trustees for the month of January are Mrs. Allison Burr and Mrs. E. P. Saltontail.

Friday of this week is the day for the examination of candidates for the positions of internes at the hospital next year. About twelve are expected to take the examinations from which two will be selected to begin service on the first of next July. The applicants are fourth year students at Harvard, Tufts and Boston University.

A representative of the State has visited and inspected the out-patient department to see that it meets the requirements—a licensed physician in attendance and a graduate nurse in charge at each clinic, records properly kept the X-ray and laboratory facilities. The hospital hopes to receive an A1 rating.

Four of last week's ten accident cases were automobile accidents, the victims being three men and one boy. The boy fell out of an automobile and was bruised on the head and hands, one man had abrasions on both shoulders, a second man who was knocked down by a car had abrasions of the back and the third was hit and cut on the forehead and back of the head.

The woman who treated had a sprained left wrist from a fall upon a polished floor. Of the men who furnished the other five cases one had a finger crushed by a radiator falling upon it, one was bitten by a dog in the upper right leg, one cut his hand with a saw, one had a cut chin and the last had broken ribs and lacerated nose and cheeks.

ROTARY CLUB

The Newton Rotary Club will hold its regular Monday meeting at the Newton Theological Institution. President Herrick of the institution will be the principal speaker. The meeting is scheduled for Monday, January 23, at 12:15 noon, in the dining room of Sturtevant Hall. The Newton members of the Boston Rotary Club will be invited to this meeting. Dr. Cecil Clark, president of the Newton Rotary Club, will preside.

The speaker at the meeting on Monday of this week was former president William T. Halliday who was a delegate to the International Convention at Ostend, Belgium last year. He gave a very interesting account of the work of the delegates from 47 different countries represented; also a graphic story of the places he and the other members of the Newton party, Ben Rae, G. Wilbur Thompson, and Fred Larnard, visited.

KIWANIS CLUB

The speaker at the weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday was William T. Halliday of the Newton Trust Company. Mr. Halliday, who was a delegate to the Rotary Clubs Convention at Ostend last summer, gave an extended talk on the observations he had made while in Europe.

Faith Must Stand by Itself. Let none henceforth seek needless cause to approve the faith they own; when earnestly they seek such proof, conclude they then begin to fail.—Milton.

ARTICLE No. 33

No original bid is sound if based solely on the cards held by one player. For example, if the dealer holds the following hand:

Hearts—A, K, 10, 7, 2
Clubs—8, 4, 3
Diamonds—9, 6
Spades—8, 7, 2

he is justified in bidding one heart—a contract to win seven of the thirteen tricks. With his own hand, however, he can only hope to win four tricks with hearts as trumps, so why is the bid sound? The explanation is simple. If the dealer wins four of the thirteen tricks, nine tricks will be won by the other three players, one of whom is the dealer's partner. If these tricks are evenly divided, each player will win three tricks. Therefore, the dealer with four tricks and his partner with three will average to win seven tricks as a partnership. This result thus makes the bid of one heart with the above hand a sound bid, for since the dealer is justified in expecting three tricks in his partner's hand he incorporates this expectancy in his original bid. This expectancy of three tricks from partner yet to bid is called the "average expectancy of support" and should be an element of every sound original bid. That is what is meant by the statement at the beginning of this article. Every original bid includes not only the tricks in one's own hand but also the three tricks partner is expected to hold. Every sound original bid, therefore, is a bid to take the number of tricks bid with twenty-six cards, not thirteen. All succeeding bids should also follow this principle and endeavor to get the best results from twenty-six rather than thirteen cards. The problem hands given in the preceding article are good illustrations of this principle.

Answer to Problem No. 39
Hearts—K, 9, 7, 6, 4, 3
Clubs—K, 10, 8, 6, 2
Diamonds—A
Spades—10

Score, A-B, 9; Y-Z, 10, rubber game. Z dealt, bid one no-trump, A bid two hearts and Y and B passed. If Z bid two no-trump, what should A bid with the foregoing hand? In this hand the score is an important factor. If A-Z make three diamonds, they will score a game and rubber, A is justified in taking a chance; first, to save game if his bid fails; and second, to score game if he happens to find his partner with four cards of his suit. For that reason Y is justified in bidding two hearts. If B then bids four diamonds and Z passes, Y should double. He has a strong hand and has a good chance to defeat a four bid. He has done his duty and from then on it is up to Z to do his part. It is an interesting hand and should be carefully noted.

POLICE NEWS

As a result of a neighborhood row August Czekawski of 89 Linden street, Upper Falls, was given a three months suspended sentence to the House of Correction by Judge Frost in the Newton Court on Friday. His wife, Katherine, was placed on probation until July 14, as was her son, Edward Crudak. These penalties were the result of an attack made by the trio on their next door neighbors, John and Fannie Shkavrich on the preceding day.

James L. Dunn, an elderly man, residing at 13 Prospect place, West Newton, was fined $5 by Judge Frost on Friday for keeping an unlicensed dog. Dunn, who had obtained a license for the dog before coming to court, stated that he thought a dog under a year old did not have to be licensed.

Albert Nagry, 17, who stated that he has no home, was sent to the State Farm by Judge Frost on Friday charged with vagrancy. He was arrested in Auburndale by officer Challen.

FIRE RECORD

At 4:49 Monday afternoon someone pulled Box 266 on a false alarm. Evidently the fact that a recent false alarm in this city was responsible for the death of a young man does not deter others from indulging in this contemptible practice.

Sunday night at 7:50 Hose 5 went on a still alarm to 10 Charles street, Auburndale, to extinguish a chimney fire in the house occupied by Max Cohen.

Tuesday night at 9:54 Engine 3 went on a still alarm to put out a grass fire on Dedham street, Newton Centre.

Tuesday night at 11:55 Engine 3 was sent out to extinguish a fire in a pile of rubbish at the cellar being excavated for the new postoffice on Sumner street, Newton Centre.

AUTOS HIT TWO

Friday afternoon two persons were hit and injured by automobiles at Newton Corner. A car driven by Mary Abbe of 43 Judkins street, Newtonville, while passing Washington street, near Hovey, was hit by an automobile driven by Arthur Ludlow of Salisbury road, Newton. She was taken to her home.

Later in the afternoon Kathleen Dargon of 120 Jewett street, while crossing Washington street, near Hovey, was hit by an automobile driven by Arthur Ludlow of Salisbury road, Newton. She was taken to her home.

AUTO HITS SIGNAL SWITCH

Friday night at 11:30 an automobile driven by Dr. F. A. Chandler of Chauncey avenue, Auburndale, hit the switch box which controls the traffic signal at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Walnut street.

NEWTON HOSPITAL AID ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association will be Tuesday, January 24th, in the New Church Parlor, Highland avenue, Newtonville.

The morning session at 11 o'clock will be the regular business, with interesting reports.

Luncheon at 12:30.
Afternoon meeting at 2 o'clock.
The speaker will be Miss Margaret Shaffer. Her subject, "The Bend of the Road."

Prof. James B. Taylor offers services by lesson, talk or lecture to individuals, classes or clubs in literature or history. Address, 157 Lowell avenue, Newtonville.—Advertisement.

BOY SCOUTS

Recently the Norumbega Lodge, A. F. & A. M. invited the Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, to give a demonstration of Scoutcraft at one of its regular meetings. The Lodge invited the Scouts to dinner at six-fifteen on January 9th, 1928, and the demonstration followed. The following Scouts and Officers took part:

Troop 1, Newtonville—Under Scoutmaster Sloan and Asst. Scoutmaster Alfred Ziegler and Asst. Scoutmaster Stanley Brown. Scouts—James Colligan, Philip Margolin, Robert Spooner, Winslow Hartford, Douglas Sloan, Jr., Malcolm Whitney, Thaddeus Coleman, Richard Rogers, Robert Kennett, John Kennett, Winston Sharpe, A. A. Nichols, Richard Nichols.

Troop 4, Newton Highlands—Troop Committee Chairman, G. W. D. Marcy, Asst. Scoutmaster, Robert Wilkie. Scouts—Donald Briggs, Evan Collins, Warren Dillaway, Richard Schroeder, Kenneth Warren, Emmons Brown, Owen Collins, Richard Hapgood, Robert Warfield, Robert Wilkie.

Troop 5, Newton Centre—Asst. Scoutmaster, George H. Crosby. Scouts—John Hitchcock, Stephen White, Edmund Dresser, Richard Wilkie, Robert Nickerson, Arthur Tilley, Vincent Ernst, George H. Crosby, Jr., Thomas Mariner, Bugler.

Troop 10, Waban—Scoutmaster Brier, Scouts—Sam Douglas, Robt. McLellan, Arthur Marquardt, Philip Warren, John Argersinger, Jack Brier, Edward Offit, Crawford Ferguson.

The meeting opened with inspection by Scoutmasters, followed by color ceremony. President Wm. T. Halliday was then introduced and told the one hundred fifty men present briefly about the work and plans of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America. The Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr., then introduced the officers and troops.

Troop 1 gave a friction fire demonstration, after a brief explanation of friction fire and the wood used by Scout Winston Sharp.

This was followed by a demonstration of Woods First Aid, using birch and maple poles for splints and stretchers, with Scout belts and neck kerchiefs for bandages and ties. This demonstration was given by Troop 10, preceded by a brief explanation by Scout Jack Brier, who told why the Scouts learn and use First Aid.

Troop 1 Harmonica Band under Scoutmaster Sloan, gave several group and solo selections.

The Scouts from Troop 4 erected a double-arch bridge over an imaginary stream, preceded by a brief explanation about Pioneering by Assistant Scoutmaster Wilkie. For this they used regular pieces of sapling cut and lashed together. No nails whatever were used in this construction, which required about fifteen minutes. President Halliday was the first man to cross this bridge.

Troop 5 gave a competitive undressing race, preceded by a witty explanation about the undressing race. John Hitchcock, this undressing race created a lot of laughs and showed fathers why boys' clothing bills are sometimes high.

The demonstration was closed by other selections and solos by Troop 1 Harmonica Band.

Annual Council Meeting, January 11th, 1928

On January 11th the annual meeting of Norumbega Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, was held at the West Newton Public Library. New by-laws were adopted making all field and troop officers, as well as troop committeemen up to the number of ten for each troop committee, members of the Council.

Reports were given by Wm. T. Halliday, President of the Council and Chairman of the Finance Committee, also by First Vice President G. W. D. Marcy, Chairman of the Troop Organization Committee; Commissioner John M. Woodbridge, Jr., Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr., Treasurer, C. Clark Macomber; Jas. R. Warren, Chairman, By-laws Committee, Edw. S. Drowne, Chairman, Committee on Camps and Camping, A. P. Hartsorn, Chairman, Publicity Committee, E. V. Bartram, Chairman, Board of Scout Examinations, Wm. V. M. Fawcett, Chairman, Board of Sea Scout Examinations, Deputy Commissioner E. M. Varney, Chairman, Board of Merit Badge Examinations.

All reports indicated a most successful and progressive year for 1927 and gave promise of great advance in 1928.

62% Increase in Scouts

On April 4th, 1927, when the new organization went into effect there were 323 Registered Scouts in Norumbega Council. On January 11th, 1928, there were 521 registered Scouts, an increase practically 62% in nine months. Last April there were 30 troop officers registered and on January 11th there were 48, an increase of about 60% in officer personnel. This is by far the greatest number of registered Scouts and Officers that the city of Newton has ever had.

In addition, there are active troop officers, scout examiners, field officers, merit badge examiners, bringing the total of active volunteer men in the Council up to 250, which means that there are approximately 750 Boy Scouts and Officers and volunteers active in Norumbega Council today.

Sea Scouts Receive Honors

At the Council meeting, Mr. Philip W. Carter, Chairman of the Sea Scout Committee introduced Mr. James A. Mitchell, Regional Sea Scout Director, who spoke briefly to the Council on the value of Sea Scouting, and then announced that Ship 13 had received first prize for its proficiency during the Regional Summer Cruise in 1927. This ship was in competition with sea ships from all over New England, so the honor of first prize meant real proficiency and good Sea Scout spirit. As first prize Mr. Mitchell announced that Ship 13 was awarded an A. B. C. knockabout boat for its use. In addition, Mr. Mitchell announced that Ship 13 had the best record of any ship in New England and was therefore appointed as the Regional Flagship, which is the highest honor that can be given to a Sea Scout Ship. Skipper Harris for Ship 13 received certificates officially announcing both awards and thanked Mr. Mitchell. The Council roundly applauded the Sea Scouts for their excellent work.

1928 Officers

The following officers were elected or named by virtue of their office in Community Organizations as officers of the Council and members of the Executive Board for 1928 and 1929:

President Wm. T. Halliday, First Vice President Grosvenor D. W. Marcy, Vice President Frank Ashley Day, Vice President Maynard Hutchinson, Vice President Rev. Fr. J. F. Haney, Commissioner John M. Woodbridge, Jr., Honorary Commissioner James C. Irwin, Treasurer Charles H. Cobb.

Executive Board for two years—Philip W. Carter, A. P. Hartsorn, James R. Warren, Edwin S. Drowne, Arthur L. Shaw, Wm. V. M. Fawcett.

Executive Board for one year—Charles R. Lynde, Albert R. Spear, Duncan Wright, Nelson B. Vanderhoof, Chester L. Churchill, Hugh Boyd.

President or Representative of American Legion, Donald M. Hill; Rotary Club, Dr. Cecil W. Clark; Kiwanis, James Gallagher.

Annual Swimming Meet

The annual swimming meet was held on Friday evening, January 13th, at the Y. M. C. A. at Newton. There were 65 Scouts participating and about 125 Scouts and officers in the balcony and on the floor cheering them on. There was great interest and enthusiasm over the swimming meet this year and the officers were highly pleased with the smoothness and efficiency of its conduct. The officers in charge were: Richard Cotton, clerk of events; Al Noble, Wm. T. Halliday, judges; John M. Woodbridge, Jr., Philip Dalrymple, scorers; Clyde G. Hess, general supervision; Dr. Martin, timer; Britton Boughner, starter.

Troop 4, Newton Highlands, won the swimming meet with 49 points. Troop 7, West Newton, won second place, with 35 points; Troop 5, Newton Centre, and Troop 11, Newton, tied for third place, with 25 points each; Troop 1, Newtonville, was fourth, with 16 points; Troop 18, Newton Centre, fifth, with 15 points.

Placemen were as follows: Junior 20-yard dash—Scott, Troop 18, first; Barnes, Troop 11, second; Purple, Troop 1, third.

Intermediate 20-yard dash—Patterson, Troop 4, first; Spooner, Troop 1, second; Smith, Troop 7, third.

Senior 20-yard dash—Jack, Troop 7, first; Nickerson, Troop 5, second; Hapgood, Troop 4, third.

Junior 40-yard swim—Martin, Troop 11, first; Tyler, Troop 1, second; Tomlinson, Troop 7, third.

Intermediate 40-yard swim—Spooner, Troop 1, first; Adams, Troop 4, second; Lewis, Troop 11, third.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. Day Junior High

On Tuesday morning, January 3rd, the school called us back to work after the holiday season. It took just about a day to adapt ourselves again to the tasks at hand.

On Wednesday morning in Assembly Miss Bragg held the entire student body rapt in her story telling. With several delightful stories she illustrated the value of a story in school training. We wish only that we could hear her tell stories more often.

Plans for a prize speaking contest, under the direction of Mr. Holleran, Miss Johnson and Miss Joy, are under way at the present time. Over fifty students have entered the contest, and the school is looking forward to what promises to be a keen competition.

The Assembly this week was arranged by the girls of Division III B, directed by Miss Johnson. A selected group of musicians, comprised of Dean Handy, director and violinist; Edward Campbell, pianist; Allan Whitehead, cornetist; Irving Clukas, drummer; and Fred Wayland, saxophonist, furnished the opening march. The following program was presented, and judging from the applause was highly appreciated by all who heard it: Dance, Babetta Shaffer, reading, "The Imboy," Leslie Burnell, dance, Jean Currie, Frances Dobyns, Betty Dobyns, Ruth House; song, "My Blue Heaven," Florence Madden, Margaret McDermott; violin solo, Gertrude Frechette; music, Dean Handy's orchestra. Gladys Dufresne accompanied the songs and dances. The latter part of the program consisted of a short play, entitled "The Fifteenth Candle," directed by Janice Leavitt. The cast included Emma Gregorio, Dorothy Drew, Florence Cormier, Janice Leavitt and Mary Andrews.

The story concerned an Italian girl, who battled against her father's greed in order that her younger sister might continue her training in art. The committee in charge of the entire program was made up of Maxine Ellis, Florence Madden, Elizabeth Reynolds, Janice Leavitt, Margaret McDermott and Virginia Santillo. Typewritten programs were furnished the entire school.

The F. A. Day school feels very fortunate in serving as headquarters for a course in the "Methods of Teaching in the Junior High School," given by Professor Francis T. Spaulding of the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Classes consisting of lectures and discussions will be held every Thursday at 2:30 p. m., over a period of eight weeks. It is expected that many Newton teachers will avail themselves of this opportunity, which is under the head of the Massachusetts University Extension Course.

A motion picture machine, presented by the Eastman Kodak Company, has been very much in evidence in the Library since the holidays. The school has also obtained many films of the "Chronicles of America," put out by Yale University. Some of these films have been shown in the library, and are very valuable in studying the history of America. It is hoped that all the Social Studies classes may benefit by them.

The boys played the first basketball game of the season Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. with the Watertown East Junior High. It was not a scheduled league game. The score was 32-6 in favor of Watertown.

Hyde School Notes

Mr. Arthur Williams, engineer of the Hyde school for eighteen years, died suddenly during the Christmas vacation.

Mr. Williams was a most valuable factor in our school force. He was a most efficient engineer, and mechanically unusually versatile. There was but little that he couldn't do, and nothing that he was unwilling to do, no matter in what department of the school his services were required.

His departure is sincerely mourned by the entire organization, principal, teachers and pupils. All with whom he came in contact loved him. His daily touch with the children whom he met in the discharge of his duties was unusually helpful and sympathetic. He was kind, courteous and always a gentleman. Both his presence and his services will be sadly missed.

The Hyde school is deeply grieved over the loss of one of its most promising pupils, Jean Carver, greatly loved by teachers and classmates, was a most efficient and cheerful leader in all the school activities, and her sudden death leaves a loving memory of one greatly missed. She set a wonderful example of fairness and co-operation, doing her best always in work and play with an unusual energy. Her associates showed their appreciation of her ability and spirit of helpfulness by invariably choosing her as their guide and leader. Her place among us will be difficult to fill.

The enforced absence of Mr. Maguire, on account of very serious illness, is felt keenly by the school. He has been a faithful worker for many years.

Levi F. Warren Junior High

Mr. Sanford Bates of this city, Commissioner of Correction, was the speaker for the regular Tuesday assembly at the Levi F. Warren Junior High.

Mr. Bates spoke about the difference between the pupils of the Junior High School and the pupils in the reform, criminal, and insane institutions. He told how crime very often begins gradually with small offenses and leads up to serious charges. He made the pupils feel how fortunate they were to have so many opportunities for their advantages. He stated that he had been one of the people who had opposed the Junior High system, but, having observed the system worked out in the Levi F. Warren School, he had been thoroughly converted to its superiority over the old system.

At the close of Mr. Bates' talk, a delightful program of harp music was arranged by Mr. Spaulding, Director of Instrumental Music in the Newton schools.

The Misses Beatrice N. Phinney, Louise Melvin and Louise Came were the artists. Mr. Spaulding announced

A Good Answer to Tipster Sheet Promoters

The appearance of this Service Message in these columns is evidence that this publication subscribes wholeheartedly to the principles of the Boston Better Business Bureau, and co-operates with the Bureau in protecting you even to the extent of refusing to accept the advertising of firms whose advertising and sales policies are proved by the Bureau to be contrary to the public interest.

A prominent Boston Business Man received ninety-one Get-Rich-Quick Tipster Sheets in three months. His means of combating this annoyance is by returning the sheet with a multigraphed letter, quoted in part as follows:

"Your financial circulars received. I am not interested due to local arrangements. Save time and expense by removing my name from your mailing list."

"After a certain age one becomes the recipient of an ever increasing volume of mail, made up of the stock promotion variety. To me it is valueless."

"Buying lists of names for stock promotion purposes is considered by some a means of securing business from the 'eternal bores.' Offerings through such a source would never interest me. My efforts, time and money are actively against such methods."

"Market letter subscriptions enter one into a guessing contest concerning the future. Many so called 'Investment Houses,' 'Tipster' and 'forecaster' concerns, are merely intestinal bucket shops endeavoring to electrocute one financially. If market utter prophecies became a reality the authors would take sole advantage of the 'golden' opportunity."

"I fully co-operate with the Better Business Bureaus and the Post Office Inspection Department in their movement against financial fraud."

"Member of the Society for the Prevention of Financial Electrocution."

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

We received a card a few days ago from Edward J. Healy of Auburndale who is making his annual winter tour of Florida and the West Indies. Mr. Healy, who has been at Tampa, Fla., is now in Havana, Cuba.

Someone suggested to us that "the big weather vane on the Eliot Block be placed on the tower of Engine 1 house." The Eliot Block is going to be torn down and with the disappearance of its weather-vane folks at Newton Corner would have difficulty in telling which way the wind might be blowing. In accordance with the suggestion, we mentioned the matter to Captain Ben Tripp of Engine 1.

We were informed by the captain that "the old weather-vane, depicting a steam fire engine, which formerly adorned the tower of the engine house, has been stored for the past couple of years in that building because the old tower became too decayed to support it." This is another proof that a new fire-station should be erected at Newton Corner without further delay.

Girl students from Radcliffe, Sargent and other institutions of higher education at Cambridge are objecting, so the Boston papers say, to Harvard students coming into a popular tea-room near Harvard square affixed only in fur coats, jerseys and shorts. When the aforesaid Harvard students sit down at the tables in the tea-room their limbs are visible, and the girls have been properly shocked at the display of hirsute limbs. Possibly, the offending young men, having observed the growing vogue of very sheer chiffon hosiery on young ladies, reasoned that their very informal attire might not attract undue notice.

INSURANCE

Trade marked insurance is something comparatively new. There have been many insurance companies that have used a picture or slogan to typify their service, but it remained for the Twin Mutuals to produce an actual trade mark used on their policies and advertising matter which was at once descriptive and distinctive.

The familiar circle with a portion cut out representing savings to Twin Mutual policyholders through dividend returns is well known to thousands of property owners in New England.

The Roman numeral two, with the word Gemini beneath it, represents, of course, the idea of two-in-one or twinning. Gemini, it may be explained to the uninitiated, is the Latin word for twins, and in Roman mythology was the name given to the heavenly twins, Castor and Pollux, appropriate for an insurance organization protecting automobile owners, the patron saints of travelers.

Incidentally, Gemini is one of the constellations, and the Twin Mutuals trade mark blazes nightly in the zodiac.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

A pupils' recital will be held at the Peirce School, West Newton, on Friday evening, January 27th, at 7:30 o'clock. There will be selections by the Senior Orchestra group, and violin, piano and vocal solos. The pupils, their parents and friends and all those interested are cordially invited to attend.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Monday morning, January 23, is the date set for the first luncheon lecture of the season to be given out at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill. Mrs. J. W. F. Kennedy (Barbara Bradford), herself a playwright, will lecture on current modern drama, centering especially on "Chicago," by Maurine Watkins.

The committee which is sponsoring these luncheon lectures are: Mmes. James R. Armstrong, Albion M. Boothby, Arthur J. Boucher, D. Earl Brackett, Frank H. Chamberlain, Frank B. Cummings, James C. Duane, Charles A. Durant, Leo F. Emerson, Robert Grant, Edgar F. Hathaway, William P. Howe, Alex. R. Keltie, Alfred E. Knight, Charles E. Murnan, Elbridge W. Newton, Willard D. Pitcher, Frank C. Shepherd, Harry F. Stimpson, Roger B. Tyler and W. Horace Workman. They are in aid of the Disabled Veterans.

Last Monday afternoon, Mrs. Frank H. Chamberlain of Newton Centre and Mrs. James R. Armstrong of Allston were the hostesses at a Matinee Auction Bridge, which was a club function, as are the luncheon lectures. They were assisted by Mmes. Mary Houston Beale, William H. Danforth, E. G. J. Danielson, Sidney R. David, George R. S. Denton and Alfred O. Dion.

Next Sunday there will be a concert at the clubhouse for the members by the Boston Orchestral Quartette, under the direction of Louis Dalbeck. They will be assisted by Miss Katherine Palmer, lyric soprano.

Y. W. C. A.

The mid-year activities of the Newton Y. W. C. A. are in full swing.

The Blue Triangle Club are at present concentrating on the play which they are to put on during the middle of February, and on Monday evening, January 23rd, the B. T. C. meeting will be one of general discussion as to the play and everything pertaining to it and also the coming theatre party. Every member of the Blue Triangle Club is urgently requested to be present.

There will be the regular gymnasium class on Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 8:30 with basketball following from 8:30 to 9:30.

On Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Triangle Club meets. This group is for the younger girls between the ages of 8 to 11 years. There will be a children's gym class on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Also on Thursday, the bowling group meets at the Newton Y. W. C. A. at 7:30 for one hour's bowling.

On Friday, the regular meeting of the Newton Girl Reserves will take place in the Union Church at 4 p. m. The "Arroyo Club" of Watertown will come together on Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the Armenian Centre on Dexter avenue. The Junior High School Girl Reserves have their regular weekly meeting on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Senior High School Girl Reserves meet on Friday evening at 7:30.

There will be a children's gym class on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

FIRST ALL-NEWTON BANK DINNER

At the Brae Burn Country Club on January 10, 1928, the directors, trustees, corporators, and officers of all the banks in Newton dined together for the first time. Nearly 100 were present, representing the ten banks of the city. The Newton Trust Company, Newton Savings Bank, West Newton Savings Bank, Newton Centre Savings Bank, The First National Bank of West Newton, Newton Co-operative Bank, Newton South Co-operative Bank, Auburndale Co-operative Bank, and Nonantum Co-operative Bank. Mr. William H. Rice of the Newton Centre Savings Bank presided, introducing the toastmaster, Mr. C. S. Luitwiler, Hon. B. Loring Young, formerly speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, was the guest of honor. He gave an address particularly interesting to bankers, outlining the more important problems which will be considered this year by the Massachusetts Legislature, including branches for State banks, questions of taxation, State finances, and the Boston Elevated situation. A rising vote of thanks expressed the appreciation of his hearers.

This meeting grew out of the Annual Dinner which the Newton Centre Savings Bank has been accustomed for some years to have for corporators, trustees, and officers following its Annual Meeting. This year, all the banks were invited to join with it so that all might hear Mr. Young. The meeting was so impressed by the possibilities of an all-Newton bank gathering that a committee was appointed to plan an organization to insure future meetings of all the bankers of the city.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB

On Jan. 25th at the home of Mrs. C. N. Fitz, 112 Homer street, Newton Centre, there will be a stereopticon lecture on "The Far West" by Rail Trail and Auto" given by Mrs. Everett W. Varney. Tea will be in charge of Miss Anne Waters. Mrs. Varney will tell of her ten thousand mile trip last summer in which she crossed the continent in a roadster—covering in one thirty-hour ride six hundred and seventy-five miles. Her talk will illustrate her climbs on Mt. Rainier and Glacier Peak, Southern California and the Grand Canyon will be subjects of her description also.

A NOVEL GOODBYE

Captain and Mrs. Frank L. Nagle of Kirkstall road were among the passengers who boarded the steamship Laurente of the White Star Line at Boston Tuesday for her maiden trip to the Mediterranean. The steamer started from New York City on Monday, stopping here for the convenience of the Boston passengers.

An interesting feature of their departure was the send-off they received from a group of friends including their son, Lieutenant "Bob" Nagle, who is en route to sea in an airplane and sent his mother a farewell message which he dropped on the steamer in the shape of a bunch of roses.

NEWTON SPORTS

Other Y Athletic Notes

February ninth the wrestling team will meet the Lynn team on the Newton mat and on the 17th will entertain the Boston wrestlers. Two weeks ago Lynn tied the Newton team and Coach Dr. Fred Simm's outfit is contemplating sweet revenge. The squad now numbers about twenty candidates, showing the great interest in the sport.

V. A. Anderson, assistant physical director, has formed a junior basketball team among the older boys. Last Saturday afternoon they took the DeWitt Clinton five into camp by a score of 27 to 21. Tuesday they played the Perkins juniors of Waltham at Waltham and were snowed under 23 to 5. Saturday afternoon they hope to get back into the victory path when they are to play on their home court again.

The Newton Y volley ball team will endeavor to annex their first victory of the season at the expense of the Boston Y team which comes to Newton tomorrow afternoon. The game will be called at five o'clock.

Church League Standing

The first round in the Church league basketball series has been completed with the exception of two postponed games. At present there is a tie for the lead between the Watertown Baptist team and the Whitney Class of Watertown with the possibility that Needham, half a game behind with one to play, may make it a triple tie should they win their postponed game against the Central Congregational five as expected. The other postponed game is between the Eliot Congregational and Newtonville Methodist teams and which either may win. The standings at the end of the first round:

	W. L.	P. C.
Watertown Baptist	6 1	357
Whitney Class	6 1	357
Needham Congregational	5 1	333
Aub. Methodist	4 3	571
Newtonville Meth.	2 4	333
Eliot Cong.	2 4	333
Immanuel Baptist	1 6	142
Central Cong.	0 6	000

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Activities was held in the Eliot Church parlors Tuesday, January 17, with a record attendance. At the close of luncheon, Mrs. Arthur Mansfield entertained with a group of songs, followed by a short business meeting. Mrs. Vernon Swett, president, presiding. Mrs. Fred Loveland, chairman of the Church Federation Sewing Circle, gave a brief report stating that over 600 articles had been made during the last year, meeting several community needs.

Following the reports, most enlightening talks were given by leaders of two of the organizations for which the Circle sews. Miss Olive Elliot, superintendent of the District Nursing Association, with the aid of a map of the city, pointed out how the work of that organization was divided into three districts, each under a graduate nurse with four student helpers. She spoke in thousands of the patients cared for in this last year and showed the service of the association lay not only in caring for the sick but accomplished much through welfare work and clinics.

Miss Bertha Allen, superintendent of the Newton Hospital, spoke on "The New Hospital: Its Advantages and Opportunities." It is most fitting to speak to a body of this kind, for before the hospital was built the Hospital Aid was started. So Miss Allen began, as she compared the equipment and working force of the hospital at its start in 1886 with that of the present day; noting that the hospital was built 16 years ago and though the city had gained thousands in population the only chance for more beds in the hospital since that time had been made by using corridors, the rotunda, or even class rooms at specially crowded seasons. She spread open the splendid records of work accomplished under the greatest difficulties and by facts and figures made her audience feel the dire need and many opportunities of the new hospital.

The next meeting of the Sewing Circle will be held at the Methodist church, Tuesday, February 21st.

JUDGED BY RESULTS

Alarmed at the spread of pagan philosophies in America and insisting that every church should assume a numerical quota of converts to Christianity, W. C. Coleman of Wichita, Kansas, president of the Northern Baptist Convention on January 17, addressed the students and faculty of the Newton Theological Institution at a special assembly in the Chapel.

"There must be no fundamentalism in methods or forms of evangelism," declared Mr. Coleman. "In the Church, as in business, success is judged by results. Therefore, we must adopt the methods that bring results under present-day conditions. This nation is half slave to the false philosophies of paganism, based on selfishness, and the great task of the Church is to go out and get converts to Christianity, which means service to others. Every church should assume its evangelistic quota; for example, one convert per day. Such results can be achieved if the laymen will themselves go out after new members."

While paying tribute to the work of the Theological Institution, Mr. Coleman warned the students that the laymen insist on the greatest simplicity of language in the pulpit, and are strongly opposed to any involved or finely-shaded reasoning about Christian doctrines. "It is knowledge of Christ, not knowledge about Christ, that is most important," he said.

Mr. Coleman, who is himself a successful business man, noted that in the business world the old slogan of "Live and let live" was being replaced by the more Christian philosophy of "Live and help live." "This principle," he said, "should be followed by the various creeds and churches."

Following the address, Mr. Coleman and trustees of the Institution were given a luncheon by President and Mrs. Everett G. Herriek.

MR. EARLY BURIED

Funeral services for the late Bernard Early were held Friday morning with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. John's Church, Lower Falls. Rev. Fr. John J. Flood was celebrant. Rev. John Cunningham, deacon, and Rev. J. A. MacManmon, subdeacon.

Four high degree Knights of Columbus members, Robert A. Vachon, Mark V. Crocker, John A. Gallagher and William B. McCradden, led the funeral procession from the church and to the grave in Calvary Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Lieut. Joseph Seaver of the Newton Police Department, Edward P. O'Neill, Thomas Anderson, T. F. Donahue, Harry Cahill and F. J. Hilberry.

The services were attended by state and city officials and by many friends of Mr. Early.

JURORS DRAWN

A number of Newton men were drawn at the meeting of the aldermen on Monday night to serve at the criminal sessions of the Superior Court at Cambridge beginning on February 6 and February 13. The lucky individuals are Thomas F. Bryson, 11 Carleton street; Martin King, 510 California street; J. Preston Rice, 95 Prince street; Isaac Silverman, 16

Waban Woman's Club

"Venice and Her Marvelous Story," is the topic to be presented by Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale at the Monday afternoon meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, January 23rd. Mrs. Hale, famed English actress, spends her summers in Venice, and in collecting stories of its past has become so fascinated that its history is now her hobby. Club members and fortunate guests are anticipating a most satisfying afternoon. Following the program tea will be served in a social hour.

The second of Miss Eunice Avery's popular course in Current Events for Waban Club members who have purchased tickets will be given on Friday afternoon, the 27th. Miss Avery's travels through Europe, Asia, and South America and her keen study and analysis of political and social conditions makes her presentation most vivid and lucid. Owing to the fact that the Union Church Vestry proved too small for the number of members wishing to hear the lecture, the last meeting will be held in the church proper, and this coming lecture will also probably be held in the same place. The time has also been changed, from 3 o'clock to 2:45, for all of the remaining lectures.

Christian Era Study Club

The Christian Era Study Club of Auburndale holds its next meeting on Monday afternoon, the 23rd, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Edward T. Edmonds of 153 Hancock street. Miss Margaret Haskell will read a paper on "The Democratic Republican," which is, of course, not the paradox it would seem, and Mrs. Alfred L. Billings will read one on "Jefferson."

Monday Club

Mrs. C. A. Thompson opens her home, 1141 Walnut street, for the entertainment of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on the same afternoon, Monday, the 23rd, with the business meeting at 2:30 o'clock. The program following will be in charge of Mrs. L. H. Marshall, who will have as the general topic "Saint Francis of Assisi."

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

The second of the series of the lives and works of "Great Thinkers," which the members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. are studying for the medium portion of their Club year, is to be "Francis Bacon," as portrayed by Will Durant in his book, "The Story of Philosophy." This will be presented by Miss Marie B. Morse. The hostess for the meeting which occurs on Monday, the 23rd, at 2:30 o'clock, is Mrs. Mark H. Ward, of 20 Oak terrace.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Florence Ferguson Huston will entertain the members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on the evening of Monday, January 23rd, with an account of "China—an Interpretation." Mrs. Huston may well interpret China as she has spent most of her life there, from her childhood days when her father was advisor to its president, to the present as the wife of the American Consul to this far-off land. She is of special interest to a Newton audience in that she received part of her education in Boston, being a graduate of our own Mt. Ida School. Miss Nellie M. Osborne is chairman of the evening's program, and the Club will meet as usual in Emerson School Hall, with the business meeting opening at 7:30 o'clock.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Three morning talks on widely diversified subjects have been arranged by Mrs. Richard A. Cody and members of the American Home Committee, for members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, the first to be given in the Workshop, Tuesday morning at 9:30, when Miss Carolyn W. Bixby will speak on "Tea Room Specials at Home."

The following talks will come on February 28 and March 13, with Miss S. Agnes Denham and Kenneth B. Backman as the speakers. Tickets for the course should be secured in advance of Mrs. Cody or members of the American Home Committee.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Junior Membership plays hostess to the seniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club at their next meeting, January 27th. Mrs. B. Howard Lester, director. The Unitarian Parish House is the place of meeting, and 2:30 o'clock the hour. There will be music by a chorus of Juniors, after which the "daughters" present, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, known to Clubwomen of Newton for her delightful wit and pleasing logic, who will speak on "Some Things a Mother Likes to Remember About Her Daughter, and Some Things a Daughter Likes to Remember About Her Mother," a topic that sounds as though both hostesses and guests might find much of interest.

Monday, January 23rd, is the date for the annual Meeting of the Travel Class which will be held at the home of Mrs. George H. Jackson, 100 Elliot avenue, West Newton. Besides the business meeting which sums the year's activities a new leader will be chosen to preside for the coming year, and a new subject for study. Two Club members will give a program of interest. Mrs. Charles Quinn will read a paper on "The Story of the Morning," and Mrs. George Thomas one on "Washington, D. C."

The Juniors also will show their financial enterprise in having a Candy Sale at this meeting, the proceeds of which will help their Junior Club in hoped-for activities. Seniors who have a sweet tooth, therefore, and a kind heart, should not leave their pocket-books at home that afternoon.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Volunteer Service Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club goes to the Veterans' Hospital in West Roxbury on January 23rd. Contributions of part-washed garments will be gladly received by Mrs. Ellison G. Day, 90 Hull street, and taken to the hospital that day. There is also a special call for buttons of all kinds. Club members may make this journey a most worthwhile one for donors and recipients by heeding this call.

The first of the series of Current Events lectures will be held at the Church Parlor of the Central Congregational Church on January 23rd at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will be the speaker.

Mrs. N. H. Brown of 490 Walnut street will be the hostess for the next Literature Class to be held on January 24th, the subject being "Our Southern Highlands."

Newton Federation

The Newton Federation Executive Board meeting will be held in the Library of the Technical High School on January 24th at 2:30 p. m. Committee reports will be heard, followed by a talk sponsored by the Education Committee. The speaker will be Miss Doris Greenwood, director of the Junior Safety Council, affiliated with the Massachusetts Safety Council. All Club members are always welcome at these meetings, but this one will be of particular interest to mothers, who are urged to attend.

Newton Hospital Aid Association

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association takes place on Tuesday, January 24th, at 11 a. m. in the Parish House of New Church, Highland avenue, Newtonville. Luncheon will be served at 12:30, tickets for which may be obtained at 75 cents from the following Association members: Miss Florence E. Tower, Tel. W. N. 0508; Mrs. C. P. Hall, W. N. 0044; Mrs. J. Mervin Allen, W. N. 2194; Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, N. N. 0097; Mrs. W. F. Hollings, N. N. 0219; Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver, C. N. 1299; Mrs. John D. Coward, N. N. 0219; Mrs. Edward Early, W. N. 1641; Mrs. H. M. North, C. N. 1401; Mrs. Dana M. Dutch, C. N. 2172; Mrs. Chester Spring, Wel. 1094-M; Mrs. H. W. Bliss, Asp. 6795; Mrs. William M. Flanders, C. N. 0993; Mrs. B. E. Taylor, C. N. 1250; and Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, C. N. 0767-W. Following luncheon at 2 p. m. Miss Margaret Slattery will speak on "The Bend of the Road."

Members are reminded that the date of the fiscal year was changed at the last Annual Meeting, so as to correspond with that of the Newton Hospital, and the Annual Meeting, as scheduled to be held in January at which time annual fees are payable. Reports of the various splendid activities will be an inspiration to hear, these including in the past such items as endowment fund established, free bed supported, $10,000 raised and a new kitchen and balcony erected and named in memory of a former president, $2,411 raised toward subway, $3,633 toward X-ray equipment, scholarships established, rooms furnished with rugs and furniture, and many more such notable aids. The announcement of the meeting sent to members the courtesy of a card of thanks for the interest, cooperation, and donations of members who have helped the workers to carry through a second year of the Benefit Shop. The Committee's expression of appreciation and gratitude is also extended to the unselfish and enthusiastic workers who have cheerfully and efficiently aided at the Shop.

Women's Auxiliary to Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. William B. Oliver of Lynn, speaker at the State convention last fall, is to be the entertainer for the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. of January 25th, in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. Her subject is to be "Work With and For Young People" and in speaking of Mrs. Oliver as an entertainer this term is used with reason, for she has a most fascinating way of presenting her topics and wins friends by her personality. The Auxiliary is hospitably inviting the Y. M. C. A. as guest to share in this program. Music will consist of solos by Miss Ida Broughton, and the afternoon will close with tea served in sociability to members and guests.

State Federation

RADIO. Mrs. Benjamin D. May will broadcast a human interest story on radio on Monday, the 25th, over WYAC, that promises to be of an unusual character and fascinating to hear, in the she will give outstanding incidents in her experience with the foreign-born. Contact with these people about whom we theorize and imagine sometimes mistakenly often brings a most surprising change in ideas, thoroughly appealing and softening in some cases, or startling in warning in others where danger was not dreamed of. Club women will find this well worth listening to. Mrs. Fred I. Brown, president of the Wellesley Hills Woman's Club, will add a message on "The New Challenge." The Webster Woman's Club quartette will furnish the music, with Mrs. Mabel F. Barstow directing, and Mrs. Natalie C. Hern accompanying.

Social Science Club

Miss Clara G. Soule and Mrs. Arthur W. Blakemore will be the hostesses at the meeting on Wednesday of the Social Science Club, when Miss Margaret Aubin will read a paper on St. Augustine.

Newton Community Club

Members of the Newton Community Club have a treat in store at their meeting for Thursday afternoon, the 26th, which takes place in Underwood School Hall at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Phid-clah Rice, master of the art of portrayal of characters, will read the famous "David Garrick." There will be the sociability of a reception to new members, and tea served, after the program.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The cast of the one-act play, "A Sunny Morning," which will be given on Guest Night of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, January 25th, is composed of Mrs. Frederick Sears in the part of Donna Laura, Warren Pierce as Don Gonzales, Miss Virginia White as Petra and Walter Holmes as Juanito. Mrs. Everett W. Varney, the Dramatic Committee chairman, is coaching the play. A musical lull in one act, "Good-Night, Babette," under the direction of Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, will also be given.

The next afternoon, Thursday, January 26th, the speaker will be Prof. Albert H. Gilmer, whose subject will be "Europe's Post-War Drama and Theatre." The lecture will be illustrated. It is under the direction of the Literature Committee, of which Mrs. E. Ray Spears is the chairman. Tea will be served after the meeting by the Social Committee, Mrs. Joseph T. Bishop, chairman.

Under the direction of the Art Committee will be given three lectures on Monday mornings in January: the 16th, 23rd and 30th at 10:30. The course is entitled "An Approach to Art." The first talk was on "Essentials and Non-Essentials," the second will be on "Processes." The third morning will be spent at Fenway Court and the Museum of Fine Arts to see examples of the principles studied previously. Professor Walter H. Siple of Harvard University will give the talks, illustrated by slides. The fee is three dollars for the three mornings and the course is in charge of Mrs. W. Cornell Appleton of the Art Committee.

The chairman in charge of the Rainbow Bazaar, which is an outstanding event of the Activities Committee taking place on February 3 and 4, are Mrs. Frank N. Nathan, general chairman; Mrs. George F. Richardson, Jr., treasurer; Mrs. John Metz, Program; Mrs. Cyrus T. Schirmer, Tickets; Mrs. John E. Whittey and Mr. Frank N. Nathan, Smokes; Mrs. Geo. Graves, Candy; Miss Cornelia Holmes, Candy Girls; Mrs. Stanley F. Barton, Beverages; Mrs. Edward H. Bill and Mrs. E. J. Blake, Coffee and Doughnuts; Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, Cash chairman; Mrs. Fred Rising, Costume chairman; and Mr. Frank Williams, Head usher.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

"My Six Years in the Jungle" was the topic presented to the Newton Community Club at its Children's Day by Carveth Wells on Tuesday afternoon, January 10th. The audience, including many children, were delighted not only with the illustrated talk, but with the many attractive native costumes which the speaker displayed. Five children present acted as models. Mrs. James E. Clark explained the work of the All Newton Music School, and the Misses Elizabeth Barber, Anna Covitz and Alice Collier, students of the School, played selections on the piano and violin.

The Americanization Committee of the Newton Community Club entertained the Mothers' Club of the Stearns School center at the home of Mrs. John K. Williams, 89 Hyde avenue, Monday evening, January 13th.

The Mothers' Club is making a special study of model kitchens during the month of January and greatly appreciated the opportunity to visit and inspect Mrs. Williams' kitchen. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Williams was assisted by Mrs. David Black and Mrs. Elwood A. Howe.

West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club

The fourth regular meeting of the West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club was on January 10th at the home of Susanne Elwell. The meeting was opened by the president, (Continued on Page 12) presented. The Club members were kept in laughter throughout one-half hour. The girls, dressed as old-fashioned Irish maids, were a humorous sight, and each played her part well. A rehearsal of the songs, conducted by Mrs. Dorr, followed, and then attractive refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Elwell. It was a most enjoyable evening.

Auburndale Junior Woman's Club

The Auburndale Juniors held their monthly meeting at Mrs. W. J. Spaulding's on Wednesday evening, January 11. After the singing of America, the beautiful reports of the committees were given. The Sports Committee is to plan a skating party to be held sometime this month. The Welfare body Home, and the giving of a dinner for a New Year's gift to a needy family in the Newtons. A theatre party was voted upon. The group is planning to attend the Repertory Theatre, Saturday, January 21. Florence Potter is in charge of the tickets. The business meeting adjourned and a social hour in the form of a Rasker followed. Marion Winslow, Lillian Freeman and Ruth Uford entertained with selections. To conclude the evening Mr. Spaulding sang some delightful songs accompanied by Mrs. Spaulding and refreshments were served.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Friday, January 13th, was Americanization Day for the West Newton Women's Educational Club, which met in the Unitarian Parish House at 2:30 p. m. It was very pleasant to have several of our foreign-born women neighbors as guests in honor of the day, some of whom brought their children.

The president, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, asked members to consider the question as to endorsement or non-endorsement of legislative bills by the State Federation, and to come prepared to vote upon this at the next Club meeting, so that the delegate to the mid-winter meeting of the State Federation may go instructed.

After the business meeting the program was in charge of Mrs. Francis Nowers, chairman of the Volunteer Service Committee. Mrs. Kenneth Hastings, who so greatly pleased the Club a year ago with her violin selections favored again with a group of pieces, "Romance," by Mrs. Beach, who was a Boston woman, and Macdowell's "To a Wild Rose." Mrs. Hastings appropriately gave selections from American composers in honor of the day, and as always her playing was a delight. Miss Emma Downing Coolidge kindly and generously read her poem "Our Torch" which was most appropriate and added greatly to the program.

Miss Calista Roy, the speaker of the afternoon, was not able to be present, and her place was filled by Miss Ethel Sabin, social worker in the Saco-Lowell mills, who spoke on "Good Citizenship." Miss Sabin's talk, though all too short, gave much inspiration, and her quotation "to sweep the cobwebs from the head, and the snowdrifts from the heart" was the keynote. This was the hint for good citizenship, as well as to be a good housekeeper. Mrs. Hastings again played a group of pieces by American composers. Tea and a delightful social hour followed the program.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Dean Charles R. Brown of the Yale Divinity School spoke before the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday on the importance of higher education. He spoke of the ever-increasing number of the student body and raised the question "Is It Worth While?" He said that unless knowledge tended to the development of the spirit it was not. Three selections on the piano were rendered by Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols.

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Arthur C. Farley opened her home on Central street to the members of the Auburndale Review Club and their guests. At the meeting of the previous evening, for next year's study were discussed, to be voted upon at this time. As this coming year brings with it a Presidential election, an appropriate topic had been suggested, that of studying the administrations of our former presidents, weaving in any interesting events connected with the times. The first paper of the morning was on Drachmann and Pontoppidan, by Mrs. F. F. Davidson, who also read from some of the thrilling sea stories by the latter Danish author. Selma Lagerlof, the only woman to receive the Nobel prize, was the theme of an interesting paper by Mrs. G. F. Howland, and was followed by the reading of two short stories of Miss Lagerlof's, by Mrs. Wycliffe J. Spaulding. A very enjoyable part of the morning's programme was a group of four piano selections from Scandinavian composers, played by Mrs. Henry Sampson.

COLLEGE NEWS

By H. P. CARVER

The testing time for all students is rapidly approaching its time, and the people who are really serious about meeting the semester examinations are taking out their books and making the most of the less frenzied time that precedes the giving of examinations. Now comes the test of whether the student who has done his work faithfully will meet with better results than a student that has skimped on the time and planned on intensive work to get him by. The average collegian believes that cramming will take him by any course, and usually it will, since most of the men and women in colleges are endowed with enough brains to be able to gain a great deal in a very short space of time. But, on the other hand, the person who wants to learn things does not want to handle his course that way, and he is the one who gains the most out of the preparation for examinations, for he has the chance of studying things that have not come up before.

The graduates of the High School have always taken an eminent place in the ranks of the warriors who have fought for Uncle Sam in previous times, as the service records of Newton boys shows, especially the list of men that gave their lives in the World War. One of the men who graduated from the school in recent years has been ordered to Nicaragua with the latest detachment of Marines, Robert Patterson. He was a swimmer of prominence at Newton, and then matriculated to Lafayette, where he spent almost two years, finally leaving college to answer the urge to enlist. He was accepted in the Marine Corps, and served first in the machine gun unit, and then in the signaling branch, specializing in radio work, but later being shifted to the telephone branch of the corps. He was a great back stroke man at Lafayette, and one of the most courageous of all the men that have graduated from Newton, for he has been a life saver during the summer, and his own provider in the winter, two things that call for entirely different styles of courage.

Howard Chadwick, who is passing the winter months at Wesleyan this year, has taken a decided fancy for the more intensive study of bugs, and to that end is spending much of his spare time in the biology laboratory, where he is pouring over slides, and various cuts in order to make himself more proficient at the task of dissection. This summer he hopes to be able to work in the laboratories at Woods Hole, where a great deal of interesting work has been done.

In speaking with a large number of boys this past vacation the writer found that the majority favored the Economic courses as those into which they wished to delve the deepest and call it their major, while in the girls the accent is more for English, with History having a second call. The boys that have expressed a great desire to follow the theories and thoughts that the leading economists have taught are usually men that have been brought up steeped more or less in the idea of a business career, and it usually is a means to an end. The girls, on the other hand, plan to use their studies as a means to an end, and find them a means to an end. All of which goes to prove two things, that youth sometimes does look ahead, and also that a college course often times has an actual value at the end of the degree despite the protestations of erudite professors and bookish preceptors of the outside world.

Isadore Hatch, the sister of Evelyn Hatch, who is at present over at the Sorbonne in Paris, is studying music mainly this year at Smith, and is doing very well in her work. She is rooming with Mary Ruby, also of Newton, and both girls are standing well in their classes.

Eleanor Macomber of Newton decided during the Christmas vacation that she would not return to her college after the vacation, and entered at Miss Sacker's School in Boston, where she will take up the course that is offered in there. She will be among a large number of Newton girls that make the school their headquarters, for Dorothy C. Pickman, Mary Schofield and Ruth Pearson are among the Newton girls that are listed at the school.

Robert Gorman at the Boston University School of Business Administration is becoming one of the most popular boys in the Junior division. Recently he was elected to a class office, and he has been a member of the Legislature, and business manager of the Year book. At Newton he was a fine scholar, and one of the most able organizers in his class.

Lloyd Osborne, Joseph Foristall and Francis Gilligan make a rather stalwart coterie of Newton men at Exeter, and each is busy making himself known on campus. Osborne is, of course, the fastest swimmer that the school has ever had, and Gilligan is out for goal on the sextet. Both of the latter two have made their letters in football, and performed notably on the gridiron for the Red and Gray. It is rumored that Gilligan will receive a large scholarship to Yale this year, and if this becomes a fact the Callahan brother act may be repeated when Tom and Francis meet.

proof known to men of God's presence and power. Mrs. Eddy resumed her study of the Bible and began to write out her observations from that spiritual point of view, as a "scribble under orders." (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 311). Those writings formed the basis of her book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Then she discovered that the reading of that book heals the sick, again the sign of healing—the conclusive proof of God's presence and power.

Mrs. Eddy then undertook to establish this discovery on a firm foundation by the organization of her church, and in 1895 she wrote her Manual of Rules and By-laws to preserve this foundation for posterity. Then she wrote these words (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 383), "In 1896 it goes without saying, prominent over ignorance or envy, that Christian Science is founded by its discoverer, and built upon the rock of Christ." Consequently Mrs. Eddy can lay claim to three great achievements which immortalize her name as Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and author of its textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

Mrs. Eddy was forty-five years of age when she discovered Christian Science, and it took her forty-five years more to establish this discovery on a firm foundation. She has written (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 249): "Millions may know that I am the Founder of Christian Science. I alone know what that means." "The founder of genuine Christian Science has been all her years giving it birth" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 39).

The institutional activities of The Mother Church in Boston constitute Mrs. Eddy's right to be called the Founder of Christian Science. Then any attack on these institutional activities of The Mother Church in Boston is in reality an effort to deprive Mrs. Eddy of her title of Founder of Christian Science. The institutional activities of this church provide the means and methods by which Christian Science makes its challenge to sin effective. Naturally sin desires to destroy its tormentor, that it may live. This reaction of sin against the institutional activities of The Mother Church in Boston has resulted in litigation and strife but the warfare is glorious. Mrs. Eddy's wisdom has been vindicated, and her greatness grows more apparent as time goes on, for God never forsakes His church nor His Cause.

CONCLUSION

Christian Science is vital to men and women, because it presents a scientific explanation by which all may work out their own salvation. It explains all cause and effect as mental; and that sin, disease, and death are overcome by the understanding of that same divine Principle which enabled Jesus to heal the sick and raise the dead. Contrary to popular opinion, this healing is achieved not by any use of human will or suggestion, but by the understanding of that which is absolutely true in the sight of God. It is indeed the "Spirit of truth," the Comforter which Jesus promised.

All that anyone can ever know about Christian Science must be gained from Mary Baker Eddy and her writings. She has declared that her church "is the mouthpiece of Christian Science" (Miscellany, p. 247). Consequently the institutional activities of this church provide the means and methods by which sin, disease, and death may be overcome, and complete salvation achieved in the way which "Christ Jesus taught."

Boston Evening Transcript

The Hon. Nathan E. Miller, former governor of New York, after reading the proofs of "The Road to Plenty" wrote: "I read with such pleasure that I forgot to criticize, if there was anything to criticize. You have succeeded beyond anything I should have thought possible in writing a book on economics which is as readable as a novel. If you don't make a case I am unable to find the flaw. Of course the rub will come in putting your program into effect. The lawyer, the business man, the little 'Gray Man' all will be necessary. I believe your book will have a profound influence. It certainly deserves to do so."

("The Road to Plenty" as a book is to be published this month by Houghton Mifflin Co. for the Pollak Foundation for Economic Research. The condensed installments to appear in the Transcript are to be published by permission of the authors and publishers.)

Newton Mermen Win Second Dual Meet

Outscore Rindge Tech 36 to 23 in Cambridge Tank

Yesterday afternoon the Newton high school swimming team won its second victory of the season by defeating the Rindge Technical school mermen 35 to 23 in the Cambridge Y tank. Newton won four first places and the relay out of the seven events contested. The relay race was the feature event of the day with the orange and black four winning in 2m. 29s. Hall of Rindge and Davidson of Newton, anchor men for their respective teams battled it out until the last inch with Davidson nosing his opponent out by a spurt in the last few yards.

The summary:

100-Yard Freestyle—Won by Davidson, Newton; MacKenzie, Rindge, second; Hall, Rindge, third. Time 1m 9s. 200-Yard Freestyle—Won by Hutchinson, Newton; Littlefield, Newton, second; O'Brien, Rindge, third. Time, 2m 53 1-5s.

40-Yard Freestyle—Won by Taylor, Rindge; Davidson, Newton, second; Messiah, Rindge, third. Time, 21m 35s. 40-Yard Backstroke—Won by Wales, Newton; J. Thompson, Rindge, second; Hughes, Rindge, third. Time, 22m 1-5s.

Dive—Won by Hall, Rindge; McGrath, Newton, second; J. Thompson, Rindge, third.

40-Yard Breaststroke—Won by Scott, Newton; Bobrick, Rindge, second; Chapin, Newton, third. Time, 23m 4-5s.

Chain Store Fined For Law Violation

"Cold Storage" Sign Hidden From Patrons' View

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, owner of the well known A. & P. stores, was fined $25 in the Newton court on Friday by Judge Bacon for a violation of the law pertaining to cold storage foods. On December 17, Henry C. Mosman of 29 Broadway, Newtonville, a State Health Inspector, observed that the "Cold Storage" sign on some preserved eggs in the A. & P. store at 311 Walnut street, Newtonville, was hidden by a bunch of bananas. As this circumstance constituted a violation of Section 91, Chapter 94 of the General Laws, Mr. Mosman made a complaint and the case came before the Newton court a couple of weeks ago but it was continued until January 20.

The A. & P. Company was represented by a lawyer from the firm of Dunbar, Nutter & McLennen and a plea of not guilty was made on the contention that "the hiding of the sign by the bananas was unintentional." Judge Bacon found the defendant guilty and imposed the fine.

ton (F. Thompson, Perry, Lodge, Davidson); Rindge (Taylor, MacKenzie, J. Thompson and Hall) second. Time, 2m. 29s.

Swimming Schedule Complete

The swimming team schedule has been completed except for final agreements on home and home dates with Pawtucket high school of Rhode Island. The team opened the season last week Wednesday with a victory over the Boston High School of Commerce mermen and the meet yesterday was the second. The remainder of the schedule follows:

Feb. 3—Boston English High at Newton.

Feb. 9—Huntington at Huntington.

Feb. 11—Exeter Academy at Exeter.

Feb. 14—Pawtucket at Pawtucket (tent.).

Feb. 24—Cambridge Latin at Newton.

Feb. 29—Brookline at Brookline.

Mar. 9—Pawtucket at Newton (tent.).

Mar. 15—Brookline at Newton.

Mar. 17—M. L. T. '31 at Newton.

Young Folks Forum Meets at Waban

Officers Nominated for the Coming Year

William Stevenson received first prize in the Intelligence test of the Waban Young People's Forum when the papers were returned last Sunday at its meeting in the vestry of the Union Church. His score was seventy-one out of a possible one hundred.

Mr. Rufus P. Cushman, chairman of the board of councilors, who gave the test the preceding Sunday and read the answers this Sunday, awarded Stevenson with a box of candy.

Following this the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald conducted his first monthly Question Box. He answered briefly questions passed in at the preceding meeting by members of the Forum. After the meeting the Executive Committee met and nominated the following for officers for the next year: President, Dunbar Holmes; Vice President, Mary Stephen; Secretary, Willetta Mosser; Treasurer, John Orger-singer; Supper Committee, Elsie Stephen, Edith Wheeler, Deborah Holmes; Music Committee, Phyllis Reinhardt; Activity Committee, William Bradford Gove.

The election will be held at the annual meeting, Feb. 26.

Plans were also made for a food sale to be held within a few weeks under the direction of Mrs. Stephen, assisted by Marjorie Whitaker and Fredricka Banning.

William Bradford Gove was elected chairman of the committee for the "Moonlight Cabaret," an entertainment to be held in the spring vacation, and plans for which will be announced next week, as well as the exact date. The other members of the committee are Dunbar Holmes and Muriel Andrews. Mrs. Carl H. Gove will be the councilor in charge. It is intended to enlist the aid of all former members of the Forum and a circular letter is to be sent out within a week to each of the members and alumni announcing the show.

For the next four meetings the Forum will join the Union Church in Waban in its Church Institute. All Waban young people of high school age are invited to attend.

The Newton Central Council began with this issue the Community Calendar, which, through the courtesy of the press, it plans to publish each week.

This Calendar will list for each day of the week the various activities of the Community agencies included in the Council, in so far as they have been reported to the office.

It is essential that the event be listed there not later than Monday of the week preceding that in which it occurs.

All organizations, therefore, wishing their regular or special events to be registered in the Calendar are urged to send their notices thus early either by mail, to the Newton Central Council, 12 Austin street, Newtonville, or by telephone, N.X. 2717—any forenoon except Saturday.

All agencies or individuals planning future events, however distant, are also urged to register these at the office where they will be recorded for future reference.

The Council believes that through this Clearing House for Dates at the office, and the Community Calendar as published, many conflicts, with their resulting disappointments and failures, may be avoided.

The value of these Calendars, however, depends upon the regularity and promptness with which all coming events are reported.

School Committee Discusses Problems

Refers Suggestion of Chief Engineer To Committee

At the meeting of the School Committee on Monday night a letter from Mayor Childs, dated January 4th, was read. It said:

"I understand that one of my utterances in my inaugural address has disturbed some people. If you remember, I said:

"I also raise the question whether our present method under which buildings are erected and maintained by the Building Department but operated by the School Department is an unwise and costly procedure. If you believe that it is, I suggest for your consideration the advisability of placing engineers, firemen and all of the men in charge of operating the heating and mechanical units of the school buildings under the Building Commission. This, in my judgment, would result in saving not only in repairs but in the use of fuel."

In making this statement I was criticizing nobody. Personally, I would rather see the whole system under a chief engineer appointed by the school authorities. I made a request once for an appropriation for that very purpose, but the money was not used thus, and therefore I assumed that the school authorities did not care for such an official. I still think that there ought to be a chief engineer, and if you wish to send me a recommendation to be included in the budget, I shall be glad to see that it is placed there."

The Mayor's communication was referred to the same sub-committee which is considering the matter of an increase in salaries of the school janitors.

The much discussed Oak Hill School came in for more attention at the meeting on Monday night. A letter from Buildings Commissioner Chadwick was read stating that the little old school at Oak Hill is unfit for use and should be torn down. Joseph F. Lockett, School Committee member from Ward 6, advocated the raising of the building and the use of a portable school house in its place. Other members of the committee favored deferring action on this matter. School Committee member Calkins expressed the opinion that inasmuch as there are but 13 children in the Oak Hill School, the parents of the children to have these pupils attend the Mason School at Newton Centre.

Oak Hill again occupied considerable of the time of the committee on another discussion of the matter of carrying nine pupils from that section, who attend the Mason School, to and from their homes each noon time that they attend school in order that they may have a hot dinner at home. The city provides transportation for these children to the school mornings and to their homes after school closes each school day. The parents of these children have been demanding that the city also provide transportation for them at meal time. The sub-committee which has been considering the petition for the extra transportation recommended that the petition be denied. The School Committee voted that the matter be referred back to the sub-committee for the purpose of submitting a proposal to the parents of the nine Oak Hill children that they contribute to the cost of the noon transportation.

Evidently the School Committee thinks the city is doing its part when it brings the children from Oak Hill to the Mason School and then takes them home again, without providing "lunch transportation" for them. If this concession were granted to Oak Hill, it certainly would be followed by demands from other parts of Newton for similar concessions. Oak Hill is the rural section of the city and is

Choral Society To Have New Director

Mr. Malcolm Lang Succeeds Director Wm. L. Bates

The Newton Choral Society has engaged as its musical director, Mr. Malcolm Lang, who is the conductor of the Cecilia Society of Boston, also of the Harvard Alumni Musical Club. As the head of the noted organizations named above, he is one of the leading directors of choral music in this country. The singers of Newton and vicinity are very much favored to have the opportunity of working under his instruction. He comes from a widely known musical family, and is the son of B. J. Lang, who was long a famous conductor.

The members of the society will find their work under such a brilliant instructor extremely interesting and very valuable as vocal training. All the singers of Newton are welcome, and are not required to pass any vocal tests.

The meetings of the society are to be resumed after the holiday vacation Tuesday evening, January 31st, at 7:45, at the Central Church, Newtonville.

The society is very grateful to its retiring director, Mr. William Lester Bates, for the untiring zeal with which he has worked for the society during its eight years of existence. Mr. Bates is a very talented musician, with remarkable gifts as a chorister, and with unusual power to arouse the enthusiasm of his singers. Under his direction 16 concerts have been given of a high order of artistic merit, and the success of these performances has been principally due to the inspiring character of Mr. Bates' service. He has devoted a great deal of time and energy to building up the society, and the most hearty thanks are due to him for this service given to the music lovers and the community generally.

sparsely settled. Probably the School Committee believes that persons who establish their homes in a rural district to enjoy the advantages of a country atmosphere, and possibly less expensive land, should not expect to also be accorded the advantages which are enjoyed by those who reside in more congested districts and who, having settled in urban surroundings, must forego the delights of the open country in order to obtain the compensations which result from living in a thickly populated neighborhood.

The sub-committee on transportation also recommended that a questionnaire be sent to parents of Waban children attending the Levi Warren School to ascertain how many of these pupils will use the special bus service from Waban to the school. The parents ask for more buses. The Middlesex & Boston Company asserts that this bus service has not been well patronized.

Director of Music Spaulding appeared before the committee and told of the need of $1500 to purchase more musical instruments for use by pu-

Two Performances Of Rainbow Revue

Casts and Soloists Announced For Revue of Revues

The coming week will usher in the "Rainbow Revue of Revues," which is a "best seller" at many clubs in Massachusetts. The Revues are written, staged and directed by C. Hassler Capron of Newton Centre, who is an authority on lighting and a lecturer and instructor on stagecraft and lighting. His lecture for clubs and schools on "The Value of Light to Modern Drama" is proving a popular one.

The hall will be set cabaret style with tables and chairs, and members of the Newton Centre Neighborhood Club, assisted by young girls, will sell drinks and candy. Mrs. Cyrus T. Schirmer is Director of Activities, and tables can be obtained from her for Friday night, February 3rd, the opening performance. Dancing will follow the performances both Friday and Saturday nights, with Lou Haf-fenmeier's eight-piece orchestra.

The Revue is of unusual spectacular beauty, and will consist of two acts and twelve scenes. Twenty-two girls comprise the chorus, and ten of them have been in past Revues. Miss Elinor Young being the only girl to have the record of five consecutive years.

The children's number, "Little Red Riding Hood," is presented by sixteen children, with Miss Dorothea Barton as soloist. The children are as follows: Barbara Anderson, Rosalind Bigelow, Carolyn Carleton, Janet Dill, Phillis McKey, Alta Maloney, Nancy Pierce, Ruth Ulmer, Bessie Elliott, Caroline Everts, Gloria Carleton, Helen McKey, Ada Merriam, Beverley Pierce, Althea Sutton, Eleanor Colony, Patricia Taylor, Betty Fales and Priscilla Wright.

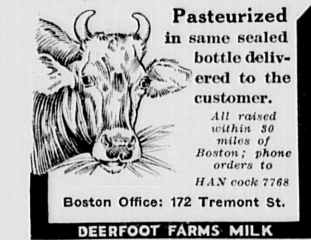

The cast of the chorus for the regular Revue is as follows: Virginia Beatey, Helen Courtney, Barbara Crossley, Helen Dearing, Elsie Dilworth, Harriet Fitz, Lucile Harlow, Frances Holmes, Mildred MacDonald, Helen Morgan, Norma Morgan, Margaret Miller, Betty Murphy, Eola Niles, Penelope Ritzgeway, Gwendolyn Souder, Ann Stratton, Helen Stuart, June Wilbur, Elinor Young.

The soloists will be Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Stuart, Mr. Norman Powers, Mr. Chester Pratt, Miss Jeanette Frink, Miss Carolyn McClellan, Miss Carol McGaw, Miss Dorothea Barton, Miss Priscilla Wright, Mr. Donald Howard of Cambridge, tenor soloist and master of ceremonies at the Club Carnac, and Miss Gretchen Grant, specialty dancer of George M. Cohan's shows, are our two professional performers.

pils who desire to learn to play. Miss Ruth O'Donnell of 619 Washington street, who has been a teacher for some years at the Pierce School, was appointed principal's assistant with a salary increase of $100. Miss Erma Reed, who has been a teacher at the Franklin School, sent in her resignation. She is soon to become a bride.

The committee voted to permit the use of the auditorium at the new high school by Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, on the night of Sunday, May 13, for a debate between Boston College and Holy Cross College. Committee member Calkins voted against this permit on the grounds that he is opposed to allowing school halls to be used on Sundays.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

BELMONT COURT

Wednesday afternoon the Newton high basketball team annexed its second win in five starts by taking Coach "Polly" Harris' Belmont high five for camp on the Belmont high court, 19 to 12. The orange and black team came from behind in the second quarter to gain the lead and were never headed. The home team lead at the end of the first quarter 6 to 2, but deMille took Rockwood's place at center when the latter moved to a guard position and at the end of the half Newton led 9 to 8. In the second half Captain Pearce and his mates tallied ten points while holding Belmont to four. Newton's tall centre, deMille, was the high scorer of the game with eight points, six of which were scored on free throws.

The Newton second team also won over the Belmont seconds by a score of 12 to 2. The playing of Kirkpatrick, who tallied half of Newton's point, featured this game. Belmont counted its only basket shortly after the first whistle, while the fine defensive work of Assistant Coach Simmons' boys prevented further scoring.

Lynch Star in Rindge Game

Last Friday afternoon the Newton quintet lost its second game of the season to Rindge on the latter's court by a score of 41 to 20. Eddie Lynch, star centre of the home team, was the high scorer of the game with 13 points. He was closely followed by his teammate and left forward Frank Westcott with 11 points. Don Parson led for Newton with seven points, while Becker and deMille scoring five points each.

SPORT NOTES

Johnson Star in Defeat

Last week the Hebron Academy hockey team gained a 4 to 3 decision over the Dartmouth freshman sextet at Hanover in an exciting game. Bob Pickard was at left defense for the winners. Henry Johnson was the star for the Green yearlings with two goals. He was forced out of the game in the second period with a badly cut hand. Despite the small amount of practice the Hanoverians have had this season they showed up well. Harold Andres teamed up with Johnson at the defense positions.

Whitmore Gives B. U. Tie

Holmes Whitmore, playing right wing for the Boston University hockey team, enabled his team to tie the Boston College sextet at the Arena last Friday night. With the Terriers leading 2 to 0 the Eagles went to work in the second period and tied the score. Nick Tedesco registered a goal on a shot from quarter and a little later a teammate tied it up. Midway of the final period the University Heights outfit went into the lead. With a slanting drive Whitmore let go a long fast drive which slid past the goaltender and tied the count. In the overtime period the two outfits battled fiercely to no avail.

Robbins and Hill Win Roll-off
Robbins and Hill of the Waban Neighborhood Club won the annual Newton Bowling League roll-off at the Commercial Club Saturday night, with a total of 1568. Robbins was the leading individual bowler, getting 1057 for a 5-string total. He broke the season's record for a single string by hitting 275, only 25 from the limit, in his opening string. The Commercial Club pair took second, and Dexter and Colby of Hunnewell, with 1549, third. Dexter made the second highest five-string total with 950. Swanberg and Carter of the Newton Club ran last with 1448.

Y Five in Close Game

Saturday night the Newton Y basketball team played its return game with the Chelsea Y quintet at Chelsea in a two-state league contest. The Chelsea five won by a score of 30 to 27 in a fast and exciting game. Donald Cunningham, Newton left forward, was the high scorer of the game with six goals from the floor and one on a free shot for 13 points.

Newton Centre at Top

In the Class C series of the Mass. Squash Racquets' Association flight Newton Centre still leads the field with 23 wins and 3 losses. Last Saturday the local team made a clean sweep of its matches with University Club. Walkover, four matches behind Newton Centre, also made a clean sweep of M. I. T. to hold second place and keep pace with the leaders. Union B. C. won from the Newton Club 3 to 2 to keep the latter out of seventh place. LeBaron and Schofield were the Newton Club winners.

Blaney Stars in Williams Victory
Captain Bill Blaney of the Williams College hockey team led his mates to a 3 to 1 victory over the Union College sextet last Saturday at Williams town. He tallied the first goal in the opening session to put his team in the lead.

Yale Freshmen Win

Saturday the Newton sextet journeyed to New Haven where they met Yale '31 and their second defeat of the season from a college freshman outfit. After a slow beginning the game became filled with excitement in the third period when the orange and black team came from behind with three goals in quick succession to tie the Yale freshmen, who had led at 4 to 0 earlier in the game. After the score became tied the Blue yearlings staged a determined attack which netted two more counters for the final score of 6 to 4. Midway of the second period Frank Spain caged Newton's first counter, while in the third Bennett, Brown and Wilkie, each with a goal, knotted the count. Captain Jimmy Brown and Frank Spain played their usual excellent game.

NEWTON SLIGHT
BROOKLINE HIGH

What is expected to be the most exciting dual meet on tomorrow's school-boy track card is scheduled to take place on the Newton high school track in the old drill shed at Newtonville when Coach Donald Enoch will send his charges against the Brookline high runners under Coach Tom Hines. Because several of the officials are to act in a similar capacity at the K. of C. meet in Boston in the evening the first event will be called promptly at 2:15 in order that they may get away early. On the performances of the athletes on the two teams during the meets that have already been held this season Newton is a slight favorite and should win over the invaders by a margin of ten to fifteen points. But dual track meets are not for furnishing the settings for unexpected upsets and in the long run the cold figures often belie the facts. At any rate, the spectators, of whom there will be a plenty, will see some thrilling races staged between the foremost runners in the school boy track world this winter.

Coach Enoch will probably have seven entries in the dash including Fowler and Romaine Cole, Hamilton Kollmyer, Nathan Pearson, Donald MacIntyre, Kilburn Adams, and John Carter. The two Cole brothers scored first and second against Brookline last Saturday in a blanket finish and are likely to repeat tomorrow. They will go against a number of fast opponents among whom will be John Badaracco and Daniel Rollins.

The hurdle race will be one of the best of the meet as it should put Romaine Cole of Newton and Eugene Record of Brookline in the finals with one other survivor of the preliminary heats who may or may not be Edgar Warren of Newton. Cole and Record are two of the best hurdlers in the state this season with neither having anything on the other. Last year at the Andover interscholastics Record was chosen over Cole for third place in the finals and the point was credited to Brookline. But Record knew in his own mind that Cole had beaten him and he insisted that the latter take the medal. This is but one of the many instances of good sportsmanship the Brookline has shown.

With both schools having several entries in the 300-yard run the event will be run off in two or more heats against time with the three best times figuring in the point scoring. If Nathan Pearson is running in the form he showed in the finals of last year, the school record for that distance he should win over John Badaracco, Brookline's best entry. Fowler Cole has it in him to press Pearson closely and he too may nose out the Brookline man.

The 600-yard run will see the captain of the two teams pitted against each other, neither team has more than three entries it will not be run in heats. Captain Eugene Record of Brookline, a 600-yard runner who can hold his own with the best of them, is favored over Captain Malcolm Reed of Newton. Reed changed over from the 300-yard run to the longer distance a few weeks ago and has come along admirably since then.

The 1000-yard run will be all Jimmie McCrudden who will make an attempt to lower his mark last week when he tied the school record made by Wesley Dicks in this race will be for second place where Gilbert Adams will have a chance to show his mettle.

Newton, for the first time in many years, is exceptionally strong in all of the field events. Creighton Gatchell and Carl Pescosolido will take first and second in the shot put as Jim Ryan, Brookline's best weight man, has done but 38 feet in his best put this year. Gatchell has 43 feet to his credit while Pescosolido has been tossing the 8-pound ball over 40 feet in practice.

Edward Ebelhare will not have to remove his sweatshirt to score first in the high jump but Brookline entries, capable of 5 feet 5 inches, will make Milton Fine, Hamilton Kollmyer, and Edgar Warren display their best form to get into the point scoring.

Kilburn Adams and John Carter, broad jump with ease with the battle for the remaining points a close one between Milton Fine and Stanley Brown of Newton over Brookline's best leapers.

The relay, which settled the issue in the Medford meet when the Newton four won by a comfortable margin to take the meet by one point, will prob-

PEARSON AND McRUDDEN SET
NEW RECORDSNew Track Marks in 300 and 1000
Tie School Records

Scoring eight out of nine first places and tying for the other first, the Newton High track team had little difficulty in defeating the Brookline High School runners on the Newton track last Saturday by the score of 58 to 19. In spite of Newton's superiority, each event was closely contested, with the exception of the relay which Newton won by a matter of fifteen yards. The features of the day were the running of Nathan Pearson in the 300 and Jimmy McCrudden in the 1000. Both set new records for the track and tied the school records which were made several years ago, before new end banks were built. Another thrilling race was staged in the 600-yard run when Captain Malcolm Reed of Newton ran a dead heat with Casimir Yakovonis of Brookline.

The 35-yard hurdles were the first event, with each team having four entries. Romaine Cole of Newton won the first heat, and Chris Clifford, Brookline's star, the second. In the third heat Kenneth Farrell of Brookline nosed out Edgar Warren of Newton for the right to compete in the finals. Romaine Cole broke the tape six inches ahead of Clifford in the finals to give Newton first place. Farrell took third.

Seventeen entries in the 35-yard dash forced the event into four preliminary heats, one semi-final for the second men in the trial heats, and a final with six entries. Romaine Cole beat Fowler of Brookline in the first heat, Fowler Cole beat Larry O'Connell in the second. Orrin Oulette of Brookline beat Kollmyer of Newton in the third, and Joe Paterno of Brookline beat Nate Pearson in the fourth. In the heat for second men Pearson and Kollmyer placed one and two to give them the chance to run in the finals. The Cole brothers, Pearson and Kollmyer of Newton and Oulette and Paterno of Brookline shut out the line for the final. Orrin Oulette of Brookline took first, Romaine Cole second and Oulette third.

The 600-yard run was next in order and as it preceded the shot-put Coach Enoch would not permit Creighton Gatchell to enter it as on the previous Saturday when the popular Newton athlete took third without previous training. Capt. Reed of Newton and Yakovonis of Brookline fought it out all the way, with the former taking the lead. Midway of the race the Brookline entry passed Reed and stepped out ahead by three or four yards. Reed tried valiantly to catch him and was on his heels at the last corner. There Yakovonis turned his head and Reed caught him but could not go ahead and they ran the last 25 yards side by side. Fred Burton of Newton took third.

The 300-yard run was in three heats against time. Fowler Cole won the first heat in 37.45 seconds over Paterno of Brookline. James Doherty of Brookline was clocked in 37 seconds in the second heat. In the third heat Pearson had no one to press him but he set a new track record of 36.25 seconds. His time beat the school record by Walter McQuiston a few years ago on the old track.

The winners of each heat placed in the reverse order in the finals. Creighton Gatchell won the shot-put with a heave of 43 ft. 5 inches. Last week when Gatchell placed second with a heave of 42 feet, over two feet better than he had ever done before in competition, he remarked to Coach Enoch that he didn't think he could do it again. But he continues to improve and by the time the state meet rolls around he is more than point winners. Newton's weakness in this event at the start of the season was one of the glaring problems Coach Enoch had to face, but now it seems to be solved. Coach Enoch has another promising shot-putter in Carl Pescosolido, whose put of 38 feet 9 inches gave him second place. This was his first competition in this event.

True to expectations Newton took three places in the standing broad jump, with Robert Kinraide, Milton Fine and Stanley Brown finishing in that order.

In the 1000-yard run three watches were used to make certain of timing. McCrudden correctly in his effort to lower the figures. John Barounous of Brookline clung like a leech to McCrudden for three-quarters of the race before the pace got too fast for him. McCrudden then pulled away and on the last lap opened a lead of over half a lap. The Newton boy's time of 2 minutes 26.45 seconds tied the school record set by Wesley Dicks in 1926. While Tom Clausen was timed in the same figures in the Alumni meet a few weeks ago McCrudden's time will stand as a new track record as these marks must be ably be another close affair. The school that is ahead at the conclusion of tomorrow's races may not be the winner as next week Saturday the two schools will stage another meet on the Brookline track with total points scored in the two meets to count. Romaine Cole, Fowler Cole, Nathan Pearson and Captain Malcolm Reed compose a team that will force any other schoolboy runners in the field this winter to their limit to take victory away and they should win over the Brookline quartet.

The next week when Newton goes over to the Brookline track they will need as much of a margin as they can possibly get tomorrow as the Brookline runners will have the advantage of running on their own track which the local youths have tomorrow.

set by a student at the time they are made. Baronous was second and Gilbert Adams of Newton third.

Edward Ebelhare had to jump but 5 ft. 6 inches to win the high jump over Allen Ross of Brookline second and Hamilton Kollmyer of Newton third.

The relay race, the final event, was a thriller among the leadoff men, Romaine Cole and James Doherty, with the latter handing over his second man a two yard lead. Fowler Cole took the lead away from Clifford and gave Pearson a ten yard advantage. The latter increased that margin by three yards over Stedman of Brookline. Malcolm Reed increased this advantage considerably in his second race of the afternoon against Yakovonis.

The summary:
35-Yard Hurdles—Won by R. Cole, Clifford, second; Farrell, third. Time, 1:15.5.

SPORT NOTES

Exeter Defeats Cantabs

The Exeter Academy hockey team shut out the Cambridge High and Latin six Saturday at Exeter, 2 to 0. Turner, a Waltham lad, counted both goals, the first of which came as the result of a pass from Captain Wilson Crosby of West Newton.

Osborne Star of Meet

Lloyd Osborne of the Exeter swimming team continued his winning ways in the meet between Exeter and Malden High School Saturday in the Exeter tank which the prep school mermen won handily by a score of 54 to 8. The former Newton High star and New England junior champion, won the 100-yard swim and tied with a teammate for first in the 200-yard event.

Yale Swamps New Hampshire

Tuesday at New Haven the Yale hockey team swamped the New Hampshire sextet by the score of 11 to 2. Palmer scored seven goals, Curtis three and Captain Dick Vaughan one for the Eli outfit.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The first half of the men's Boston pin bowling tournament was held Monday evening when Team 11, George F. Tracy, captain, Nathan P. Cutler, Jr., Frank G. Dennison, Dr. Sterling N. Loveland, and W. K. Brimblecom took four points from Team 8, W. A. Somerby, captain, W. F. Garcelon, S. E. Blanchard, F. B. Cummings, and W. H. Marland. The tournament was the largest in the club's history with sixteen teams entered and divided into two sections. Team 11 was the winner of the second section and Team 8 the winner of the first. Captain A. H. Goodsell's team tied Team 11 in the final match of section 2, last Saturday, necessitating a roll-off string which Captain Tracy's team won by five pins. In section 1 Captain Somerby's team was the winner after a roll-off match with Saturday night team, captained by P. S. Jamieson and H. D. Lloyd.

In addition to the team prizes awarded to the first and second teams there were individual prizes won as follows: Frank G. Dennison, high single string (143) scratch; William F. Garcelon, high single string (137) handicap; E. W. Greene, high average 107.3/15 and H. H. Larnard, high three string (364) scratch. A three string total of 368 pins was rolled by Frank G. Dennison but being restricted to but one individual prize Mr. Larnard was awarded the prize. Mr. Greene barely nosed out Nathan P. Cutler, Jr., for the high average honor by the narrow margin of four pins in the total pinfall of the tournament which gave Mr. Cutler an average of 106 14/15.

The second half of the tournament in which fifteen teams are entered in a round robin series all but one section begins Monday evening and will run until the middle of May.

ROTARY CLUB

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the Newton Rotary Club was that held on Monday noon at the Newton Theological Seminary at Newton Centre, where the members were guests of the faculty and students.

Notwithstanding the fact that only a few members of the club were at the location of the Seminary, there was a large attendance and the delicious luncheon was thoroughly enjoyed.

A quartet of students delighted the club with several selections and there was the usual club singing under the direction of Carl Switzer and Louis Haffner.

A rousing reception was given to a new member, Irving O. Palmer, principal of the Newton High School.

President E. C. Herrick of the Seminary was the chief speaker and told of the organization of the Seminary over a hundred years ago and of the steady stream of graduates who had carried the name of Newton all over the world. Dr. Herrick's remarks were interspersed with considerable humor but it did not interfere with his principal theme that the world while emphasizing the material sides of industry and science was neglecting the spiritual insight and leadership. Remarks were made by John Scammon for the junior class, Oswald Tarkenton and Mayor Childs.

MISS FRENCH DEAD

Miss Mary L. French, the daughter of the late James and Lucia W. French, died on Sunday at a private hospital in Newton after a long illness. Miss French was 62 years of age and is survived by a brother Mr. James W. French. Funeral services were held from Mr. French's home on Hunnewell hill on Tuesday, Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace church, officiating and the interment was at Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

AUBURNDALE LIBRARY

A series of six Story Hours will be held in the Plummer Memorial Library at Auburndale every other Saturday morning, at 10:30 o'clock, beginning January 28th.

Boys and girls from the third grade through Junior High School are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Mary W. Cronan of the Boston Public Library, and instructor at Miss Wheelock's School, will tell the stories.

The Newton Free Library is offering this opportunity to boys and girls, to acquaint them with the fine stories, new and old, that may be found on the shelves of the Children's Room in the new Branch Library and at the Main Library.

NEWTON CENTRE LIBRARY

A series of six Story Hours will be held in the Story-telling Room of the Newton Centre Branch Library on Monday afternoons at 4 o'clock, beginning January 30th.

Boys and girls from the third grade through Junior High School are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Mary W. Cronan and Mrs. Margaret Powers, both of the Boston Public Library, and Newton Free Library, will tell the stories.

Who Votes In Newton, And Where They Vote

An investigation of the vote cast in the recent city election on December 13, 1927, seems to show that the poorer citizens of Newton, that is, those citizens who are poor financially, perform the civic duty of going to the polls much more faithfully than do the richer citizens of Newton. The following table should be scrutinized by our readers. It shows that but 54% of the registered voters went to the polls at the last city election. It shows that the people of Nonantum easily led the remainder of the city. Precinct 3 of Ward 2 was the first with a percentage of 79.2, and Precinct 1 of Ward 1 was a close second with a percentage of 78.3. These two precincts are both located almost entirely in Nonantum. Precinct 3 of Ward 3, on the north side of the city, at West Newton, populated mostly by wage-earners, was third with a percentage of 70; Precinct 1 of Ward 5 at the Upper Falls, another working-man's district was fourth with 61.4%. The only wealthy district which made a fairly creditable showing was Precinct 2 of Ward 3, the West Newton Hill section, which had a percentage of 60.7.

Among the wealthier sections of the city, Precinct 2 of Ward 2, the part of Newtonville south of the railroad tracks, had a percentage of 57.5; many residents of Newton Centre did not bother going to the polls; of those living north of Beacon street in Precinct 1, only 46.3% voted, and those living south of Beacon street in Precinct 2, Ward 6, but 52.1% voted. At Newton Corner of the citizens in the more wealthy part of Ward 1, 59.1% voted. In the other ward at Newton Corner, Ward 7, in the less wealthy section; Precinct 1, half, or 50.4% of the citizens who are registered voters, went to the polls. In the wealthier section of Ward 7, but 38.3% of the voters condescended to bother with a mere city election.

In Ward 5 the Newton Highlands district was quite apathetic as regarded city affairs, so the city election figures showed. Only 38.6% of the people there who can vote, did vote. At Waban, whose residents pride themselves as possessing unusual civic zeal, just 39% of the registered voters took part in the city election. The worst showing in the whole city was made in Precinct 3 of Ward 6, the exclusive Chestnut Hill section. There only 36.3% of the registered voters went to the polls. The appended table will show in what parts of Newton are located the fields for missionary work to stimulate citizens to perform their civic duties.

SECOND CHURCH ANNUAL DINNER

"The Annual Church Dinner" of Second Church, which was held on Friday evening, January 20, in the Parish House, was beyond all doubt the most successful assembly of the Church since its organization. Over 400 members sat down for dinner with over 60 disappointed members who could not be accommodated for lack of room. Twelve years ago, the spacious auditorium, with Fuller Chapel, together with the extensive Parish House with its Ladies' parlors, Chapel and Sunday School rooms, seemed more than adequate for all possible future needs of the Church and Parish. Today finds the Church grown beyond all comprehension or possible belief. The beautiful edifice with its faultless appointments, the intricate carvings of wood and stone, the comfortable atmosphere of the entire church, with its soft grays and warmth of red, are a sight and a feast to the eye. The Auxiliary Choir, a thoroughly trained group of chorists, with the Chancel Choir, under the excellent training of Mr. William Lester Bates, fills a much enjoyed and anticipated chorally evoked delight to those who appreciate technical perfection. The Church dinner, under the efficient management of Mrs. Harry S. Wells, who proved herself so true-to-detail and accuracy that the entire repast moved on like well-oiled machinery with not even a suggestion of error or regret. Mr. Henry B. Patrick acted as Moderator for the evening. Mr. Joseph D. Wood, retiring clerk, read the year reports, followed by the election of new officers for 1928, which resulted in the election of Mr. Charles E. Gibson, Moderator; Mr. George S. Fuller, Clerk; Mr. Charles E. Benson, Treasurer; Mr. James Hammond, Mr. John A. Paine, and Mr. Robert H. Gross as new elected Deacons; Mr. Frank Grebe, Superintendent of the Sunday School and Director of Religious Education.

Reverend Boynton Merrill, who was in charge of the evening's entertainment, proved himself an able manager, the results of which, convulsed the listeners until the memory of that evening will linger long with those who were fortunate enough to be "one of the four hundred."

Those drawn were—Walter A. Livingston, 224 Adams avenue; Frederic Cole, 55 Brookside avenue; Lowell D. McNutt, Vista avenue; Albert L. Scott, Chase street; J. Joseph Warren, 52 Linden street.

How Massachusetts Has Reduced Expenses

Hon. Charles P. Howard of Reading, Chairman of the Commission on Administration and Finance of Massachusetts was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Woodland on Tuesday. Mr. Howard held the attention of the 75 members present with an interesting talk on the manner in which Massachusetts has in the past nine years greatly reduced the per-capita cost of conducting this Commonwealth, has paid off millions of dollars in debts and stands far ahead of any other state in the Union in the matter of conducting its activities efficiently and economically.

Mr. Howard prefaced his talk with the explanation that governments, whether municipal, state or national, may be conducted in one of two ways. The first way is one which is commonly used, and which was in vogue in this state prior to the institution of the budget system and the creation of the Commission on Administration and Finance here. This way was characterized by Mr. Howard as "The give them what they want method." Under this method the cost of government soars continually and rapidly, taxes keep increasing until they become such a burden to industry that many large corporations are forced out of business because they cannot compete with rivals located in states where taxes are lower. Mr. Howard referred to the closing down of many textile mills in this state, largely because of over-taxation, and the resultant idleness forced on thousands of persons who had worked in these mills. When Massachusetts operated under this method it functioned through 101 different departments and expenses and much wastefulness. Since the budget system has been adopted by the Commonwealth the number of departments conducting the affairs of the State has been reduced from 101 to 20, system and economy have replaced hap-hazardness and extravagance, and under the careful scrutiny of the Chairman of the Commission on Administration and Finance and their assistants vast sums have been saved for the taxpayers of the state. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been saved yearly on the single item of printing state documents, and instead of the superficial consideration which our Governors of necessity could give before the present system was established, all purchases and demands for materials get careful and proper scrutiny.

Besides bringing about economy and efficiency in the matter of administration, the Commission has had charge of the personnel, which constitutes the 13,000 employees of the state. Mr. Howard asserted that few corporations have as fair a system of dealing equitably with their employees as does the state, despite the assertions to the contrary by some discontented employees.

While other states have been laboring under constantly increasing expenses, while cities all over the country, including those in Massachusetts, this state has kept its cost of running down to about 75% increase over pre-war days, as compared with an increase of about 101% for the next state, Wisconsin, and much larger increases for other states. North Carolina making the worst showing with an increase of over 700%. The state debt has been reduced in the last 10 years from over $40,000,000 to about $14,000,000, despite the fact that many additions have been made to the institutions conducted by the Commonwealth and the improvement of hundreds of miles of state roads. Mr. Howard concluded his talk by commenting that the economies effected by the Commission on Administration and Finance, operating since 1919 under the budget system should be appreciated by all the taxpayers of Massachusetts whose pocketbooks have benefited by the savings made.

While we are without actual figures to support the statement we are very sure that the police are very lax in enforcing the dog leashing regulation in this city. We have seen quite a number of dogs running at large during the past few weeks, towards which the police were apparently blind.

If the Legislature approves the state budget, as recommended by Governor Fuller, the reduction in the state tax from $12,000,000 to $8,500,000 means a saving of about $55,000 in the state tax paid by Newton.

A Senate which thinks it is too good to associate with Col. Frank L. Smith of Illinois allows one of its own bietherskites to repeatedly insult twenty millions of the people of the United States.

LODGES

Monday evening Mt. Ida Council, No. 1247, Royal Arcanum, installed officers for 1928. This was the first installation in the new hall at 92 Bowers street, Newtonville, where Mt. Ida now meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. The officers installed were: Regent, Samuel E. Giherson; Vice Regent, David Webster; Orator, Chas. H. Milliken; Past Regent, Wm. N. Goddard; Secretary, Edward F. Melia; Collector, James F. Hall; Treasurer, Earnest F. Dow; Chaplain, Malcolm P. McKennon; Guide, Ludwig Gerhard; Warden, Archie A. Wilson; Sentry, H. G. Chandler; Trustees, Dennis J. Hoarigan, Joseph B. Robson, Hon. Edwin O. Childs.

After the installation the installing officer Deputy Grand Regent Lysson Gordon spoke in a very happy vein. Brother Sidney Porter spoke and entertained with Scotch stories. Brother Edwin O. Childs spoke and referred particularly to the young men present and of those joining the fraternity. The Entertainment Committee Brothers Chas. H. Milliken, David Webster and Archie Wilson closed a very enjoyable evening with refreshments and cigars.

One of the prettiest degrees seen in any lodge of Rebekahs in Newton in some years was put on by Tennyson Rebekah Lodge No. 119, of West Newton on Tuesday evening, January 17th, when Mrs. Sarah Temperley of Newton Centre and Walter K. Valentine of West Newton joined the lodge.

Great credit for the beautiful work is due Mrs. Iva Patterson, the Noble Grand; Mrs. Anna Seaver, Vice Grand; Mrs. Catherine Buck, Chaplain; Mrs. Lillian Barton, Past Noble Grand, and Mrs. Ethel Stegars, Conductor, but Miss Harriet Hodgson, the Degree Mistress must be given a lot of credit for the beautiful marches and tableaux.

AUBURDALE CLUB PLAYERS

The presentation of "Sun-Up" by the Auburdales Club Players Wednesday and Thursday evenings was delightfully given and well attended. Sun-Up by Lulu Vollmer, is a drama in three acts, of the North Carolina mountains, and was produced under the direction of Ernest Law Johnson. The cast included Helen Brown, Walter Van Batten, Lorraine Fox, Holmes, James D. Graham, Bradley L. Hill, David Clark, Charles J. Hewson, Herbert C. Mayer, Alan Dunlop. Mr. Carl Webster, violin soloist, accompanied by Mr. Raymond Coon, furnished music during the intermissions.

KIWANIS BOWLING LEAGUE

Two contests in the Kiwanis Bowling League were played Wednesday night at the Newton Corner Bowling Alleys. The Allston-Brighton Club defeated Waltham two strings to one and Newton took three straight strings from Wellesley. "Doc" Paul was high scorer for Newton and George Johnson, while not so prominent as he was twenty-five years ago when he starred at the old Newton Corner alleys, retained enough of his old form to roll the second best score for Newton.

NEWTONVILLE SCHOOL SITE?

The joint committee of aldermen and school committee members has decided on site for the new school at Newtonville. The proposed location was made known to the School Committee Monday night but it will be kept a deep secret until the Mayor officially recommends its taking by the city. The reason for this is to prevent any real estate speculators from buying the site before the city seizes it. The School Committee wants the new building to contain at least 10 classrooms, an auditorium, kindergarten quarters and the usual rooms for the principal's office, teachers' room, dispensary, etc.

BOY SCOUTS

Two More Eagle Scouts in Newton Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, which includes all of Newton, at its Court of Honor held Tuesday evening, January 17th, awarded the Eagle Badge to Assistant Scoutmaster Julius Ober and to Scout James Colligan of Troop 1, Newtonville. In order to secure this highest honor in Scouting, a boy must have earned at least 21 Merit Badges, a certain number of which are specified.

The Court of Honor, which is the awarding body of the Council, was composed of President William T. Halliday, First Vice President G. D. W. Marcy, Commissioner John M. Woodbridge, Jr., who was chairman of the Court, Scout Executive L. A. Bruce, Jr., Commander Deputy Commissioners E. W. Varney and E. W. Bartram, Dr. Cecil W. Clark, of the Executive Board, and Harold S. Rice of the Board of Scout Examinations.

The meeting opened with regular troop formation and color ceremony by Troop 1, under Scoutmaster Sloane. This was followed by Scout demonstrations, including friction fire, in which Scout Winston Sharpe made a blaze in 10 4-5 seconds. First Aid under Assistant Scoutmaster Alfred Ziegler, then Morse and Semaphore Signalling under Assistant Bruce Stewart.

Robert Spooner, drum major of the troop drum and bugle corps, led the corps in several selections and then the troop harmonica band, under Scout James Colligan, gave their program.

At the close of this troop program the meeting was turned over to Commissioner Woodbridge, who declared that the Norumbega Council Court of Honor was in session. President Halliday spoke briefly to the parents, of whom there were about 100 or 150, telling about the work of the Council and its growth during the past year. He stated that there has been an increase of 92 percent in the number of Scouts, now totalling 522, and an increase of about 60 percent in the number of troop officers. At the present time, he said, there are about 750 men and boys actively engaged in Scouting in Newton.

The Commissioner then introduced the Scout Executive and he appealed to the parents for their sympathetic and understanding co-operation with scoutmasters and troop officers in their excellent work of man-building through the Scout program.

Other Awards Made

Second class badges were awarded by Deputy Commissioner Bartram to the following Scouts:

Robert Wead Troop 1
 Henry Littlefield " 4
 Harold Banks " 4

Bronze Palm Award
 Dr. Clark awarded a Bronze Palm to Eagle Scout Leslie Doten of Troop 5, and explained that this Bronze Palm was awarded for securing five Merit Badges in addition to those required for the rank of Eagle Scout, and at least six months' satisfactory service as an Eagle Scout.

Eagle Scout Awards
 Commissioner Woodbridge then called upon Scoutmaster Sloane to call upon Scout James Colligan and Assistant Scoutmaster Julius Ober for the Eagle award. Vice President Marcy made the award to Assistant Scoutmaster Ober, stating that the Scout who earns the Eagle Badge honors the troop, the Council and the whole Scout movement. He further stated that to win the badge the Scout must prove under widely different and careful specified tests, his ability, skill, perseverance and character. He then pinned the Eagle Badge on Scout Ober's breast.

In presenting the Eagle Badge to Scout James Colligan, President Halliday strongly seconded Mr. Marcy's remarks and further commented upon the good work being done by Troop 1 generally.

At the close of the presentation ceremony, Scoutmaster Sloane, for the troop officers and troop committee, presented both new Eagle Scouts with wrist watches, and the troop gave them a resounding cheer.

Troop 1, Newtonville, with the following Troop Committee, acted as hosts at the affair: A. M. Ziegler, Nelson B. Vanderpool, Alfred I. Kenzott, George W. Taylor, Cecil W. Clark, Elissa L. Avery, Charles E. Lynde, John H. Eddy, H. E. Dubuy. The next Courts of Honor are scheduled for

UNION CHURCH IN WABAN

The annual church supper, followed by the annual meetings of both church and society, was held in the vestry of the Union Church on Friday evening, January 20th. Almost 200 people partook of the excellent dinner which was prepared by Mrs. O. R. Rice and her able committee.

The activities of the church were set forth in the reports of the following: Dr. E. J. Morse, for the Sunday School; Mrs. H. S. Kimball, for the Women's Association; Miss Muriel Andrews, for the Young People's Forum; Sydney A. Clark, for the Music Committee. All of these showed growth and progress.

The following were elected to office for the year 1928: Clerk, George F. Rivinius; Treasurer, John MacNair; Deacons, Clifford H. Walker, Rufus P. Cushman and George F. Reinhardt; Member of Standing Committee, Mrs. Wellington Rindge; Church School Superintendent, Dr. Edwin J. Morse; Chairman of Ushers, Wallace Egerston.

Two most interesting reports were given in the meeting of the society by Henry C. Robbins, as chairman of the Building Committee, and Charles A. Andrews, as chairman of the Standing Committee. These related to the work on and financing of the recently remodelled church. In the past two years the people of the Union Church have paid $50,000 to the Building Committee, and in addition raised $25,000 for the budget.

The following will be the officers of the society for 1928: President, Charles A. Andrews; Clerk, Edwin N. Chase; Treasurer, H. P. Wassett; Collector, C. A. St. Lawrence; Members of Executive Committee, Hector M. Holmes, James R. Chandler, Perley F. Ayer and John MacNair.

TIMOTHY D. MURPHY

Timothy D. Murphy, prominent in Newton affairs for the past 25 years, died last Saturday at his late home, 193 Tremont street, Newton. He was born near Bantry, Cork, Ireland, 61 years ago and had resided in this city for about 35 years. Mr. Murphy had been active in politics in this city for many years and his fluency and keen wit made him conspicuous as a speaker at many rallies of the Democratic party with which he was affiliated. He had been engaged in the real estate and insurance business and had served for many terms as an assistant assessor.

"T. D." as he was familiarly called by his friends, was largely responsible for the entrance into Newton politics of Mayor Edwin O. Childs. Mr. Murphy had been a member of the Democratic Ward and City Committee of Newton for some years and in 1913 he proposed that the Democrats of the city tender the nomination for Mayor to Mr. Childs. As the latter gentleman had always been a Republican most of the members of the Democratic Committee did not endorse over the suggestion at first but later they agreed with the proposal with the result that Mr. Childs accepted the nomination, was elected, and has since held the office.

Mr. Murphy's funeral was held Tuesday morning at the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown, where Rev. James Kelly of Jamaica Plain, a cousin of the deceased, offered prayers. A delegation from Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, of which Mr. Murphy was a member, attended. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Murphy; a daughter, Pauline Murphy, and a brother, Cornelius Murphy of Brighton.

THOMAS MELLOR

Thomas Mellor of 125 Bridge street, Nonantum, died at his late home on Saturday following a brief illness. He was born at Bradford, England, 65 years ago, and had been employed in Nonantum Worsted Mills and Saxony Worsted Mill at Nonantum for forty years. His funeral service was held Monday afternoon at his late home, Rev. Robert Rae of North Congregational Church officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. Mr. Mellor is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine Skilton, one son, Hugh Mellor of Belmont, and a sister, Mrs. Esther Sullivan of Newton.

MRS. EMMA DAVIS SKILTON

Mrs. Emma Davis Skilton of 48 Chestnut street, Newton Centre, widow of the late Matthew Skilton, died on January 19 following a long illness. She was born in Belfast, Maine, 76 years ago and had resided in this city for 49 years during which time she had been one of the most loyal members of the First Church at Newton Centre. Her funeral service was held Saturday afternoon in the chapel of the First Church, Rev. E. M. Noyes officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. Mrs. Skilton is survived by one daughter, Miss Florence Skilton.

MR. DAMON DEAD

Mr. Joseph Neal Damon, a resident for over 49 years in this city, died Saturday morning at his home on Washington street, Hunnewell hill, after an illness of several years. Mr. Damon was born in Charlestown, 72 years ago and was the son of Samuel Page and Harriet Howard Damon. In business Mr. Damon was for many years treasurer of the Union Carpet Lining company of Watertown, retiring some five years ago.

He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Sarah W. Pastorius, a son, Prof. Samuel Foster Damon of Providence, and two daughters, Mrs. Walter Nellis of Cos Cob, Conn., and Mrs. W. Joseph Littlefield of New London, Conn.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at his late home, Rev. A. L. Hudson, a former pastor of the Church of Christ, officiated and read two poems written by Prof. Damon, as part of the service.

JAMES RYAN

James Ryan of 30 School street, Newton, died on Monday following a long period of failing health. He was born 75 years ago at Athenry, Galway, Ireland, and he had been a resident of this city for 43 years. When a young man Mr. Ryan enlisted in the British army and served for ten years, much of that time in India. For 38 years he had been a loyal member of Middlesex Court of Foresters of Newton and during that time rarely or ever missed a meeting until prevented by illness the past year. He had served as Chief Ranger of the Court and for many years was its treasurer. His funeral service was held Wednesday morning at the Church of Our Lady and was attended by a large gathering of friends including a delegation of Past Chief Rangers from Middlesex Court. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Mr. Ryan is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Ryan, and two brothers, Peter Ryan and Patrick Ryan.

—Miss Elizabeth Liedhoff gave a delightful recital of modern French, Russian and English composers at Miss Lucy Allen's on Friday, before a large audience.
—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kivell of Prospect street sailed Saturday, Jan. 21st, on the steamship Alleghany of the Merchants & Miners Line from Boston to Miami, Fla.
—At the annual meeting this week of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, Col. Sinclair Weeks was elected treasurer and Hon. George H. Ellis, a vice-president.
—Mr. and Mrs. Stuart P. Dunham of Westview ter. are receiving congratulations from their many friends upon the birth of a son, Stuart P. Jr., born January 24.
—Mr. Benjamin Bowen of Hillsdale terrace and Mr. Marshall Glazier of Waltham street were the two West Newton students at the Newton High School who took part in the Newtonite entertainment in the Assembly Hall on January 26.
—Mr. Courtland Gross of Burham road spoke to the "Opportunity Club" of the First Church on Sunday evening, Jan. 22, taking for his subject, "The Three Most Important Things to Young People." Mr. Gross mastered his topic in a most interesting and helpful manner.
—Mrs. Mary A. Sheldon, widow of the late William E. Sheldon, died Thursday at her home in Ashland, Ky. Mrs. Sheldon was a former well known resident of this village, residing for many years at the corner of Highland and Hunter streets. She has made her home for some years at Ashland. Mrs. Sheldon is survived by one daughter, Miss Marion Sheldon. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Second Church, Rev. Boynton Merrill, the pastor, officiating.
—On Sunday evening, January 22, Mr. A. Thorndike Luard, organist of the Baptist church, gave a recital in the auditorium of the church, which was a musical arrangement of various achieved effects and delightful gradation, taking for his first selections, masterpieces by Bach. Mr. Paul A. Peltcher, the tenor soloist of the quartette, sang "The Holy City" with wonderful tonal quality and technical effect. Miss Irene Forte, who is a favorite with West Newton audiences, played "Nocturne in E Flat" in her usual symphonic manner. Miss Olive K. Burriam, soprano soloist of the church, sang "The Master Calvary" by Fiehlhorn, with achieved harmony and sweetness.
—The West Newton friends of Miss Sally Drew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pitt F. Drew of 27 Grove Hill avenue, enjoyed a unique "Before the Dance Dinner Party" on Saturday evening, January 14, at the home of Miss Drew. Covers were laid for 40 guests and Miss Drew proved her efficiency as a most charming hostess and the atmosphere of daintiness, coupled with gaiety, controlled the spirit of profound delight throughout the repast. Following the dinner, Miss Drew's party went on to the "Fourth Assembly Dance," which was held at the Neighborhood Club house on Berkeley street, under the direction of Mr. Joseph L. Champagne. An increasing interest and growing pleasure seems to predominate at these HO-HUM assemblies. Mrs. John A. Paine of Exeter street and Mrs. Charles E. Benson of Somerset road acted as matrons on Saturday evening.

MORTGAGE MONEY

In borrowing from an institution the borrower has much greater assurance of permanency of his loan than in borrowing from an individual or even from a trustee.

In borrowing from a local institution the added factor of friendly personal interest is present.

This Bank has funds to loan on mortgage of Newton real estate or on pledge of securities.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Monday evening, January 30th, in Emerson School Auditorium, Newton
Upper Falls, the following program will be presented, under the auspices of the Music Committee of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club: The Drama Club of Newton High School, in two one-act plays, "The Grill," a modern mystery playlet with a great deal of the appeal of the detective story, "The Old Broom," a play of Irish life, recently written by Ernest Cobb of Newton Upper Falls, and portraying in humorous incidents the quaint peasant group.The Rosindale Woman's Club
Chorus, under the direction of Erdine Oedel, will present a group of thirty singers, and instrumental and vocal soloists. This group has won a distinct reputation in New England during the past year, as one of the outstanding singing groups to appear before the radio audience. They will give a program of unusual worth and interest.The Drama Club of the High School is making its first public appearance at this time. Under the direction of Miss Louise Wetherbee of the High School faculty, it has put on some admirable plays during the past few seasons. It is hoped that many school-mates will be in attendance that evening to welcome it to the boards in Newton Upper Falls.Tickets may be obtained at the door on the evening of the entertainment, or from the chairman of the Music Committee, Madeline W. Corbin. The proceeds of the evening will go toward the Club Reserve Fund.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Monday, January 30th, is to be a Special Day for members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. Club. Discussing their study of "Great Thinkers" of the past they will consider on that afternoon the "Best in Current Fiction," which should, of course, represent the great thinkers of our times. It is in the hands of Mrs. William E. Leonard to bring out what she calls the "Best of the Golden Age in thought and expression. The Club meets at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Harry A. Hageman, 37 Allerton road.

Auburndale Review Club

The next meeting of the Auburndale Review Club will be held on the morning of the 31st, with Mrs. F. F. Davidson, 59 Woodland road, at which time the last papers on "Scandinavian Literature" will be given. Mrs. Madison Cannon will have as her special subject, "Hansun and Nexo"; Mrs. Richard and Walter will have "Louis Couper-us and Henrich Conscience," and Mrs. W. H. Medlicott "Books of the Year."

Newtonville Woman's Club

From the consideration of the literary and artistic, by way of the deeper thinking, there is the contrast of consideration—and assuredly as deep thinking in another way—of modern mysticism and modernism. The attention of members of the Newtonville Woman's Club at present. Hints and new ideas of value will be given at the second meeting of the American Home Class which will be held with Mrs. Fred W. Woodcock of 359 Walnut street on January 31st at 2:30 p. m. Daniel Bloomfield, manager of the Retail Trade Board of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, will speak on "Better Buyingship."The fashion show to come on February 21st, will be conducted on new and more extensive lines this year.
Clinics will be held in the morning, where members may bring their problems of dress, and have them solved.
Then there will be the exhibition of models in the afternoon, which will be made more instructive—because as interesting—because of these mornings diagnoses.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Members of the Art and Social Committees of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club are combining their efforts for the Tea to be given in the Workshop, Wednesday afternoon, February 1, when work done by all the art classes within recent years, is to be on exhibition. The collection will include several pieces of painted furniture, rugs of various types, basket-ry, needlework, batik and design. As every piece exhibited, will be the work of a Club member, the Art Committee hopes there will be a large attendance, that the entire membership may have an opportunity of seeing the scope of the field covered.Between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock, the Social Committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas L.
Goodwin, is to serve tea to the visitors, while Mrs. Donald D. McKay, chairman of the Art Committee, will be in personal charge of the exhibition.These last days of January, are busy ones for the Dramatic Committee, and its chairman, Miss Marion O. Whitcomb, who is supervising rehearsals for the annual dramatics to be given in February. Philip Barry's play,
"You and I" is the selection for this year's presentation, which will be puton in Lincoln Hall on the evening of February 21st.The committee has been fortunate in securing Mr. Ernest G. Hapgood as the leading man for the cast and Mrs.
Thomas D. Ginn will play the leading female role. Others in the "company," well known for their histrionic ability, include Miss Dorothy Shute, Mrs. Arthur T. Monahan, Robert S. Allingham, Carl M. Penny and Maurice L. Quinlan. The cast is being jointly coached by Mrs. Arthur F. Brown and Miss Whitcomb.

Auburndale Junior Woman's Club

On February 1st, the regular meeting of the Junior Group of The Auburndale Woman's Club will be held at the home of Miss Ruth E. Ford, 231 Central street, at 7:30 p. m. There will be an entertainment and refreshments will be served.

Social Science Club

Mrs. Harry W. Flitts and Mrs. Edwin W. Smith will be the hostesses at the business meeting on Wednesday, February 1, of the Social Science Club at which Mrs. Esther Andrews of Brookline, member of the Governor's Council, and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr.,
Legislative chairman of the Newton Federation of present of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, will speak on "Endorsement or Non-Endorsement of Bills by the State Federation."

State Federation

RADIO, "Religion in the Home" is the subject of a lecture to be broadcast by the Rev. Garfield Morgan, of Lynn, next Wednesday morning, the 1st of February, at 10:30 o'clock, over WNAC for the State Federation's Club program. A guest speaker will be Mrs.
Ralph H. Reed, of the American Home
Department, and Mrs. Bert F. Currier,
7th District director, will give "A Message to the Kept-at-home," which sounds a bit different, and accordingly enticing. Hazel Hallett, pianist, sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs, will be the artist soloist at 10:40, after which Mr. Alton E.
Briggs will give one of his humorous talks about Club members.DRAMA OF GOVERNMENT. Mrs.
Robert J. Culbert, chairman of Law Observance, invites Club women to attend the series of lectures, "Scenes from the Drama of Our Government," to be given by Prof. Brewer G. Whitmore, at the Community Center of Temple Ohabel Shalom, Beacon and Marshall streets, Boston, under the auspices of the Boston Section, Council of Jewish Women. Course tickets, at $1.00, may be obtained of Mrs.
George L. Littauer, 21 Gibbs street, Brookline. Dates and subjects are as follows: January 23 at 2:30 p. m.,
"Our Colonial Heritage"; January 30 at 1:30 p. m., "Our Government Develops a Foreign Policy"; February 6 at 2:30 p. m., "Our Government Develops a Domestic Policy"; February 13 at 2:30 p. m., "The Hall of Fame"; and February 27 at 2:30 p. m., "The Presidential Party."Various sub-topics will be discussed at each lecture, and those to be taken up on the 30th, under the general topic of "Our Government Develops a Foreign Policy" are "Monroe Doctrine," "United States Imperialism," "League of Nations," "World Court," and "Diplomatic Relations."Clubwomen who are keen to be informed on these subjects may find this series of talks worthwhile.
CLUB INSTITUTES. Clubwomen who are interested in conducting Clubs in the approved procedure of courtesy and parliamentary law, and those who desire to know the methods of approaching the building of Club Houses will be glad to attend the meeting at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, Thursday morning, February 2nd, at 10 o'clock, when the Department of Club Institutes will present these two valuable subjects "Club Houses" and "Value and Necessity of Knowing Parliamentary Procedure."JUNIOR PIN. There is opportunity for the artists of the Newton Women's Clubs to win the glory and honor of designing the pin which is to be the official emblem of the Junior Clubs.
Announcement is made that at the Board Meeting of the General Federation recently held at Washington, it was voted to conduct a competition for the selection of a Junior Pin, in which all Club members, either of Senior or Junior Clubs, may enter. Designs must be sent to Mrs. H. M. Robbins, Junior Membership Chairman, before April first.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club will meet on Thursday afternoon, February 2nd, at 2:30 o'clock at the Auburndale Club House. The meeting will be in charge of The Art Committee and the speaker will be Mr. William Henry Tripp who will take for his subject: "Whaling." Mr. Tripp sailed on The Manita, the last active whaling vessel to go out from New Bedford. His interesting pictures furnish a pictorial record of a once thriving industry.

West Newton Community Service Club

Current Events once more occupy the thoughts of those members of the West Newton Community Service Club who have joined the Course given by Mrs. Claude T. Gilson this winter, the next in the series coming Friday morning, the 3rd, Mrs. Gilson speaks in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church at 10:40 o'clock.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. W. E. Moore, 55 Hillside road, is hostess for the Shakespeare Club on Saturday afternoon, the 4th, at 2:30 o'clock. The third act of King John will be reviewed, with the Quiz in charge of Miss Edith M. McCann.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

One of the outstanding events on Newton Centre's social calendar is theRainbow Revue, which is to be given on February 3rd and 4th, to packed houses, judging by the sale of tickets.
It is under the direction of Mrs. Frank N. Nathan of the Activities Committee, and is written, staged and directed by
C. Hassler Capron of Newton Centre.
The cast is made up of Newton Centre young people and eighteen children are in one number.

CLUB COURTESIES. Discussion of Club Courtesies at the last meeting of the Club Institute, held at the Hotel Vendome, brought out some interesting points and suggestions. Everyone knows, no doubt, the niceties of such courtesies to Club officials, but sometimes they are forgotten, or delegated to the background in haste and thoughtlessness—it is to be hoped never in deliberate ignoring of one of whom one is jealous or toward whom one is unfriendly.Courtesy to past presidents was stressed, in suggestion that in recognition of having had from her Club the highest honor, and having given of her time and faithful service, she be the first considered when there are pour-ers for teas, and reception lines to be formed on special days.Courtesy to any past officer lower in the scale follows by order of service.
Courtesy to any officer, such as a federated chairman, or a district director, should naturally be extended in invitation to speak before allied Clubs on her special topic, the inference being that since she is studying this subject she should be best fitted to present its current aspects.Courtesy to the Press included not only adherence to their rules of publication, consideration, appreciation and gratitude for their effort to aid Club affairs by publicity, which often take endless hours that are given in favor not because compulsory, and lastly, complimentary tickets and invitations as a guest given in ample time, so that while learning of activities that may be written up, they are doing so in comfort, and with courteous treatment from those who are to be benefited.Courtesy to entertainers came in for its share of discussion, and may well give food for thought, for how often are they kept waiting through long programs of business that drag unnecessarily, so that both entertainer and audience are bored and weary before the entertainment begins. This is obviously unfair to the lecturer or reader, who suffers because of the wearied mood of the audience.Among the duties of a president it was pointed out that a president should be able and willing to serve her Club, not dominate it. She should have not only executive ability, and initiative, but tact, promptness, and open-mindedness, and be tolerant, sympathetic, and cordial. She should have a working knowledge of parliamentary law. Yet how often is there seen a presiding officer who forces through her own will at business meetings, and who ignores the fundamentals of parliamentary procedure in talking from the chair, and through her ignorance insulting members of her board by taking a stand against them.Discussion of these various points chronicled much that was truly amazing in these days of social and parliamentary enlightenment, and showed the need of consideration of them.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent by the members of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Thursday, January 19, when Mrs. Mary Parker Dunning spoke to them on "The Women of Japan."Mrs. Dunning, who has spent many years in Japan, illustrated her talk by wearing seven different costumes, such as are used by Japanese women of varying rank and age. She brought with her many toys and curios, which made the lecture doubly interesting.The stage was appropriately decorated with an embroidered Japanese screen, and a brass bowl of cherry blossoms on a teakwood stand.After the meeting tea and rice cakes were served by the Hospitality Committee.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

This has been a busy week for the Newton Centre Woman's Club, with Guest Night last Wednesday, the 25th, and the regular Business Meeting of the Club on Thursday, the 26th, followed by an illustrated lecture by Prof. Albert H. Gilmer, on "Europe's Post-War Drama and Theatre," under the auspices of the Literature Committee, of which Mrs. E. Ray Speare is the chairman. Tea was served by the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Joseph T. Bishop chairman. There was also a Food Sale before and after the meeting in charge of Mrs. F. Seifert Smith of the Activities Committee.On Guest Night there were for musical entertainment three orchestral numbers, played by a group of Newton Centre musicians drawn from the Newton Symphony Orchestra. "Goodnight, Babette," a musical idyll in one scene, the poem of which was written by Austin Dobson in his collection of "Proverbs in Prose," and the music of which was written by Liza

dress, chairman of the Education Committee, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Doris Greenwood, director of Junior Activities in the Massachusetts Safety Council.

Miss Greenwood gave statistics of the number of accidents and fatalities in this state. Newton holds a very unfavorable position among these figures as the accidents in this city have increased 32 per cent in the last year. Miss Greenwood feels that the Club women of Newton should start an active campaign to improve this appalling situation.

Monday Club

Mrs. L. H. Marshall gave a talk on the "Life of Saint Francis of Assisi," with many commentaries on contemporary people and events, for the enjoyment of her fellow members of the Monday Club on the afternoon of the 23rd. She showed photographs and pictures in books, and a set of picture post-cards taken from famous paintings, illustrating this great life. The Club met with Mrs. C. A. Thompson, of 1141 Walnut street.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Annual Meeting of the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held at the home of Mrs. George H. Jackson, 28 Randlett park, West Newton, with Mrs. John McCarthy assisting the hostess. Mrs. Louis A. Bacon is the leader for the coming year.

After the business meeting a most interesting and instructive paper was read by Mrs. Charles Quinn on "The Story of the Mormons," from their origin up to the present time. A letter was read which came from a Mormon girl explaining the religion of these people which was very interesting.

Christian Era Study Club

Mrs. Edward Edmonds was hostess on Monday afternoon to the members and guests of the Auburndale Christian Era Study Club, and presided at the business meeting in the absence of the president, Miss Ella B. Smith. A very interesting paper on the "Democratic Republicans" was read by Miss Margaret Haskell, giving a very good picture of the day of our Colonial government, and contrasting this party with that called the Federalist. This was followed by a paper on "Thomas Jefferson," a staunch adherent to the Democratic Republican party, by Mrs. Alfred L. Billings.

Waban Woman's Club

"Venice and Her Marvelous Story," as told by Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale charmed an unusually large audience of members of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday afternoon. Starting with an explanation of the physical formation of Venice and its surroundings, she gave an account of its early history and government, told of its centuries of sea prowess, brought about by the natural instinct for trade; its unique unchanging character through the centuries; our form of government having prevailed, in one era of its history, for 1100 years. She described the beauties of St. Marks, with the story of the Bible carried out in interesting mosaics, the old testament on the outside, and the new testament inside. The story of Marco Polo's walk to China and his return after 20 years, making up one of the best adventure stories ever written. Then, more recently, in the 16th century, came some of Venice's great artists and architects. In quiet in Venice, no noisy motor horns or wheels of traffic—just the peaceful lapping of waters, perhaps an occasional bar sung by a gondolier, and then quiet again.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Florence Ferguson Huston, who was to talk on China, before the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club Monday evening, Miss Stetson of Boston, entertained with readings which were greatly appreciated. "On a Picnic," "The Wedding," by Kate L. Boscher, "House with Nobody in It," by Joyce Kilmer, "Little Georgia Kasha," an encore of Italian dialect, an excerpt from "Within the Law," and "Carry On," by Robert Service, gave a most varied and interesting program.

Community singing was enjoyed. Owing to the fact that Mrs. H. E. Child, a past president, is vice regent of Minute Men Chapter, D. A. R., Boston, an invitation was extended to the Club to attend an open meeting to be held at Wilder Hall, Acorn place, Friday afternoon of this week.

Mrs. A. D. Colby, club chairman of Christmas Seals, gave a most pleasing report of about $195 collected.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

I really have what I consider a good and sufficient reason to complain, but I don't know exactly to whom I should tell my troubles. Perhaps it should be to those who years ago permitted certain things to be done in connection with sidewalk construction in our city. Inasmuch as I don't know how to get into communication with them I shall have to content myself with a mere recital of the facts.

There are private driveways in Newton which lead from garages of residences across the sidewalk into the street. Some of them are of rounded surface, bringing the grade of the sidewalk higher at that point. It is of these I would write as a humble pedestrian.

Now suppose there has been a light fall of snow, or even a heavy one. And supposing the mercury drops and the slush freezes. The result is a nice coating of ice on which it is hard enough to hold one's footing. But when the sidewalk contains a hillock over which you are obliged to climb it takes an expert to maintain his equilibrium, even if the distance be measured in feet.

On the other hand there are driveways which drop below the level of the sidewalk. These seem to serve the purpose quite as well, if not better, of access to the garage. Furthermore, they do not interfere with a pedestrian's progress as the others do.

In short, I am kicking about the high spots in our sidewalks, I admit that it is difficult to know what to do to correct conditions. We can't expect a general rebuilding of sidewalks, but we can hope that all future driveways will be built lower instead of higher than the sidewalks. Meanwhile, while the hoofing is made difficult by ice we would do well to detour at such places, especially if we want to avoid the unpleasantness that is involved when one is compelled to slide, slip and stumble.

There was a good opportunity last week to put to work the 110 city laborers, laid off recently because their services were not needed, and as far as I am able to observe it was not seized by the powers that be. It wasn't much of a storm that came Thursday night of last week, but it had a coating of ice everywhere. Nothing was done to remove it, as is the custom in our city, but as the weather continued fairly cold the icy places remained to torture all pedestrians. Of course the city is warranted in saving money whenever it can. It seems to me that it is the elements that should have the credit this year. Ordinarily large sums have been spent by this period of the winter for the removal of snow and ice. This season meteorological conditions have for a large part of the time caused plows and shovels to remain idle.

The storm of last week, in my opinion, and I find many in agreement with me, would have justified employing all available men. Scrapers might well have been used and sand spread about generously. Still no efforts of the kind were made and the result was, we had a condition that was far from what it should be.

Of course one can never tell when and where or how he or she may unwittingly offend against the law. Sometimes the highest-minded citizen is shocked upon learning that for this of that minor cause he must go to court either as plaintiff, defendant or witness. The more quiet and orderly one's life the more disturbing the thought of court appearance.

For instance, can you picture one who spends his time in the company of good books, who is reserved and retiring, almost shy in fact, finding himself mixed-up with all the unpleasantness that goes with such matters. I can sympathize with such people because I know it is little less than painful.

But the great and powerful arm of the law is not to be avoided. You can never gauge its reach. All this you will appreciate the more if you know what the State Board of Free Library Commissioners has discovered. The law, they have found, is such that under the statutes of Massachusetts a librarian may be haled into court because of the presence on the library shelves of a volume that is not the kind of feeding it should be. And when you stop and think that Shakespeare and other classics, not to mention biographies, etc., are said to contain improper things, picture a librarian being dragged from the peaceful dignity of his or her desk, and booked at a police station!

Believe it or not, here's what the State Board of Free Library Commissioners themselves say:

"Librarians are subject, as well as booksellers, to the Massachusetts statute prohibiting the sale or distribution of 'obscene' literature. This statute is so sweeping in its provisions and so uncertain in its application that librarians may not possibly be liable to a fine and imprisonment for circulating various books commonly found in public libraries and intelligently regarded as inoffensive by trustees and librarians who have asked for advice regarding this matter, the commission has been unable to give any satisfactory reply. For the protection of librarians the board believes that the statute should be revised and clarified."

As if that wasn't bad enough, the poor, defenseless citizen is fully as liable, a prominent lawyer tells me, to prosecution. The law includes those "having possession of," so nobody may escape. I am advised that if I should borrow from a friend one of the beautifully bound volumes of ancient literary masterpieces and start down the street with it, I could be taken into custody.

The policeman would not grab me because he had reason to believe I intended to steal the book. I may be foolish but I assume that my appearance is that of an honest citizen. No, he could take me to the jug because I had "possession of." And I might explain, or my attorney might argue, that my intentions were of the noblest and my mind of the purest, but I should nevertheless be adjudged guilty. Why not?

So, it looks to me as if librarians were not the only ones who need to begin to worry. Of course, their chances of being arrested are a thousand and to one greater than those of the borrower, for the library must have 1,000 books on its shelves compared to one in the home of the average citizen. No, siree, I wouldn't take a librarian's job under any circumstances. Just think of having to serve time for 50 or 75 per cent of the books in a library. It would take a long life. That is a fair proportion, I submit, inasmuch as a professional snooper is apt to find something off-color in pretty nearly everything that is printed.

Coming right down to brass tacks, the fact is that the reform that was intended, and of which I approve, over-stepped the mark. They were so eager to purify the wide world that they lost their legislative balance. It often happens. We may reasonably expect things to be straightened out this year, but I do hope that a lesson will have been learned and some discretion shown in the new statutes that are provided for us as citizens of the Commonwealth.

A reader who lives in a home where bridge is frequently played has marked an appropriate passage in Richard H. Little's "Linebook," a Chicago Tribune annual publication. If there are those who find humor at the card table I'll say the accompanying has plenty of it. The author is called "Duke Bakrak" and apparently he knows his aces and deuces:

"I was gonna rite this at home, but as I was tole to get home erly this evening, I'm riting it after quitin' hrs at the offe, which will help ta kill a little time. My reason is because the wife is havin her bridge club this afternoon an I'm telling you that lass time she had em they neer drove me nutz. All ya hear is:

"A spade, they say her husband's drinking again."

"No trump, awrite, didja hear about yesterday she looked a frite."

"Pass, wad she have on?"

"No trump, awrite, didja hear about Laura dieting, ef she lost 50 pounds she wood'n show it."

"I understan Esthers expecting again."

"The dummy leads, who Emily?"

"Why, I herd there gas an electric was shut off fer two days."

Enway, after they got there coatz on, an each wun said at least three times, "Deelifeftul time, splendiful time, and served so pretty," they waz tole by the wife that I wood drive tha northsider home (and I had just put tha blimp in tha garage), so I em pile in, an it seams they all live in diffrent wards, then I get, "It's so sweet of you to do this" an "Don't this car ride nice" (which it don't on acct' of its age) and there all deilvered, except Mrs. D. who insists I cum up jus fer a minit ta see tha children. Kenneth, Egbert an Harold (there ole man's name is just Otto) can ya beet that?

Wen I got home, I took 3 rounds of ammunishun an started "the battle of whats the big idea." My side lost, guess I'll go home now is 1/2 past 6.

Not only the Newton Board of Aldermen but the Massachusetts Legislature seem disposed to applaud themselves for the neatness and dispatch with which they are tackling the business before them. Each sees, no doubt, speedy and short sessions for the whole year. I have not the slightest doubt that every other deliberative body which handles the affairs of the people shares this optimism. It's always the point of view in January—in June it's different, however.

If we were to try and fathom this mystery we wouldn't get any further than to learn that the cause has not yet been discovered. Common experience shows that when legislative matters, whether municipal or State or National, are considered without delay at the beginning of the year something occurs to result in a slowing down before the year has half gone.

Personally, I have an idea there are several reasons. In the first place there are some members who haven't quite got their gait. "First year men" are apt to be cautious. They like to feel their ground and convince themselves it is secure. After that they are less inclined to sit still and let the experienced members run things.

Secondly, it is usually the simpler matters that are tackled at the beginning. When questions of wider public interest are taken up the Aldermen or Legislators or whatever their office begin to receive letters, telephone calls or personal interviews. Sometimes committees will "wait on" them. I should suppose that the honor of being "waited upon" by a committee was worth all the anguish of a campaign for election. At any rate the member is bound to find himself stirred-up over some momentous question. He is likely to magnify it until it becomes a vital part of his career.

Not that I would discourage any man in his eagerness to be a good public servant. Rather, I would commend and applaud his spirit. My best wishes go out to all legislative bodies but I hope they won't expect to accomplish too much in a short period of time. If they do their best that's all they or their constituents have the right to expect.

One of the pleasantest pieces of news that I read in last week's Graphic was the item that associates of Dr. George L. West at the Newton Hospital had welcomed him back after his four months' absence. It is cheering to learn that Dr. West has recovered and I know that many feel as I do.

When an active man is obliged to lay-off as he has been the community is the loser. To have Dr. West in his old place again is something that Newton should appreciate. I recall dis-of scientific skin treatment brings lovely results because each step of the treatment is based on some fundamental need of the skin. Cleansing—with Venetian Cleansing Cream—removes all those impurities which cause coarse pores and blackheads. Toning—with Ardena Skin Tonic and Special Astringent—closes the pores, tightens the skin and firms the contours. Nourishing—with Orange Skin Food or Vetva Cream—fills out lines and wrinkles. Follow these three steps in your Self Treatments at home.

POLICE NEWS

Morris Lampke of Thane street, Dorchester, was fined $100 in the Newton court yesterday on the charge of driving so that the lives and safety of the public might be endangered. He appealed. Lampke's car hit an automobile driven by Patrolman Phillips of the Newton police on Commonwealth avenue near Boston College, causing the latter car to run into a pole and injure the policeman. Lampke contended that Phillips' car hit his and that Phillips was to blame for the collision.

—Mrs. Catherine Ross of 76 Bennington street was in the Newton court yesterday on the charge of keeping an unlicensed dog. She was found guilty but her case placed on file when she received the summons to appear in court. The dog had been caught by the police recently running loose in violation of the restraining order.

Newtonville

—Mr. Nelson James of Mt. Vernon street is spending a vacation in Europe.

—Mr. J. Pounds of Mt. Vernon street is at home after a trip to Philadelphia.

—Mrs. Sarah MacDonald of Highland avenue celebrated her 86th birthday on Tuesday of this week.

—During the windstorm on Wednesday night a limb as large as a telephone pole grazed the house of Mr. Edward J. Hicks on Austin street.

LASELL SEMINARY

On Friday evening, January 27, the Lasell winter carnival will open with a masque ball. The first event will be the crowning of the queen of the carnival, chosen by the vote of the student body. Several groups of dancers, representing the old and new dances in contrast, will be given by members of the dancing club.

On Saturday afternoon and evening the carnival will be carried out of doors—all sorts of winter sports on the Gardner Hall campus.

Rev. Garfield Morgan will be the speaker at the vesper service on Sunday afternoon, January 29.

On Tuesday evening, January 31, the fourth annual Symphony concert of the season will be given in the Auburndale Club House, under the direction of Paul Shirley of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

MISS OWEN IN RECITAL

Jordan Hall was well filled last Friday evening when Miss Florence Owen of Hollis street, Newton, gave a recital of Old Italian, French, German, and English songs in all of which her soft, round, contralto voice delighted her audience. Her French songs were received with much enthusiasm and the closing numbers of her program in English were exceptionally well sung. Clough-Leigher's "My Lover, He Comes on the Skid" brought Miss Owen to the footlights many times. Mr. Howard Slaymann was the unusually fine accompanist.

SCHOOL NOTES

The preliminaries for the Prize Speaking contest began this week, Wednesday, in assembly. Ten students from the fifty-two who are entered were drawn to speak. The following program was carried out: The Children's Hour, George Horton, VII G; Farmer Gray Gets Photographed, Isabel Lynch, VIII G; Jean Despres, Leslie Burnell, IX B; The Enchanted Shirt, Dorothy Carroll, VIII G; The Wreck of the Hesperus, Barbara Mildram, VII E; The Mountains, Paul Parker, VII F; Sketch from Life of Helen Keller, Emma Gregorio, IX B; Courage, John Fitzgerald, VIII G; Peach Pie, Rosalind Siegel, VIII G; The Dead Sea, Camella Damiano, VII D. A committee of teachers had the difficult task of choosing from these speakers three to take part in the final contest later on in the year. After due deliberation the following three were chosen as winners: First, Barbara Mildram, second, Emma Gregorio and third, Rosalind Siegel. Much credit is due Mr. Halloran for arranging these contests.

The first meeting of the course in the Methods of Teaching in the Junior High School, given by Dr. Spalding of Harvard Graduate School of Education was held in the auditorium of the F. A. Day School on January 12th. It was attended by about one hundred and thirty teachers and principals from Newton and the surrounding towns. The course is to continue for a period of eight weeks.

The school was given a very pleasant surprise in music periods on Friday, when new music books were distributed by the director Mr. Griffin. The new books, called Junior Music are published by Ginn and Company, Boston, Mass.

A program of classes has been arranged for Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, to enable the ninth grade social studies classes to see the motion pictures of the "Chronicles of America" in the library. These films have proved very successful and worth while thus far.

Levi F. Warren Junior High

At the Tuesday morning assembly this week, moving pictures were shown illustrating the lives of Benjamin Franklin and Daniel Webster.

Talks were given on "Thrill in Our School" and "The Curse of Alcoholic Drinks." A reading, "The Best Drink in Town" was given by Rosamond Mary De Santis played a piano solo, "The Polka Mazurka."

Mr. Scarborough made some important announcements concerning mid-year examinations which begin next week.

On Tuesday, January 17th, the Warren School basketball team had the pleasure of playing with the Newton High Freshmen. Two games were played, with the following results: Game 1, Freshmen 22, Warren 6. Game 2, Warren 14, Freshmen 6.

There were a large number present and most interesting and exciting games were played.
